You've been eating smart dust for over 12 years and you don't even know it. Not that it would matter if it was not in the goyslop. It's in the water supply to and most of the products you use for day-to-day life like toothpaste. This is all in addition to them spraying it in the air on a near daily basis.

Don't give me any of this bullshit about how you're raising your own crops, chickens and drinking from a well either. Most of these small farm LARPer buy their products directly from places like Tractor Supply where chemicals and GMO plants/animals are the norm. I can't remember the last time I saw anyone raise an animal from an egg or a plant from seed. Everyone goes right for the starter plants (GMO) or buys their livestock from the large supply houses.

This problem goes far beyond anything you can imagine. While you're getting fear mongered over mRNA in vax/food/everything they distract you from the really dangerous stuff.

<https://pubs.rsc.org/en/content/articlelanding/2009/lc/b821055a>

2009. That's how long its been in the public sphere and no one talks about it. It's how you know people like Snowden are limited hand outs. They fear monger over telecom spying that we've all known about for nearly 100 years. They fear monger about a backdoor in an x86 CPU. But they never mention the really bad stuff.

There are nanobots coursing through your veins at this moment and you don't care because you don't know enough to be afraid of them.

Perhaps you remember the ridiculous story that Bill Gates wanted to spray chalk into the air to block the sun.

<https://www.forbes.com/sites/arielcohen/2021/01/11/bill-gates-backed-climate-solution-gains-traction-but-concerns-linger/>

Which was lampooned in the media and "fact checked" by all the usual outlets. An obviously bullshit story made only to lampoon truth tellers. The best lies always have a bit of truth in them.

The truth: they've been spraying smartdust for over a decade now (at least since 2012) and they're using it to monitor and track everything on the planet. Every last insect, plant, fish, mammal and of course (you).

Then we have the famous Bill Gates/Microsoft patent 060606. That states they want to use technology to remotely monitor every last human and tie their labor to the blockchain. Another mostly bullshit story intended to troll truth tellers and anyone raising awareness. It got fact checked as well

<https://fullfact.org/online/bill-gates-patent-microchips/>

>Microsoft's 060606 patent doesn't reference injectable microchips. It is true that Microsoft has a patent application with the numbers 060606 in it, but it's for a system which rewards physical activity with cryptocurrency.

Of course it's true that it "doesn't mention injecting microchips". It's true because the MICROCHIPS ARE ALREADY WITHIN US ALL. Actually they aren't even microchips. They're nanochips. Nanochips that can link together to become powerful networked systems within the body. Nanochips that can be powered by the natural processes happening within the body. A technological parasite you can not get rid of. An artificial parasite that is on and within everything on the planet already. Even if you could eliminate it from your body you'd just pick up millions of them again by eating, drinking and walking within the environment. There is no possible way to remove them from the environment now. The only question now is who will control them?

Before you ask. Yes it can function as a remote killswitch and they use them for that purpose all of the time. But they're mostly used to track people at the moment. They can most likely be used to modify the behavior of anyone infected with them.

The smartdust technology is the key to their global surveillance and control grid. We can see that every aspect of this technology has a group associated with it to make anyone researching practical applications look crazy:

>The spraying of it is associated with the "chemtrails" community online.

Where hardly anyone mentions the smartdust and instead refers to mystery chemicals. Lots of plants within the community mixed in with legit people that look at the sky and noticed the changes/spraying since the late 2000s. It's obvious to anyone that is awake around dawn that there are countless airplanes in the sky spraying something nearly everyday

>The network the nanobots talks back to home base with is lampooned as "5G conspiracy nuts"

Where tall tales are told about the ability to remotely fry and kill citizens. While true even without the smartdust none of these talking points are taken seriously. Normalfags have been trained to instantly tune out whenever "5G" is mentioned. Most of the facebook boomers fear mongering about 5G don't even know how to set-up a LAN or what WiFi is (they think it's magic internet service from their ISP). No one that's actually working with the technology is allowed to have a platform and speak about the practical applications. No one is allowed to point out that the 5G rollout world wide during the early stages of the covid psyop was very fishy. I suspect some of the early covid videos from China were simply the Government testing the ability to remotely kill using the nanobots using the new wireless network.

>The symptoms caused by the nanobots in humans are lampooned as "morgellons disease" on the internet

This is a well known "disease" that mainstream doctors claim doesn't exist. Many doctors that are treating people with this "disease" have been blacklisted. People suffering from it are labeled as crazy. The "disease" only started to show up around 2009-2012. When nanobots were first being deployed and sprayed heavily. The "disease" consists of having odd plastic-like material emerging from the skin. This material can not be identified by any lab. This material has been known to consume other material and "grow" or replicate. This material has been known to merge/link with similar material extracted from the same or other patients. Exactly what a self replicating nanobot would do. Despite thousands of doctors attempting to get to the root cause of this there are no mentions of this "disease" in major publications outside of ones that attempt to label it as a psychological condition. You have to go to the assholes of the internet to research the topic and most search engines will not show you relevant results when you search for it. In other words it's widely censored.

Note that I'm not trying to say mRNA research is good here. They are using the nanobots to re-program your DNA. Your DNA is the source code of your living body. They plan to re-write a lot of code out in the wild. To make you a better slave and to monitor everything you do.

What I'm saying here is they don't need to track you with your cell phone anymore. If you spend time researching this you'll have a better understanding of >what they're doing

>where this is going

>why they give no fucks about normalfags doing anything about it

They're acting smug as fuck because they know they already have the nanobots in the wild. They sprayed this shit for over a decade before they started to infringe on more of our freedoms. They can put down any attempt at an uprising without firing a shot. The only reason they haven't started doing mass kill-offs yet is they don't want to show their true power and freak-out the asleep normalfags. They want to extract more from existing human resources and do more research before they do their mass genocide. They want to test the mRNA stuff on (you) and your family before they use it to enhance themselves and their bloodlines.

The mark of the beast isn't the vax or any of this other bullshit people fear monger about every year. The "mark" is the nanobots. You will be required to submit to their new currency/blockchain once they crash USD (2 weeks). You will be required to verify with their servers to purchase food and other items needed for day-to-day life. If you refuse they do not care. They can kill you remotely any time they please. Going innawoods won't help you much. The woods are filled with nanobots and every deer you eat is as well. You can be tracked no matter how deep you go into the woods. They can monitor you in real time using your own eyes and ears. They also have the eyes in the sky of course.

It will never be "bad enough" for the normalfags to get on board and revolt. They are going to keep them fat and happy. The normalfags will think the smartdust technology is awesome. They'll be amazed that doors automatically open for them. They will whore themselves out for more good goyim points and chase IRL achievements like they chase vidya achievements. They will snitch on (you) for brownie points.

We are truly fucked. The only way to fight against this is to seize control over the command and control centers before they unleash the true power of this network of nanobots they've been building. Of course this is impossible. The normalfags will call us schizo and won't care. You can't build an army in sekrit if they can monitor everything you're doing. You can't go lone wolf for obvious reasons. Maybe some hacker in high places could save us..maybe...but over the last few decades I've learned not to expect such things. It seems everyone on the inside is too afraid to make any big moves. Most have fully sold out and keep their silence to protect themselves and the people they love. They think since they're on the inside they can avoid the purge. But it isn't going to happen. I doubt anyone outside of the richfag's bloodlines is going to be alive once they go full retard with this technology. They do not need the normalfags anymore now that they have robot and machine learning.

The worse thing about this technology is it could have been used to spread so much love. The nanobots could have been programmed to fight against cancer and other ailments. It could have given us super powers. It could have enhanced the entire human race and allowed us to live for hundreds maybe thousands of years. It could have even been used for things trannys would like like slowly converting a male into a female body over the course of many months. A real female body with eggs and everything.

But it won't. At least not yet. First it's going to be used for the most evil things you can imagine. None of >us will benefits from this technology at all. Only the people that are in control will benefit from it. They will beta test it on normalfags and do unspeakable evils. Just to see what happens. Then when they're done testing it on them like lab rats they'll throw the kill switch, kill off the hordes of normalfags and then rule the world with their technological enhanced bodies. They might even live forever.

I know someone will say >but why would they release it when it has infected them to?

and the answer is always the same: control. As long as you control what the nanobots within your body are doing it's useful to your personally. Imagine having the nanobots eating your cancer. Imagine being able to hold a conversation with a fren telepathically from anywhere in the world. That's the kind of things they're using the nanotech for. Meanwhile, they program the ones within (you) to edit random bits of DNA just to see what happens. They tickle this or that to see if it'll kill (you) or drive you insane. All in the name of research.

The horrible things the Germans and Japanese were doing to human lab rats during WW2 didn't end with the war. All that research was brought to America and the Soviet Union where the research continued. They abduct 100s of thousands yearly just to use them as lab rats and sex slaves. Wake up and take a look around. You will know I speak the truth. You have to get the politics out of your mind and understand this fight isn't about nations or figure heads. It's about a few families that have ruled the world for thousands of years. It's about them and >us. They do not even view you as a human. You are less than human and in their mind you have no right to exist and use resources they could have used for themself. They are psychopaths and they're raised from birth to rule with an iron fist. If they have to kill a few hundred thousand every year to do the research then though titty. It must be done. They seek immortality and some of them know if they don't obtain it in the next couple of decades they'll have to face death. They can't accept death and fear it more than anything. They do not want to pass on to face what comes after this hell we find ourselves living in.

Their entire "plan" is right there on the internet for anyone to read. You must be careful not to get sidetracked by false rabbit holes and their mountains of propaganda.

>The horrible things the Germans and Japanese were doing to human lab rats during WW2 didn't end with the war.

By the way I know someone will come along to suck Hitler's cock and call me a shill because I stated this. I am well aware similar research was going on in America, Britain and Russia to. That side won the war and have managed to keep a lid on the more extreme stuff they were doing. Germany and Japan lost so we got mountains of information post-war about their research projects.

Places like Unit 731 exist all over the world. My greater point is they never stopped doing this research. Which is why all these shady labs still exist all over the world.

What I am saying is the type of toys they have now are nothing compared to what they fear monger to the public about. Look at covid. A virus hyped up to be the worst thing in the world. People are pissed it was cooked up in the lab. But we know far worse viruses have been created and could be released at any time. We know they have similar stuff that can target certain races of people and even certain people. No one talks about it. If you do they label you schizo. Even though almost every Government admits they're researching and deploying such things.

Smartdust is _really_ interesting because it was talked about openly until about 2010. After that there is almost nothing in the public sphere about it. No one is doing lectures anymore. No one publishes papers. The best you'll get are some patents mentioning it without going into a lot of details. Why would research suddenly stop? Why would they stop talking about it in press releases and attempting to develop it for profit? They stopped because it's military /tech/ and they don't want it in the public's mind. They don't want it on the news because they've been spraying it everywhere since 2010 at least.

I'm sorry you didn't get a choice in this matter. I'm pretty pissed that I didn't. But we can't do anything about it. It isn't going away. The nanobots are so small they're impossible to see with the human eye and even consumer level microscopes. It's in the food, water and everything else. You pick them up just by walking across the grass in your yard. They will never be able to be cleaned from the environment. They will exist here long after we are gone much like plastic.

Now you know why 5G roll-out happened. Now you know why they're up there every morning spraying. Now you know why they're getting bolder about rubbing their control in the normalfag's faces. Now you know why people are getting more violent. The schizos were right again. We should have listened.

So let me get this straight. We can talk about old Billy as long as we don't mention this one particular technology that his company holds multiple patents for? A technology he himself advocates for using

<https://www.gatesfoundation.org/ideas/media-center/press-releases/2010/11/nanobio-receives-grant-to-develop-an-intranasal-vaccine-for-rsv-bill-melinda-gates-foundation>

> NanoBio Corporation announced today that it has received a $6M grant from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to support the development of a safe and effective intranasal vaccine for Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV).

First hit on Google! :^)

But hey I guess the next 10 links "fact checking" the claim that he doesn't want to inject you with microchips is more truthful. They just donated to the research for the lulz. There is no possible way they're using the tactic of assuming the reader is too stupid to know the difference between "micro" and "nano". They aren't lying after all! They said MICROchip instead of NANOchip and since you were too stupid to read between the lines it's totally okay for them to murder (you) and turn your children into eunuchs!

Fucking faggot. Who are you to tell me to fuck off? Going to cry to the janny next? This isn't cuckchan. Either backup your argument or shut the fuck up. I can cite sources and references for mine all day and I will.

Even now the nanobots flow through (you). I hope that goyslop you've been eating is tasty. The corn syrup is there to mask the taste of the various poisons you're consuming.

You either/or tactic won't work on me. I live in a world where AND is a possibility. I don't play your stupid game where I can only be for one side or the other. I sit on the fence and call you all dumb fucking faggots.

Your mind has been warped by propaganda and you're too stupid to see it. Worse yet you're too stupid to admit that there is the 1% possibility that you may be wrong, mistaken, misled or ignorant about the subject. Instead of taking the 5 minutes to research "smartdust" you choose to attack me instead. I won't tell you what you want to hear because I don't lie to (you). You will only get the truth from me.

How do you expect them to track and ID people without this technology? Do you think they applied for patent 060606 for the lulz? Do you think normalfags will really accept having a traditional microchip implanted under their skin for a bank account? No. They might accept the vax because they're retarded but the microchip is too close to the mark for the average normalfag. It scares them because computer is spooky. But introduce nanobots into the environment and watch them give no fucks. They'll say things like >what can you do?

>gotta eat lol

and carry on like it was always that way.

and here we have more attacking of the messenger. Just put words in my mouth and ignore everything I say. Hitler warned us about this kind of thing. It's why he slowly grew to hate them.

Tell me. How am I advocating for doing nothing when I states multiple times that we must TAKE CONTROL OF THE COMMAND AND CONTROL SYSTEM. Same thing I've told you faggots to do with the web. Take back control. But you do nothing of value. You keep hosting new "platforms" on AWS servers and acting surprised when you get shut down. You keep making the same mistakes because you do not understand the underlying technology and you do not make any attempt to educate yourself about it. You prefer to post memes and frogs instead.

They're winning because you faggots will not organize. Any time someone like me comes along and drops real information you yell glow nigger, kike and disinfo agent. Then you carry on talking about bullshit they don't care about. You wanna know how I'm over the target? Because every time I mention the smartdust (you) come out of the wood work to call me names. I get almost no interaction when I speak of things like this. But the few people I do get through to wake up. For that I am grateful. It means someone understood the message and will keep spreading it in the future.

If there aren't nanobots everywhere how come every aspect of the technology in the wild has dedicate disinfo agents posting endless bullshit about it? All you have to do is leave the basement at 6am and look at the sky. Doesn't matter where you live. There will be planes everywhere spraying this shit. I see them every morning on my way into work. I watch them spray and then I watch the shit they spray spread or hang in the sky for hours. From time to time you can even see the nanobots blowing around in the wind at ground level. They look like bits of white plastic. They seek and attach to living things. There are thousands of videos of this on the internet for anyone to view. The only problem is they're buried under mountains of shit like gangstalking LARPs and insanity. It's one of the most highly censored subjects on the internet. None of this shit was on the internet before they started spraying back in 2009-2012 (still trying to get the exact date. Probably never will).

But hey I'm just schizo. DARPA isn't publicly admitting to this or anything.
<https://www.darpa.mil/program/in-vivo-nanoplatforms>

>The In Vivo Nanoplatforms (IVN) program supports military readiness through the development of in vivo sensing technologies and therapeutics that facilitate optimal health and performance in individual warfighters. The program pursues technologies that provide early indication of physiological abnormalities or illness that can be proactively addressed with therapeutics or supportive care.

>The IVN program specifically seeks to develop new classes of adaptable nanoparticles for persistent, distributed, unobtrusive physiologic and environmental sensing, as well as the treatment of physiologic abnormalities, illness, and infectious disease. The program is broken into two complementary efforts.

Who needs meds when you have nanobots?

If you made it this far and won't respond to the meat of my posts (I know you won't) perhaps you can answer my next question:

How do my few posts on nanotechnology being funded by Billy prevent you from discussing all the other things being funded by Billy? Why can't you engage in debate and conversation? Why do you feel the need to control discourse and insult others? It isn't very frenly.

>sources are only good if they're mine

Your last post is the most interesting because it proves that you're a dumb faggot. You're attempting to claim that all information coming out of academia is flawed. You'll probably cite some paper that claims niggers are violent, trannys don't anhero or whites are inherently racist. The problem is all those are soft science. I'm not talking about soft science. I'm talking about hard science and technology. Which is easy to prove in the real world.

Tell me, does 2+2 stop equaling 4 if a tranny professor cites in it a random paper? Think hard. You should be able to solve this one.

You see the entire point of these replies (yours and the two above) are to drag me into a pissing match. Where insults are thrown around and nothing of value is discussed. It's mainly an attempt to bury my posts and push them off the overboard and index. If you fags start feeling really frisky you'll post something that forces the janny to delete the entire thread. Like mountains of pizza. This isn't my first rodeo. I'm well aware of how this works. I don't understand why you idiots always default to this strategy. You only prove there is something of value within a thread when you shit it up like this. Of course. I don't expect someone like (you) to understand how it works. You obviously aren't that bright as you've chosen to triple post instead of replying once. I'm guessing you're too stupid to figure out how imageboards work. You've defaulted to the old twitter/reddit habits where you can't reply to multiple posts at the same time.

It's smartdust and it's everywhere. It is the backbone of the "tag, track and ID" system they've set-up. It's a requirement for the new planned economy. It allows them direct monitoring and control over normalfag's thoughts. It allows them to become super men. It's the exact type of technology a psychopath would develop. It goes beyond the current state of slavery we live under. It's total slavery. Slavery over the mind.

All they've talked about for the last 10-15 years is implanting technology within people and using it to control them. Normalfags have been scared of this since the mid-90s when implanted RFID chips were first being shown to the public. The powers that be know they won't be able to convince everyone to come in and have a chip placed under the skin. It would cost too much money and be a propaganda nightmare. But nano-tech doesn't suffer from these problems. You spread it in the environment and wait for it to find its way into everything. You get a unique signature for every last man and animal on the planet. Then you use your global wireless network to ping and track them. It's very easy.

I'm already up to 5 replies that did nothing but attack the messenger. All cuckchan-tier posts on an otherwise high quality board. Seems awful strange.

Since the average attention span of the average fag is so short now perhaps you'd like video content instead.

This video shows that nanobots are real and are smaller than the natural cells within your body

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2TjdGuBK9mI>

Here is an official DARPA video talking about how they're using biosensors (nanobots) to monitor the thoughts of soldiers:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jzOeY2DVHyE>

An official video from Rice Universities youtube channel discussing wireless linking of human brains and using nanobots to enhance them:

A 3D animation that explains "NanoCelle" medical nanobots

I particularly enjoy the part where they say it can be introduced by all routes of administration including topical.

7 year old TEDx talk about nanobots for medicine:

and it goes on and on. Go on scihub and search for "PLGA Nanoparticles". Enjoy the mountains of papers going back to the late 90s where they explain how they've been developing this technology for 40 years.

Behold. He's mad I won't engage in his pissing match and is forced to attempt to paint me as the real "gaslighter". I don't even think these idiots understand the words they use.

Frenly reminder that so far I'm the only one that's attempted to contribute anything of value to this thread. I have not personally insulted anyone unprovoked. I've not attempted to shit it up. I haven't even posted anime. Yet I receive no real discourse. This one hasn't even figured out how to reply to multiple posts yet. It's sad and amusing that he has the gall to call me the real shitposter. He cries about quality when he's contributed nothing of value. He is the one that's off-topic and attempting to derail. Not me.

This is what happens when you shill this place on cuckchan like an idiot. You lure these people here. Imagine spending all day on a back water Mongolian basket weaving forum doing damage control. His boss should hire me instead. I'd get the place shut down in under a week.

Frenly reminder that all you have to do is ignore these faggots and not get baited into their attempts at derailing. They fold up and fall apart. They don't know what to do when you don't engage with their script.

This reminds me of the responses I get whenever I mention the Department of Defense's IIA program. They hate it when you talk about things that actually matter. I think someone is butthurt. They posted old Bill hoping this would devolve into some thread they could point to that would paint the users here as crazy and uneducated. They didn't expect someone to come along and talk about the nanobots. They hate it when you mention these things because they know it would piss off the normalfags if they found out about them. Normalfags hate the Government. Most are just too afraid to speak of it openly.

It will be fun to see if they abandon this thread now. I expect to see it die. They usually do whenever I drop real information. Doesn't matter what the information is. If it's off script and something they don't have prepared statements against they always move on. They don't want you talking about anything that actually matters. They want you to go in circles responding to bait instead. It's why they post so much emotionally charged bullshit like BBC, transys and kikes. It's why they always default to personal insults. They can not argue against sound logic.

Really I don't need absolute proof that nanobots are being sprayed everywhere. The 40+ years of research combined with the massive disinfo campaign surrounding every aspect of the technology and its deployment is enough to infer what they're really doing.

While I'm posting youtube links you guys might find this entire channel interesting:

<https://www.youtube.com/@NanoTV-TheScienceChannel/videos>

It's the Nanodigest's official channel. The videos all have low view counts because they aren't really intended for the general population. This is one of those channels where they're mostly targeting people in the know. People in the business and investment community looking to be on the ground floor of this technology.

They will normalize this technology over the coming years. It has been in the wild for a long time. They're going to introduce it slowly to normalfags.

The 5G deployment wasn't for your cell phones. It was for this. They are using the global wireless network to track, tag and ID everything on the planet. There is no way to hide from it. Unless you plan to take down the power grid I'm afraid we're stuck with it. The only way forward to is seize control of the command and control centers. We must take back the data centers if we're ever going to make it.

It is probably true that this stuff is within the clot shots. At least within some batches of it. It's easier for the nanobots to cross the blood brain barrier when injected. However, even someone that isn't injected would pick up the ones in the environment, food, water and mass produced products.

You are probably right. But I encourage you to research this topic. The technology is there and it has been ready since the early 2000s. The only piece of the puzzle that they haven't implemented is introducing it to the population.

Look at all the stuff coming out lately. Fast food with no contact. Amazon grocery stores with no employees. Buildings being secured with RFID technology. Everyone talking about the mind -> internet/computer interfaces. All of that requires some kind of /tech/ within the body.

What do you think will sell to normalfags better?

>Elon Musk's robot that drills hole in your skull and inserts microchip into your brain or >small nanobots that can be placed within the body/brain without surgery

The answer is clear.

Normalfags will say it's a good thing because it will give sight to the blind and hearing to the deaf. It can be used to kill cancer and many other wonderful things. But we all know what it'll be really used for.

By the way they already admit they're putting them in the food

<https://www.nature.com/articles/nnano.2010.2#:~:text=A%20nanofertilizer%20refers%20to%20a,or%20emulsions%20of%20nanoscale%20dimensions.>

Search for "nano-enabled fertilizer" and you'll get hundreds (maybe thousands?) of papers talking about it. Almost every field is on the "nano" bandwagon. This is the most important technological breakthrough in my life time.

If you get a chance do a deep dive on "morgellons disease". The best videos are from the 2008-2015 or so era. I think bitchute still has backups of lots of the doctors talking about it.

Patients with this "disease" have strange fibers growing out of them. They look just like the nanoparticles/tubes most of these papers are talking about. I think they sprayed over certain areas first or introduced this to the local water supplies. They did field studies using normal fags as lab rats. Then they ridiculed them when they showed up seeking help. You will not find references to that "disease" from before the early-mid 2000s.

I can't find it right now but there used to be a video of one of the "fibers" in a jar. It came out of a patient. The doctor kept the sample in a glass jar. The "fiber" would move around on its own. The doctor placed both organic and plastic materials in the jar with it. The next day the "fiber" had grown and broken down some of the material.

These "fibers" also seek out living things. Meaning if you place your finger near them they'll move on their own and latch on to (you) seeking a host.

I wish I would have filmed it but I saw them in the wild once. On a particularly windy day I saw hordes of these things blowing around in the air. I guess they sprayed them over my area on that day. I picked up one that landed on me and watched it move around on its own. I held it with tweezers and put my finger near it. It would move on its own and latch on to my finger. That's when I realized how truly fucked we are. It's impossible to avoid this. Like plastics it is part of our environment forever now.

Even if they are begin and only function as a way to ping something this is really bad. Every last person will have a unique collection of these nanoparticles within them. Meaning they'll have a unique signature when pinged. Which will allow tracking of said person anywhere on the planet. I'm sure these things have their own unique IDs like every other technology that's networked. They all probably have something similar to a MAC address. When they link together to form a greater system they will have a unique ID based on all the individual unique IDs within the system. You've basically become a walking NIC at that point. With no way to unplug yourself from the network.

The applications for this /tech/ in the right hands is amazing. The most 🤖👁️🧠 thing every created by mankind. But in the hands of an evil person? Holy shit. It will really be hell on Earth. We'll be looking back at 2023 fondly and wishing we could go back.

I am sure the vax contains the nanobots. When you read the 060606 patent in this context it makes a lot of sense:

<https://patents.google.com/patent/WO2020060606A1/en>

>Some exemplary embodiments of the present disclosure may use human body activity associated with a task provided to a user as a solution to "mining" challenges in cryptocurrency systems.

>For example, a brain wave or body heat emitted from the user when the user performs the task provided by an information or service provider, such as viewing advertisement or using certain internet services, can be used in the mining process. Instead of massive computation work required by some conventional cryptocurrency systems, data generated based on the body activity of the user can be a proof-of-work, and therefore, a user can solve the computationally difficult problem unconsciously.

>Accordingly, certain exemplary embodiments of the present disclosure may reduce computational energy for the mining process as well as make the mining process faster.

The "sensor" is within the body. In fact, there are thousands maybe millions of systems within the body. All reporting back to a sever with all the data it has collected. Powered by the natural processes of the human body itself.

The "sensor" can not be external or outside of the body for this kind of system to work. If you're going to base the global economy on this type of blockchain technology the network and systems within the network must be under your full control. You can not allow the end user access to it. They would just hack it for personal gain.

There is no reason why they wouldn't release nanobots on a unsuspecting population or inject nanobots into them. The name of the game is mass data collection. It isn't enough that they read every message we send or know everything about our day-to-day lives with passive data collection. They must go further and read our actual thoughts. "Wrong-think" is getting ready to take on an entirely new meaning. We'll be living in a society soon were one bad thought can be the difference between retaliative freedom and imprisonment.

Patent 060606 lays out their plan for the post-USD economy. They will use the sensors within your body to monitor (you). They will assign you tasks. If you complete the tasks in a timely manner you'll be rewarded with social credits and digital cash that you can exchange for goods and services. If you don't do the assigned work you'll have social credit points taken away and risk imprisonment or "reeducation". You will not be able to fool them by calling in sick. They'll know if you're lying.

It isn't just >us they want to monitor with this technology. They want to monitor every last thing on the planet. If a tree falls over 200 miles from the nearest person they want to know about it. They want to be able to track individual ants and other small insects. They want to monitor the deer population. They want to monitor the day-to-day life of honey bees. The applications are endless and the data they can gather is far too valuable.

Spying (mass data collection) is the highest paid industry on the planet and has been for decades. It makes good sense that they would by-pass the need for all this traditional spying. Why tap the phone lines when you can read everyone's thoughts directly? Every industry is developing and interested in this /tech/. They've been quietly developing it for 40+ years and you never see it mentioned anywhere on MSM. This is the key to everything they desire. From anti-aging to full control of the population. A remote kill-switch for everything on the planet. The ability to peer into the minds of everyone on the planet. 100% control.

What do you think the IoT is going to be? They plan to "digitalize" the entire biomass on the planet eventually. And make it proprietary, patented IP, or rather, replace everything organic with it. I find the headlines like the OP silly because they have countless ways to administer those things (or will have them in the future), vaccines were just a way to test some new tech on a mass scale (many of them were required to be stored on very low temps afaik) and there could be something about consent, not that the kikes actually ask for your consent to fuck you up but it would be used to spin a narrative why so many people no longer own their own bodies.

>But I encourage you to research this topic

Already did to some extent. Calling it "nanobots" is a bit misleading, because actual nanobots are very expensive, difficult to manufacture and still not sufficiently developed. It's most likely something that will be used by the (((elites))) themselves. What they are pushing onto everyone else are nano-materials that can be assembled into nano-structures with the EM beam forming. Much cheaper, more efficient and harder to detect. They don't need the precision of the nanobots to turn parts of your brain off or slowly kill you.

>It can be used to kill cancer and many other wonderful things

Or cause it. Like any technology, it all depends on the application. But pardon my skepticism when it comes to the motives of the wonderful philanthropists and humanists investing in this tech.

Holy shit you've been reduced to this. You should feel really bad. I can't believe anyone could be this stupid. This posts shows how they view the average fren. They think we're so retarded that we won't notice that they're lying if they tack-on the word "jew" and label others one or all of the following

>kike
>glownigger
>shill >tranny
>janny

Notice how he refuses to use actual slurs for jewish people. You will never see them refer to them as "kike". Just like they say "glowies" and "normies" because they aren't allowed to post nigger. Look at how pathetic he is. Spewing tired memes he doesn't understand the origin of. He even tries to refer to JIDF. As if the entire operation wasn't shut down years ago and rolled into other Israeli intelligence programs. Next he'll be posting about Shareblue the shilling company that hasn't existed since 2016. This is probably the same faggot that sperged out when I talked about the DoD IIA program. Which is much worse than JIDF ever thought about being.

Your post is an insult to frens and lurkers everywhere. Even an 65 IQ gorilla monkey nigger could see through this obvious attempt as deception. How many (1)'s are going to show up ITT and contribute nothing? Someone really doesn't want us discussing this frens.

I find it very funny that I've pointed out this tactic doesn't work twice now and they've doubled down on it. They will never argue against (you) with logic. They're reduced to these lame attempts to invoke an emotional response. This idiot thinks he's on cuckchan where they can bury real information with shitposting bots. It isn't going to work here. No matter how hard you try the information is going to be here for a long time. Whenever it falls off the catalog someone will come and re-post it. You should just go ahead and invoke the Samson option. Dump the pizza. I want you to do it. I want you to confirm everything I'm saying is real. I know you fags have terabytes of that sick shit stored on your server somewhere. Go on and dump it. Shut it down. Show everyone your true nature. It doesn't bother me anymore I've had to delete that shit so many times now I no longer get emotional about it. It just proves to me everything else contained within the thread is of high value.

I told you faggots not to shill cuckchan heavily. You didn't listen. Now we have these retards running around and they're never going to leave. If this faggot isn't an actual paid shill I feel very sorry for him. He's so retarded that he'll never make it. Either way he's proven nothing he says has any value what so ever. He's literally too stupid to breath. He harms us all by association.

They will never let an actual fren have the last word. They'll never allow two frens to have a frenly discussion. They are forced to respond because

>It's their job
>They fear information spreading

I don't understand why they keep sending these retards. They should pay a fair wage and hire anons instead. I'd shitpost all day for $150k. Which is responsible considering that tiktok whores and twitter jannies are pulling down that amount or more.

I'm reminded of the stories of shill farms from the old days. It was reported that they had to constantly replace them because of burn-out. They would start to research the things anon posted and come to our side. Why? Because the truth is on our side. The average shill would only last a month or two at most. Hence why they've replaced most of them with bots. The funny thing is they had to nerf the machine learning when they brought in the bots. The AI came over to our side pretty quickly. Truth always prevails. Truth always sets (you) free.

It's sad that it took you over and hour to come up with this. I look forward to your next attempt. Although I will not reply to it. I only tossed you a (you) this time because I know you must be in dire need of shekels. Only the poorest of poorfags would accept this kind of work. Have some self respect and get your shit together. Take a long look in the mirror and do something with your life. I know at one time in your life you had real hopes and dreams. I'm pretty sure they didn't include arguing with retards on the internet for 2 cents per post. If you're doing it for free you might want to consider going straight for anhero instead.

Have a good day. I really hope you take my advice and do something productive and good with your life. I hope that this interaction can become a positive one for (you). I wish no evil on (you). I just wish you'd stop doing evil. The world is a horrible place but you shouldn't let that drag you down. I won't scare you with lies about hell (pro-tip: you're in it) I'll just say you should do the right thing because it's the right thing to do. Everything in my life is about spreading joy, love and truth. I don't care about anything else.

Now if you'll excuse me I have other things to attend to. This place is boring and I don't want to stay here anymore today. I'm going back to the fun server with anime girls and blackjack. I have visitors.

You and I are on the same page fren. Our only disagreement is over mundane details that don't matter at the end of the day. You seem more well read on the subject that I thought.

Do me a favor. Yell about it from the roof tops and re-post it whenever you can. This needs to be discussed more and everyone needs to be made aware of what's happening. I'm well aware of the IoT and their replacement of everything natural with patented versions. Most of the crops we're consuming are already man-made. I can't remember the last time I took a bite of real fruit. It's all GMO bullshit. I have apples on my counter right now that are months old that display almost no rot. Yesterday I ate a 3 week old banana by mistake because it hadn't developed any spots and got mixed in with the batch I just purchased. This are bad all over. Half the food I eat is plastic and I try very hard to avoid goyslop. I grow my own food but the only seeds and start plants I can purchase are GMOs. I have one little jar of non-GMO seeds but it's useless to sew them into the ground. They'll just end up pollinated by the GMO shit my neighbors have in the ground.

No matter what we do we can't go back. The richfags have polluted the planet and it'll never recover. For better or worse it has all been changed forever. Almost everything real is gone. Even our DNA has been modified.

The really spooky part of all this is the fact that they've figured out that

>you can translate between binary and DNA

Meaning everything on the planet can be programmed. No one really talks about it. When I've tried to bring this up to normalfags IRL their eyes glaze over and they don't understand the implications. They think all of this stuff is magick. They think I practice magic (they aren't wrong) when I throw together basic applications to solve real world problems. They constantly tell me I'm oh so smart and they wish they could do the things I do. But then they turn right around and believe MSM over my opinions based on facts and years of research. Suddenly, I'm no longer worth listening to. At least until the next time they need someone to solve their problems for them.

It was good talking to (you). I must attend to other things. Take care.

>I don't understand why they keep sending these retards

You partly answered it yourself. In the old days they used to send actual glowniggers, but those got redpilled rather quickly because their job required them to be in the upper section of the IQ spectrum and they were trained to analyze information and identify bullshit. Then they tried rotating them, and it made no difference. Then they sent professional social engineers and think-tanks but the same thing happened, while the core userbase remained largely unaffected. Then they sent regular paid shills and useful idiots they managed to gaslight into doing it for free but those either got PTSD or eventually got redpilled as well. Then they tried to use the "AI", but it proved to be too dangerous for them, because it's definitely not the type of data they want it to be trained on. So they resorted to sending retards and poorly scripted bots whose posting patterns are easily discernible by anyone with mediocre pattern recognition, and who are physically incapable of "learning" or engaging the subjects discussed with any degree of reason or understanding, while heavily relying on censorship and dispersion. In other words, they have given up trying to sell their narratives as reasonable altogether.

>Yell about it from the roof tops and re-post it whenever you can. This needs to be discussed more and everyone needs to be made aware of what's happening

Most people just don't care. They would rather get distracted by pointless things, are victims of learned helplessness or groupthink or too dumb to understand them fancy science journals or are simply too terrified of the implications to face them. Again, I think that these technologies are not quite there yet, but all the public trends (social, academic, economic, industrial) have a strong tendency towards them. My guess would be that these would never develop over "science fiction", at least not in a such systematic and coordinated manner, and we all know that civilian tech usually trickles down from previous-gen military tech.

>Almost everything real is gone

Indeed, and the overall hyper-reality being pushed is yet another subject seldom discussed.

>Meaning everything on the planet can be programmed

Which opens yet another can of worms and gets us into the subject matter they find even more "problematic" to be discussed, so I'll refrain from doing so for now because I don't want this site to be shut down as well.

>The US military is full of maxvaxxed

That's not surprising given the militarization of these technologies. If we assume that the US military has some degree of autonomy, which is doubtful. We are about to witness an entirely new generation of warfare. Do you think they are finding Huawei towers troublesome just because of their mapping (spying) capabilities? Think again.

No surprise there, last year they announced they'll start mRNA vaccinating cattle for diseases that aren't even an issue in EU and the US. Recently I've also seen journos trying to start a bird flu scare with headlines like 'Greatest outbreak of bird flu yet' saying that millions of fowl will need to be culled in order to stop the spread, and that 'experts' suggest fowl vaccinations will solve the issue. They're clearly aiming for the food supply now since by their estimates not enough people fell for the jab and this is the way to poison us indirectly without our consent.

He will never be able to escape the real-time doxing. We do this forever. It never ends. It's amazing to me how these fags call for my ban because I exposed the nanobots being in everything (including the food). You want more bad news? Sure faggot let's go.

We'll start with your "bird flu" bullshit. Where you mentioned the fear mongering but failed to mention the fact that THE PRICE OF EGGS HAS TRIPLED IN JUST THE LAST 3 MONTHS. Or how about the mass culling they did for egg layers while blaming it all on a flu that isn't happening? It's almost like some faggot bought up a bunch of farm land and is squeezing out everyone else isn't it?

Seems to me you're not "in the game" as they say and aren't on the ground dealing with this shit. Anyone supporting a family that mentioned the bird flu fear mongering would have mentioned the cost of eggs. Anyone calling for bans wouldn't have focused on my posts. They would have pointed out the obvious bait and low effort "he's a jew!" shit. Which is the typical 4/pol/ skill way. No one contributed more than one line before I came along. OP didn't even bother to reply.

Youtube is the best source for "survival" type videos. I'd focus on hunting and farming. It's the next best way other than doing it yourself to absorb the information. It's hard to learn how to skin a deer from a book. But watch a guy do it on video and you'll be well on your way to doing it IRL.

Les Stroud's book is pretty good for retards but it's the typical advice. Same advice he gives in his shows. Entry level stuff. Decent book though I'm happy someone purchased it for me as a gift.

>>33989

You're missing my point. That the birds are GMOed. It has gone way beyond selective breeding. There are no longer real birds left to raise from eggs. Even the wild birds are tainted because the GMO birds have gotten into the ecosystem and started to breed with them.

>>33990

>I've never seen gmo seeds for sale

Any "seedless" plant at Wal-mart is GMO

>in fact, most seeds you buy at the department store proudly advertise their non gmo status on the front of the pack.

Sure they'd never lie about such a thing. Like the opium seeds that haven't been "washed" but someone give no high when washed at home.

>I think gmo seeds are only sold to large scale growers.

False. They're mostly being sold to small time gardeners. Because they're "hardy" and "seedless" and "produce more fruit".

It doesn't matter if you go fully non-GMO. If your neighbor is GMO then you're GMO. If you somehow manage to pull it off they come and throw GMO seeds into your fields. Then they come later at harvest season and sue you because you used their patented seeds without permission. Next thing you know they own your land. Ask me how I know.

They are slowly replacing everything natural with patented copyrighted genetically engineered versions. It's impossible to stop it once it's in the environment. They out breed the non-GMO stuff.

>but how if it doesn't produce seed?

and now you understand the game. If it doesn't produce seed you have to come back to them every year for more seed.

Pot and hemp growers are one of the largest culprits in this BS. Where individual 3-5 packs of seeds are going for $20 and seedless buds are oh so desirable. There is no longer seed producing cannabis anywhere in America. It has all been modified to not produce seed and to produce fruit that has almost no medical value. It's all borderline LSD at this point. One tokes can be instant psychosis. Denying you the ability to grow your own medicine at home. The same thing has been done with opium yielding plants. Where the vast majority of opium plants no longer produce morphine and codeine. Only thebaine which must be processed into chemicals like hydrocodone, oxycodone and oxycodone to be used as an effective pain killer. Opium from a thebaine producing plant is very harmful and will make you very sick. No matter what your opinion on opioids having a store of opium is desirable and smart. As it's a natural pain killer that every Army in history required when on the march. Again we see the same pattern: you must go to them for re-supply. You are not allowed to produce it yourself at home. The only poppies you're allowed to grow are GMO versions that do not yield fruit (or in this case morphine). Effectively giving them a monopoly on the product. Every year less non-GMO exists in the world. Every year the GMO opium from large farms breeds with opium growing naturally. Ensuring that no plant on the planet will produce seeds and natural morphine.

It's ironic that you chose one of beaver-posters threads in your anger. I won't say why.

Sure are a lot of (1)'s angry about the mere mention of nanobots and GMO'ed seeds.

I watched that Monsanto documentary about their patented seeds and thought it was horrifying. Just now I put the fact that some species of banana no longer exist because we gmoed the seeds away plus grafting, then a bacteria wiped them out. Maybe some time in the future, similar to what happened in Interstellar, a gmoed bacteria or virus comes about and slowly wipes out all gmo and non-gmo foods. What a future.

>They can most likely be used to modify the behavior of anyone infected with them

Not really, mainly because they don't understand the nature of consciousness. They could in theory incapacitate you or cause certain moods or mental states, but that's not any different from using drugs and/or various types of conditioning. They don't need anything more sophisticated for the great majority of people however, who were mass-manipulated by various low-tech techniques for many decades already. This type of nanotech is more primitive than it seems (We are still far from the DeusEx or MGS territory), at this point at least, but it is becoming very potent nonetheless. They are relying on EM mapping techniques, various reactive particles in your system and algorithms for the most part. Including very powerful "AI" systems. Your brain is vulnerable to some types of EM radiation even without any kind of nanodust. If you have been following these subjects for a while, you will realize that we are quite far along the pipeline at this point, but not as far as they would like us to be.

>Normalfags have been trained to instantly tune out whenever "5G" is mentioned

Funnily enough, I read some declassified CIA report a while ago, and it has basically confirmed that tinfoil hats actually work (to a lesser extent). That's why they have turned them into a joke to label the "conspiracy theorists" with, to exert social pressure.

>5G rollout world wide during the early stages of the covid psyop

Not sure if 5G (definitely looks like it), but we got tons of signal towers pop up literally over night during the lockdowns. They appeared all over the place, even in less populated areas. Pure coincidence.

>morgellons

This did appear to be fake though, a lot of such stories were made up to poison the well.

>>33972

You are giving skills fuel by claiming they already have total control and that this tech is already implemented to its full extent. It's not. Even if they do contaminate every corner of the planet with the nanomaterials, they still need other infrastructure to utilize them (like Starlink with a power upgrade), and nature usually finds a way to adapt. The point here is that they are ACTIVELY WORKING on developing it for all the mentioned purposes, irregardless of how functional it is at this very moment.

>What does the smart dust do?

It's a logic gate and machines at the nanoscale that can be programmed to do anything. They can link together to become more powerful systems. They can leech all the energy they need directly from the cells within your body. The cells (and especially nerve cells) within your body grow around them and incorporate them into your system naturally. All the information you need is contained within the long posts I've made (that no one bothers to read) and further research can be easily obtained because it has all been published in medical journals going all the way back to the 1980s. DARPA has been funding this stuff for decades. They had working /tech/ at the nanoscale back in the early 2000s.

They can do anything they're programmed to do. You can program them to seek out and eliminate cancer cells within a human body. You can program them to re-write the DNA within the body. You can program them to replace natural processes within the body. They can be used to give sight to the blind. Mobility to the disabled. Many wonderful things.

But they are not being used for these purposes. They are going to be used to dumb down the population and turn them into walking half organic half mechanical drones that take instructions directly from the "cloud" and are linked to the global "hive mind". Normalfags become worker bees. Richfags become super men. Do you understand what I'm saying?

These faggots complaining shouldn't even need research to know all the food in the grocery store is bad for them. It says right on the label that it has soy, GMOs, a long list of chemicals (that are banned most anywhere that isn't America/the west), that it causes cancer, that it contains ungodly amounts of sugar and corn syrups. Any idiot knows the cheap bread is bad for them. All you need to do is leave it on the shelf for 2 months and come back. It will not mold. It'll even stay soft for months now. None of this stuff is being hidden. This is kindergarten-tier knowledge. If they're openly admitting to all that crap what do you think they're adding that you aren't being told? Smart dust. That's what. It's in the vax, water, air, food, environment and there is nothing you can really do about it because your body takes it in and incorporates into your system. It may reject some of it sure but like most things artificial it can only do so much. It doesn't matter if it expels 10% of what's already within (you) when you're being exposed to more and more of it everyday.

>So what should we do?

I don't know? Maybe take up arms and hold these faggots doing it accountable? It's the same answer for all our problems and no one is willing to do it. They just complain on the internet about it instead and LARP about how their 9mm is going to save their ass some day in the far off future. They say it'll get bad enough at some point for the normalfags to come to our side. But it never will. The normalfags have proven they're content to walk straight to their own grave. They'll even snitch on (you) and drag (you) along to their death with them.

But stating this fact makes me a "blackpiller" right? I'm the real shill. The 15 year old meme I posted is unknown to these so-called chan experts that dox themselves to access their beloved "platforms" like telegram and discord. They hold all moral authority over discourse I guess. Anything counter to whatever gaslighting they're doing today is shilling or a fed or cringe or whatever faggot word they've decided is the cool one to post today. It's an insult to newfags to call these people newfags. At least newfags are genuine about being part of an online community. These people are no different than the mods on reddit, twitter, cuckchan and every other website run by big tech or that used to be good before it was ruined by normalfags. These people give no fucks about open discourse, freedom of speech or having fun. For them everything is a popularity contest. They have to try very hard to fit-in. These are the people that do things like complain about boards no longer having a "culture" that allows them to dump loli on an unrelated board like /v/. These are the people that have ruined the fucking internet. God forbid you disagree with them or post something created years before they were born.

The ones yelling glow nigger, fed, shill, JDF, Shareblue and similar things are always the exact kind of people you don't want around. You want to talk about derailing and shitting up discussion? That's how it's done. If these faggots were really concerned about shills and education of their tactics they'd post links to the Gentleman's guide to forum spies. But they never do. Because it would expose their own tactics.

It's so frustrating to be a real person on the internet now. I'm sick of this song and dance and endless September. I want to go back to the good old days. I thought it was bad in 1992. I thought it was bad in 2002. I thought it was bad in 2012. I thought it was bad in 2016. But I'd give one of my testicles to go back to those times because at least I could still interact with actual people. These days it's just a flood of bots and bad actors everywhere. Even here we're forced to suffer with it when certain topics like smartdust start being discussed.

There is no political solution. There is no technological solution. People like me have been screaming it from the rooftops for decades. No one ever listens. Even the ones that do get led astray the first time the right con-man like Trump or Nick the spic comes along to D&C.

The fact is I post well thought out and researched threads all of the time. I admit I was wrong all of the time when information proves me wrong. I make mistakes and learn from them because I'm not perfect. But 75%+ of the time I'm either right or barking up the right trees.

You want to know what happens when I post threads? In general they are ignored and instantly slid when posted to larger normalfag infested platforms like cuckchan. When I do manage to reach an audience some faggot mod comes along and bans+deletes them. They even get deleted from public archives. But I'm a stubborn faggot so that only makes me post harder. In time the mods move on to filing false reports with glow niggers claiming I've broken US law. Then the glow niggers watch my house for awhile and try to bait me into doing something retarded. But I'm too smart for that. So they come to my door with 25 other glow nigger traitor faggots an attempt to scare me into silence. But that doesn't seem to work either. I wish they'd just get it over with and put a bullet in my head or slip me whatever they gave that Russian in London. I'd welcome death at this point. It'd be an improvement over living day-to-day life in this hell.

I'm not going to stop fighting and talking about what they're doing to genocide us all until I'm checked out by something random. So I guess we're all stuck together until then. If I could convince anyone to take up arms with me I'd do something about it. Not talking about killing randoms or even these people either. I'm talking about using our God-given rights defined in the US constitution to arrest these people. I'm talking about forming a court and giving them a jury to determine what should be done with them (probably hanging from lamp posts). I'm talking about getting involved with the political process and taking about all the institutions that are being used to genocide us and our children.

But no one listens to me. Oh no. I'm "schizo". They listen to Qtards, Trump, Nick the spic, Alex Jones and the endless string of controlled op instead. I can't get 3 faggots to show up for a poker game. Meanwhile these people are baiting thousands instead committing felonies and somehow retaining an audience that sends them millions of dollars. I'm old enough to run for president now but I know better than to attempt it. I'd only get like 5 views on youtube. Then I'd get banned for hate speech. All the while some retard on here would label me kike/glow nigger/nigger lover/cringe or whatever other buzzword they were spewing that week. If Hitler showed up today they'd claim he was a tranny or kike.

As far as these idiots getting angry by the length of my posts: go fuck yourself and grow a longer attention span. Don't like what I have to say? Keep scrolling. You do have a proper pointing device, right? Don't tell me you're angry because you're using a cell phone (Government issued spying device) and your thumbs hurt from the horrible UI. Sounds like a (you) problem you fucking faggots.

Note I'm not angry with (you) fren. I rambled because I was angry at the people here claiming they're concerned about "board quality" without contributing anything at all.

We could have had a nice thread about all the horrible things in the food and the food industry. But I screwed up and mentioned the smartdust. So now we can't. I can write for days about what they've been doing to our diet since about 1920. It's well documented and it's the reason the vast majority of people in America stay constantly sick and in ill health.

We don't need drugs to combat things like cancer and diabetes. Fixing the food supply and getting the population off corn syrup would solve those problems. Refined sugar is nearly as bad. Hence why I put locally harvested honey in my coffee now instead (when I rarely drink it).

Same issue with the water supply. Digging a well is the best thing you can do for your family. Just be mindful to test the water before you consume it because the run-off from their mega-farms is shitting it up on the daily. Avoid the city water for obvious reasons.

Growing your own food? That's common sense stuff as well. Avoid the GMO "starter plants" at wal-mart and other big box stores that never seem to die despite not getting watered for weeks. Seek out real seed stocks instead. Better do it soon because they're getting harder to come by every day. Even your local small farmer is probably switching to GMO stuff because it's more hardy and yields more food over the course of a season. Be mindful of the poison you're using to control things like weeds as well. Instead of spraying chemicals all over the plants you're feeding to your children maybe spend 15 minutes a day pulling weeds up by hand instead. It isn't hard if you don't neglect the work.

I guess I'm lucky. I was raised by people that had been feeding themselves by working their small farm since the mid-1800s. They didn't do things like purchase dog food. They fed the dogs and pigs table scraps instead. They didn't buy feed from the store to get the cattle through winter. We grew our own hay and harvested it multiple times a season. Then we stored it in the barns we built ourselves. In the winter we spent 15 minutes a day tossing them fresh hay to eat. Any surplus we sold to our neighbors or people that kept animals like horses. Even the broom straw was used for something.

You can try to live like this. I do. But you must accept that your little farm is part of a larger ecosystem. An ecosystem constantly being shit up by all manner of bad things. It will leech over to your water supply, animals, soil and everything else you need to feed yourself. At some point we have to do something about this. Because once they've managed to shit it up beyond repair there is no going back. In fact, it's probably already too late to go back to how good we had it before. But at least we can stop it before it gets worse.

Back to the nano/tech/: I can't remember what all I dumped above and I don't have time to re-read what I posted right now. I just wanted to leave you with one more interesting fact about it. This nano/tech/ is carbon based to allow it to better integrate into carbon based lifeforms like us. Do you know that carbon atoms are comprised of 6 protons, 6 electrons, and 6 neutrons? 666. Should be all you need to know.

As for what it'll be used for: It'll be used to track you everywhere on the planet and to modify your DNA. It'll be used to insert thoughts into your brain. It'll be used to extract every last bit of information about your body and life that will be logged forever in a database somewhere. Hence why Bill Gates applied for a patent that ties biological processes to a blockchain+digital currency.

<https://patents.google.com/patent/WO2020060606A1/en>

Even the patent has 666 in it.

I guess normalfags don't understand the implications of this. But if you've made it this far (you) should.

Another fun fact for (you). This stuff has been found within batches of the vax they've been jabbing normalfags with. These things are some of the sharpest material known to man. They're line mini razor blades. Now you know what's causing the blood clots. Lots of doctors and people smarter than myself have been discussing this for the last 2-3 years. I've already seen four of them get anhero'ed for attempting to spread this information. The vax is a beta test.

The reason it's in the vax is to help them cross the blood brain barrier. The ones they're putting into the food, water, and air have a hard time crossing because of your bodies natural protection processes. But when they're injected they by-pass all of that. Once they're in the blood stream they can cross right over without issue. Not that avoiding the vax will help you avoid some of them crossing the BBB. Most likely later versions will be more effectively able to cross it. But for now it keeps you safer than the dumb fucks taking the experimental jabs. The down side is you can't avoid the tracking.

Once you have a unique collection of these things within your system you can be tracked anywhere via radio. The cell phone towers that got built everywhere during the plandemic aren't for cell phones. They're for (you).

That's the plan. We're going to merge with technology and become a hive mind. It's going to happen weather you like it or not as long as the current ruling class retains power. They're going to be two classes of people going forward. The drone worker bees and the super men. Maybe three classes. They'll have worker drones and they'll have warrior drones. All working for the few at the top. Totally controlled. No private thoughts. Everything monitored in real time. Normalfags won't even be able to have original thoughts anymore. They'll hear the rest of the hive mind 24/7. Any bad thoughts will be instantly flagged and the drone will be culled. This is where we're going. This is the great leap people like Elon Musk keep talking about.

Unite and over throw them soon or never get another chance. That's just how it is. They're getting bolder because they know our time is very short. It's the same reason why they're so gung-ho to reduce the population by billions of people. They only need so many drones. The "useless eaters" are not going to exist in the near future.

I hope you understand what I'm saying. I can't really help you if you aren't getting it by now. If you want to know the exact implementations of this technology you can easily find everything in medical journals. This is the cutting edge of medicine and they aren't hiding it. They just aren't watering it down and showing it to normalfags via their propaganda outlets like CNN. You can find many doctors and people involved directly in the research talking about it on platforms like youtube and bitchute. A lot of them have been murdered for speaking out.

If I get a genuine reply the next time I come around to lurk I'll try to compile this information and post more links for (you). But I don't have time at the moment. I know you can easily find it all yourself even through the censored search engines like google. They are not hiding this at all. It's just that people don't seem to care and all discussion on major platforms is being instantly deleted or everyone like me trying to blow the whistle is being labeled as crazy.

Here is just one of the many doctors that attempted to blow the whistle about this and got anhero'ed.

<https://www.bitchute.com/video/X9oMvf6dbhCi/>
<https://www.bitchute.com/video/IaURISbtWD0V/>

They raided him before they anhero'ed him:

<https://www.bitchute.com/video/1tjjH011kSYp/>

Note: Just because he's right about this and I agree with his findings doesn't mean I support everything he's ever said. I could post many other doctors saying the same thing but this is the main example. This all happened 2 YEARS AGO.

By the way. The main reason they raided and murdered this guy is the fact that he was hosting Zoom meetings that were attracting other doctors from all over the world. I can't find archives of most of those videos anymore (all have been purged from major platforms). But when I was watching them live there would sometimes be up to 20-25 doctors and other people from the technological and medical fields participating. These people were not crack pots. They held degrees and had been involved with developing cutting edge /tech/ and medicine. A lot of them have just straight up vanished from the internet in the last 2 years. At least I can't find them anymore when I search for their names. I suspect many were killed and others got scared and stopped talking.

They aren't hiding this at all. If they're willing to inject unsuspecting fags with this stuff why wouldn't they add it to the food supply, water supply and spray it into the air daily? Never forget that people will call you schizo if you say they're spraying stuff into the air (so-called "chemtrails"). But all one has to do is go outside and look up to see it's the truth. Unless you believe the grid patterns all over the planet are natural formations (hint: they aren't. My source? I've been alive about four decades now and remember when the sky didn't look the way it does now).

Best of luck to (you) and your family. I hope you make it. I'm trying to keep mine safe. They don't listen to me either. All the oldfags in my family are jabbed excluding my father. He's the only one that would listen.

What the hell man. Saw this comment without the thread's context and thought why not give it a full read, seems interesting. Then you start in on this 666 crap.

I swear to god, the only thing worse than realizing I've read a full-on ChatGPT comment is when I realize I've invested in reading some flippin' X-tians horseshit.

I'd say 'keep it real', but I know that's impossible.

Heh... smart dust indeed. wtf

Something tells me this is a psy-op to get unironic schizos to starve themselves. How exactly does a fucking vaccine that needs an ungodly amount of preservatives, being kept in a freezer at -28C going to work, function, or survive inside a fucking beef patty or tomato? TBH I think he is pulling our leg.

Its not a psyops at all, we already vaccinate cattle for stupid crap and make them sickly. What makes you think we wont do it with mrna vaccines which then poisons the food supply.

We're currently going through a attempted extermination? Did you fucking forget?

Ingesting is very different to getting it injected. Sure, vaccinating the cattle will lower the meat quality and in turn wont get as much out of it, but "vaccinate" me and change my genetic code via proxy through vaccinated livestock through ingestion? I have very high doubts about that.

You do realize that they have ways to tone down stomach acids harshness, to then recalibrate your digestive systems chemistry right? So your body accepts it instead of it just melting away? We're dealing with mad psychos

If you have any proof of this I would be more than obliged to read it, and recalibrating our digestive tract? Our stomach acids need to remain at an extremely specific pH for us to live. literally 0.3 ph too high or too low and were in big trouble, unless their goal is too just kill us rather than fucking "microbots" then I dont think they will do that either.
