

Chapter 4 No One Can Escape (Track The Digitizer)

Digivox-9 has implanted a kind of data chamber — the pulsating Abdominal Nexus — into Megacephalon through his synapses.

This chamber is no ordinary storage device. It is organically fused with Megacephalon's neural system, grown directly from his abdomen and permanently fed by his synaptic flow. It lives. It pulses. It thinks along with him.

Once the knowledge and memories have been absorbed in digital form, the Neurophage must be eliminated — so that no one else can ever access that knowledge again. Total destruction is pre-programmed.

After all the knowledge from the laboratory has been absorbed, the order is clear: Destroy. Eliminate. Annihilate every physical and biological data carrier.

The Digitizer can already feel his growing power... but this is far from enough.

Governments, state buildings, megacorporations, the mafia — the Earth has shaped so much useful knowledge from hatred, greed, and corruption. Pure evil. There is still so much more to harvest.

Like a locust plague that devours entire fields in the shortest time, the Digitizer reaps the Neurophage Database.

Not just in this city. Not just in this country. Borders are crossed. Country after country, continent after continent is stripped bare.
