Alongside the main chats, MIB operated a hidden channel called #secret-lab, accessible only to approved members, as shown when I first requested access. The channel was intended for confidential discussions sometimes even involving high-profile figures like MrBeast or his company. However, despite its intended purpose, the channel didn't live up to its mystique. Sensitive information was mishandled, and several participants were unfit to be sharing or even viewing such material.

The channel had a humble start, with Rose discussing her video with the rest of the chat. The video was supposed to expose the problems occurring at Beast Games that Rose herself personally witnessed.

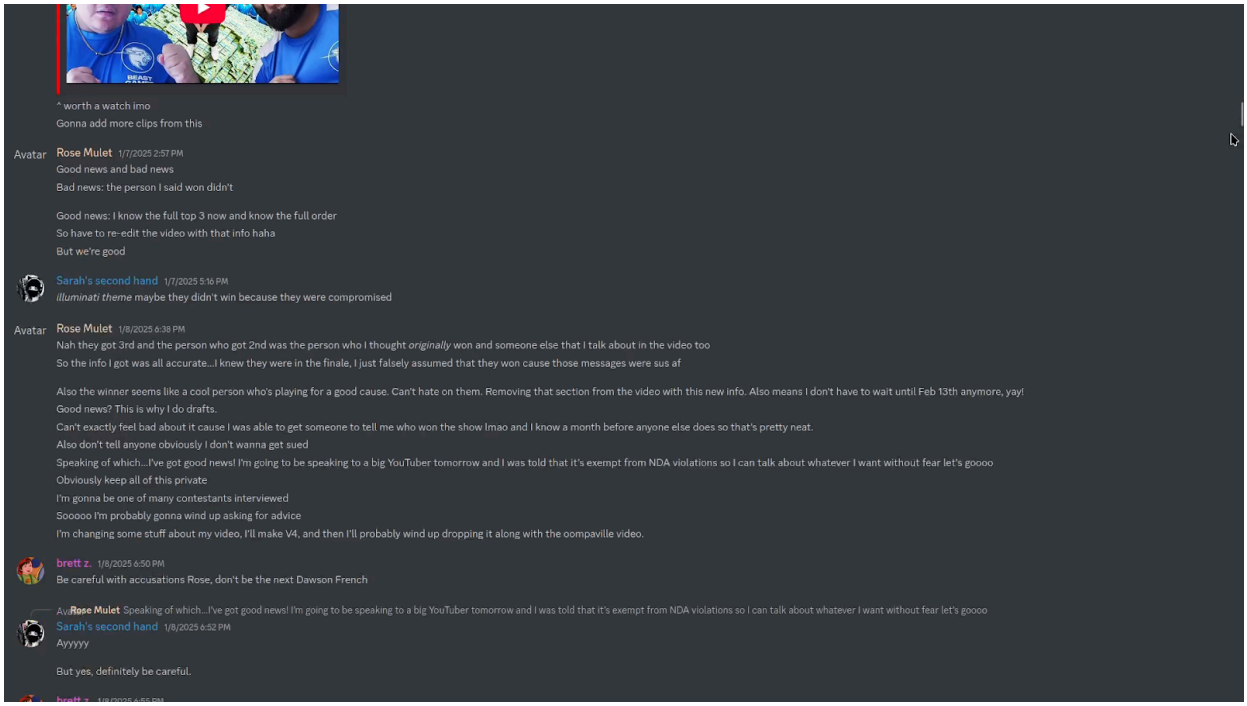

Rose asked the people in chat for constructive criticism on her video.

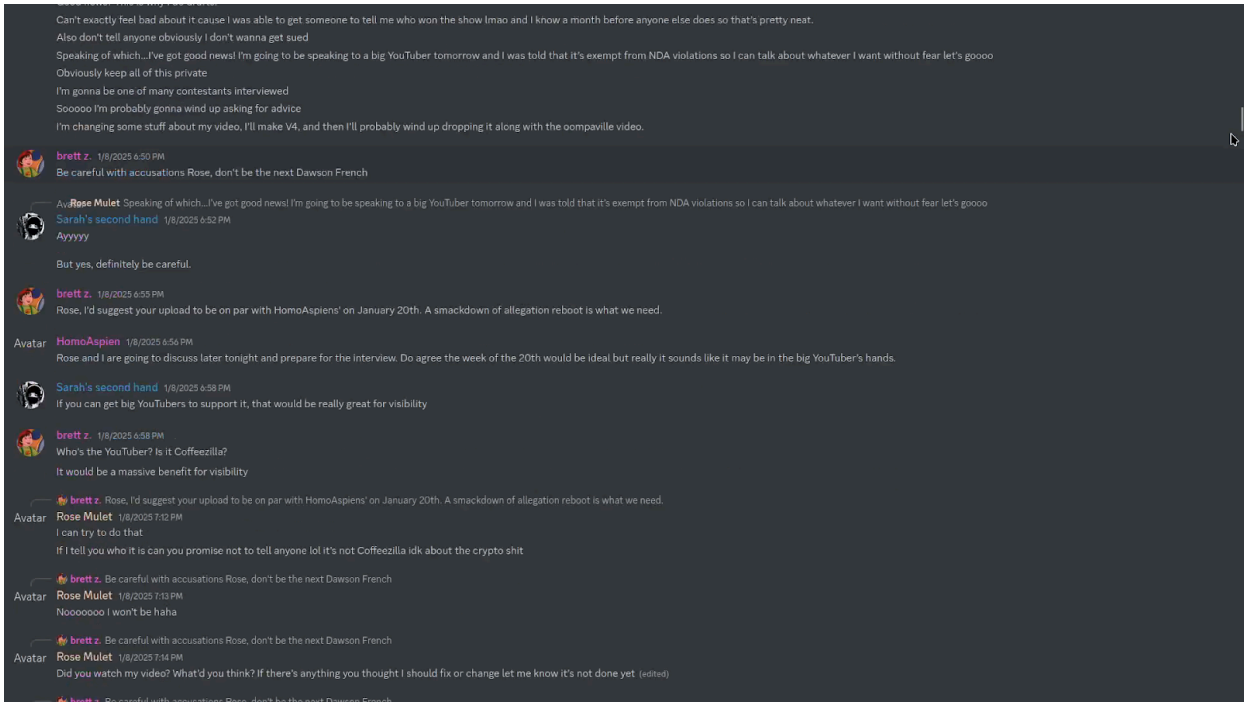

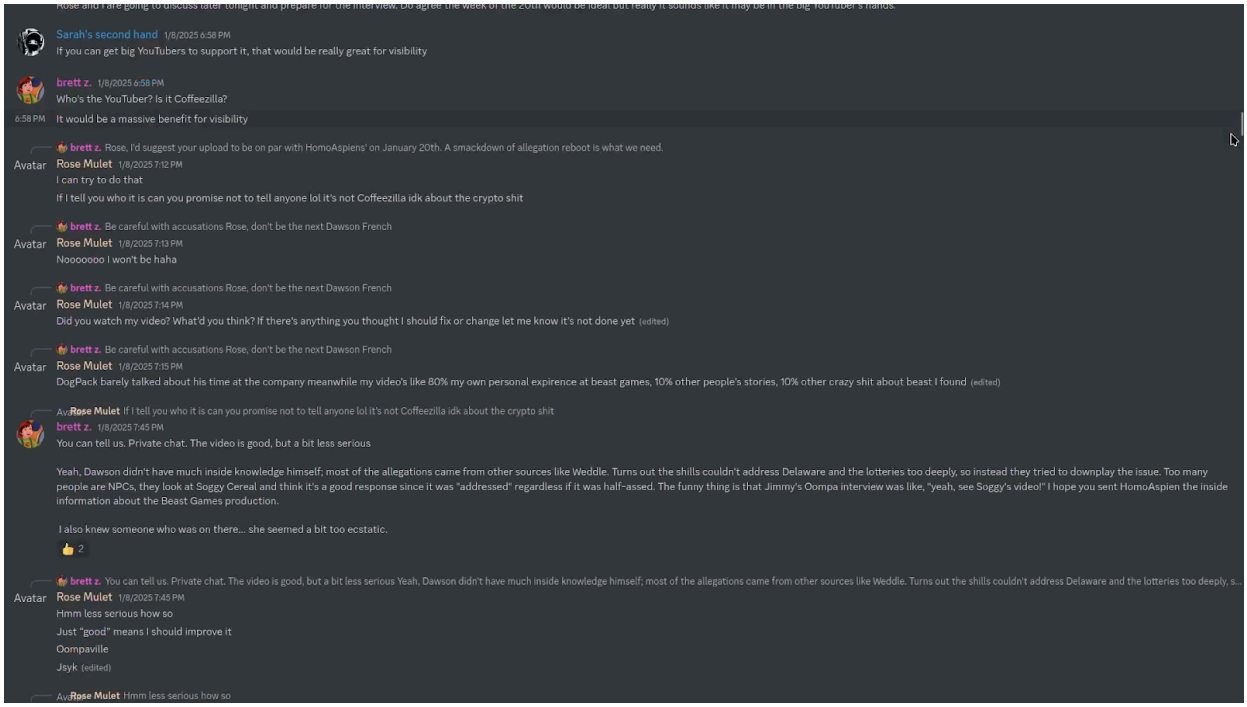

Brett tells her to be careful with the info she posts so she doesn't make mistakes like DogPack did.

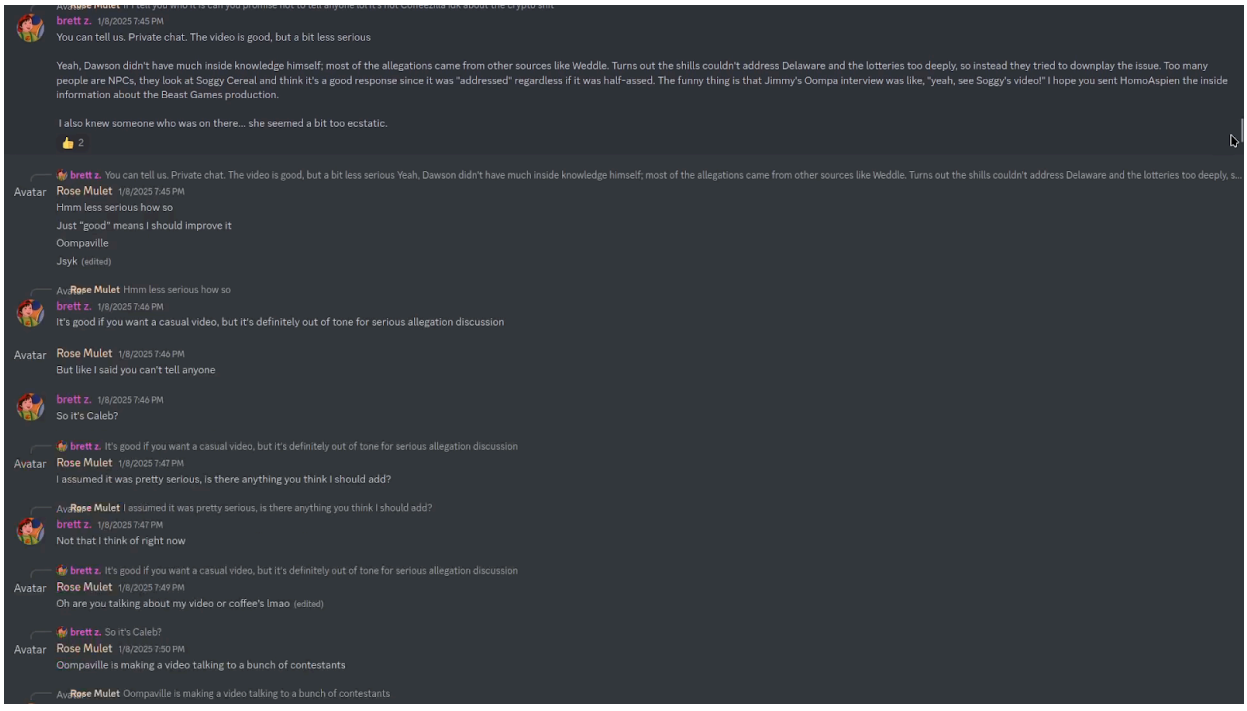

Rose then reveals she'll be speaking to a "big Youtuber" soon, but asks for the chat to keep it on the down low. Brett expects it to be a hit alongside HomoAspien's planned video, which was never published. He applauds Rose, saying that people didn't look deep enough into Soggy's, and by proxy, Jimmy's response.

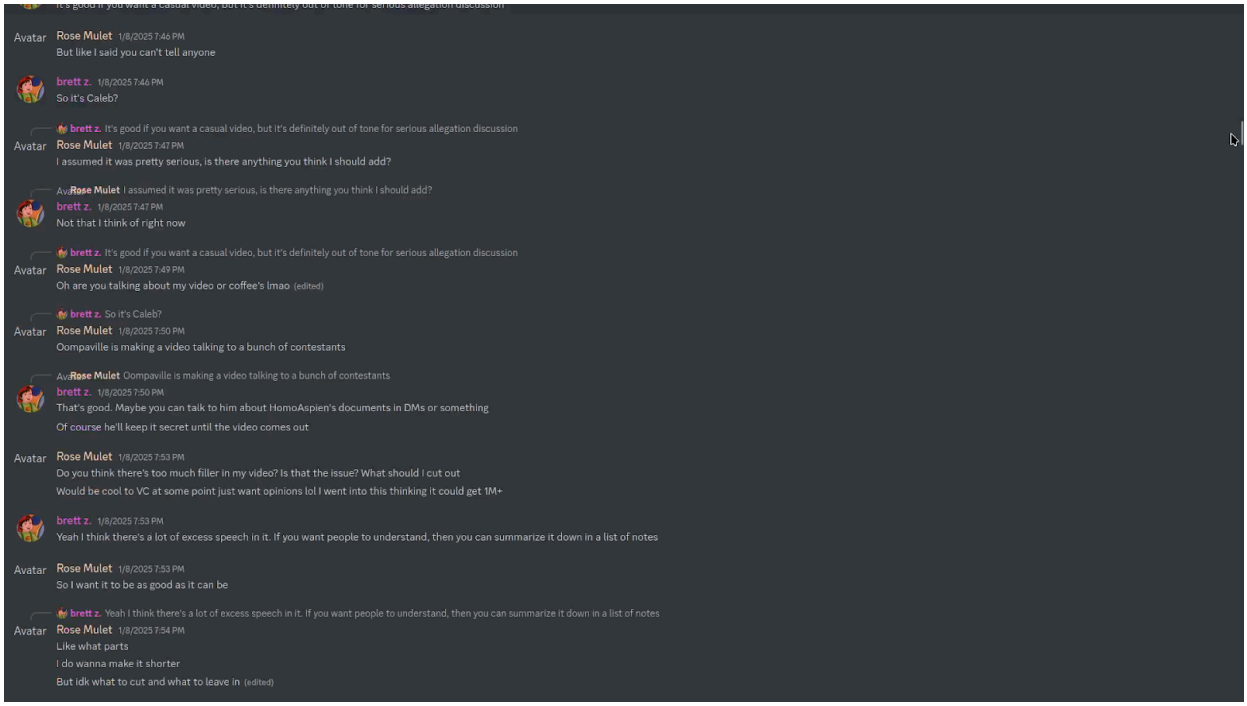

A lot of figures in this situation: Brett, Rose, etc. often switch opinions on DogPack and the rest of the MrBeast detractors. Rose claims her video will be more focused on her personal experiences than other sources. She also reveals the “big Youtuber” she’s going to talk to is Oompaville.

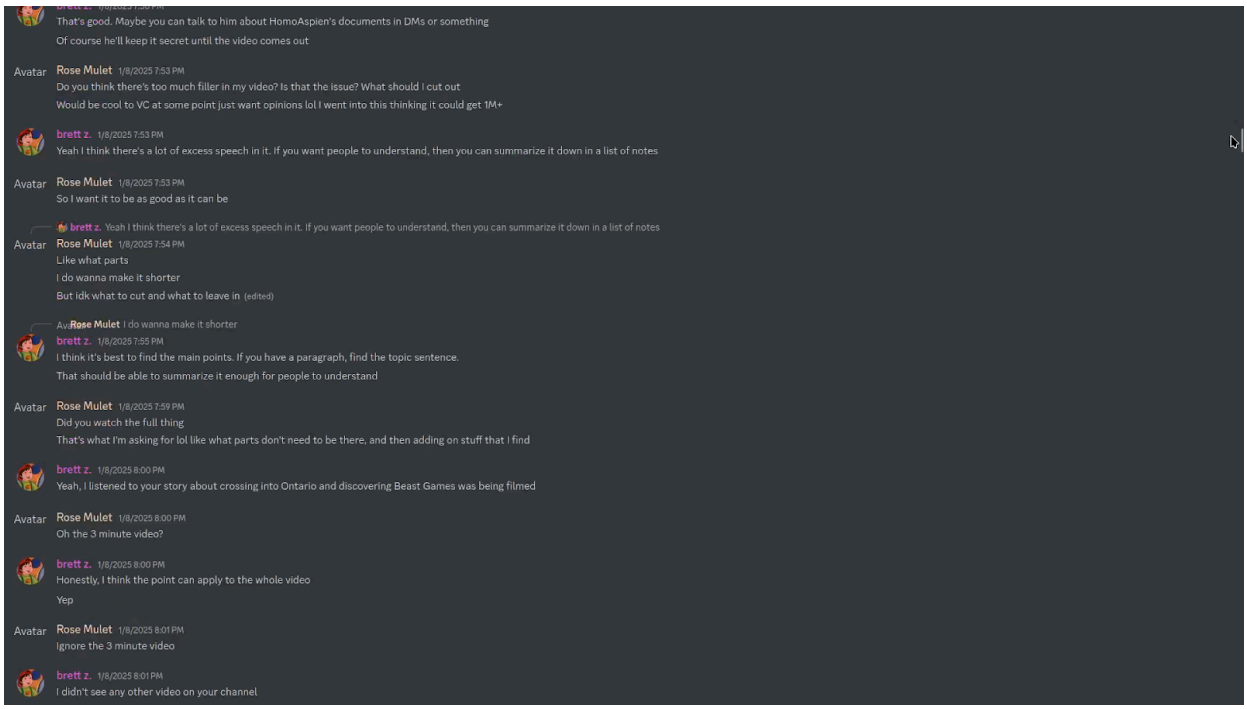

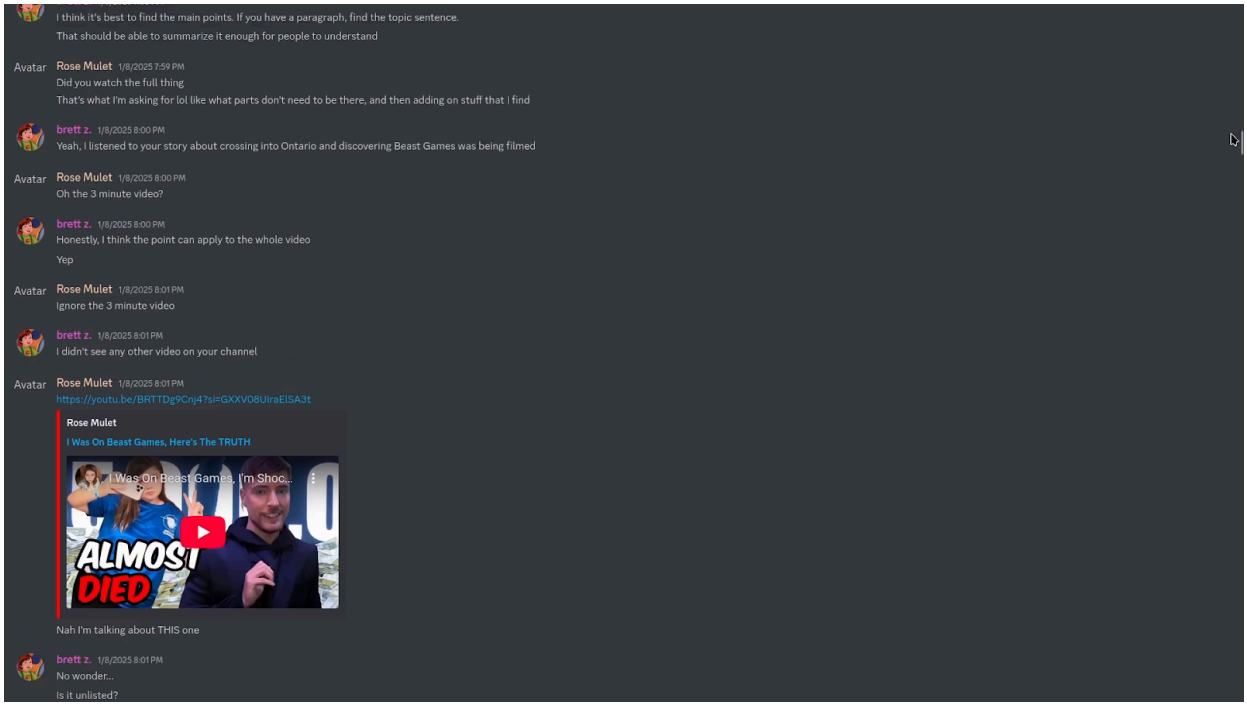

Rose mentions that Oompa plans to make a video where he interviews many contestants involved in Beast Games. Brett suggests she talks to him about the documents Edna has in reference to his own video. Rose also continues to edit her video. Two videos of hers are actually mentioned: a 3 minute video (that Rose later refers to as “slop”) that Brett mistakenly was giving constructive criticism for in these screenshots, and Rose’s main video.

I didn't see any other video on your channel

Rose claims that the person she said was the winner of Beast Games in her video was actually in the top 3 but not the actual winner. Brett asks if something similar to Rosanna Pansino's situation (regarding her being edited out of the top 3 winners in MrBeast's Creator Hide and Seek video) is also happening in Beast Games, which Rose refutes and clears up the misunderstandings about the winning player. Rose asks Brett to promise to keep the discussion confidential as she can be sued otherwise.

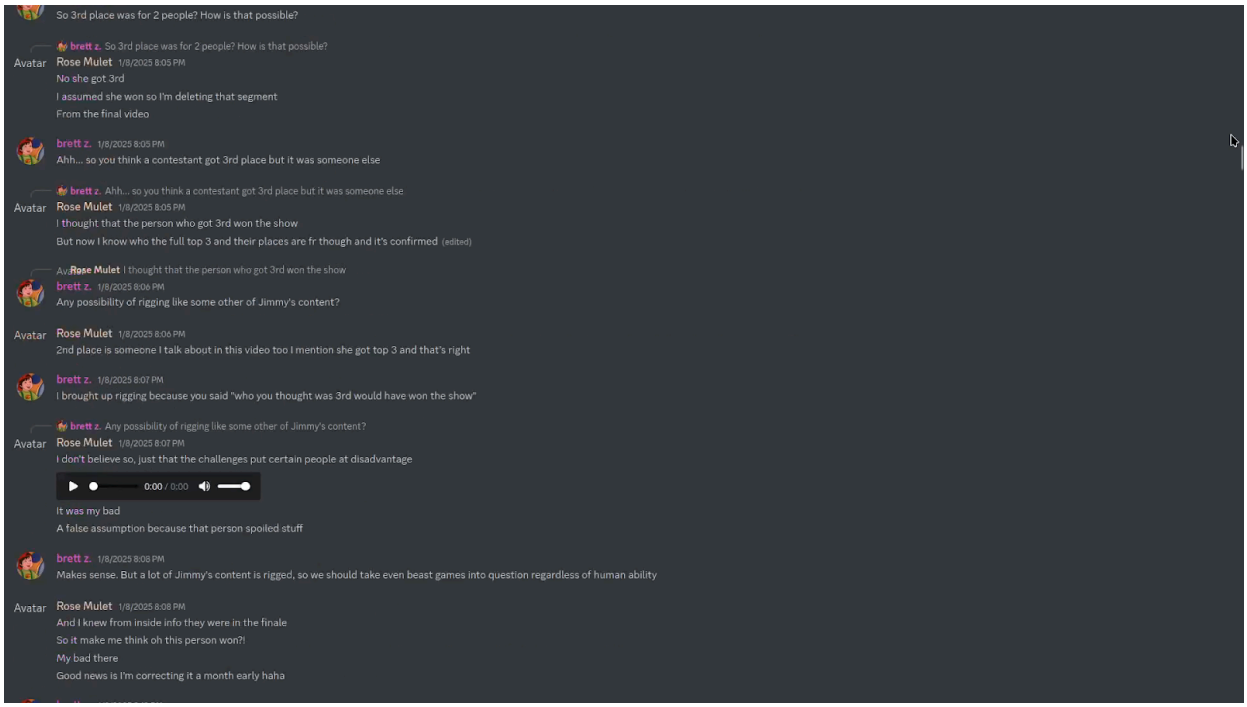

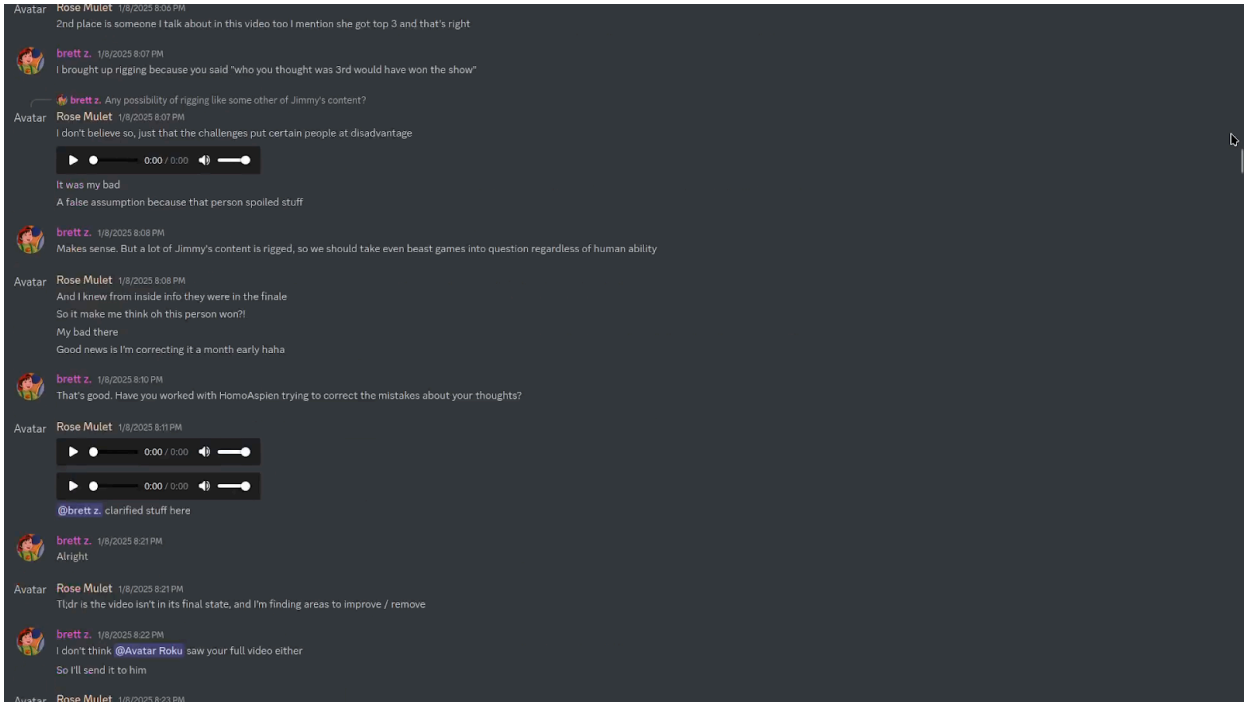

Rose claims to now know the full top 3 of Beast Games. Brett asks if the games were rigged, which Rose denies but says some challenges were disadvantageous to some players. Brett offers to send Rose's unfinished video to his long-time friend Avatar Roku. This guy, according to Brett's Substack, is a close friend to him who's been keeping tabs on the MrBeast allegations.

> • Avatar Roku. Closest guy in contact with me, and has followed allegations from day one.

She also reminds everyone to keep things on the down low in this chat.

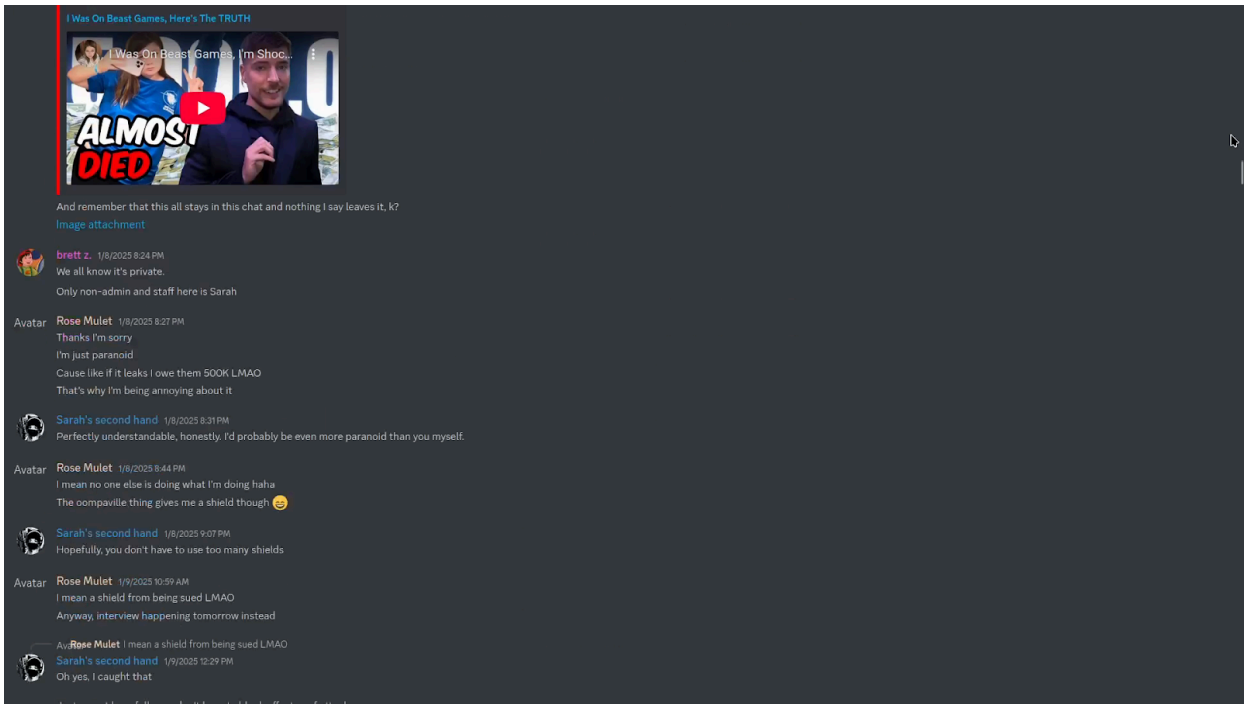

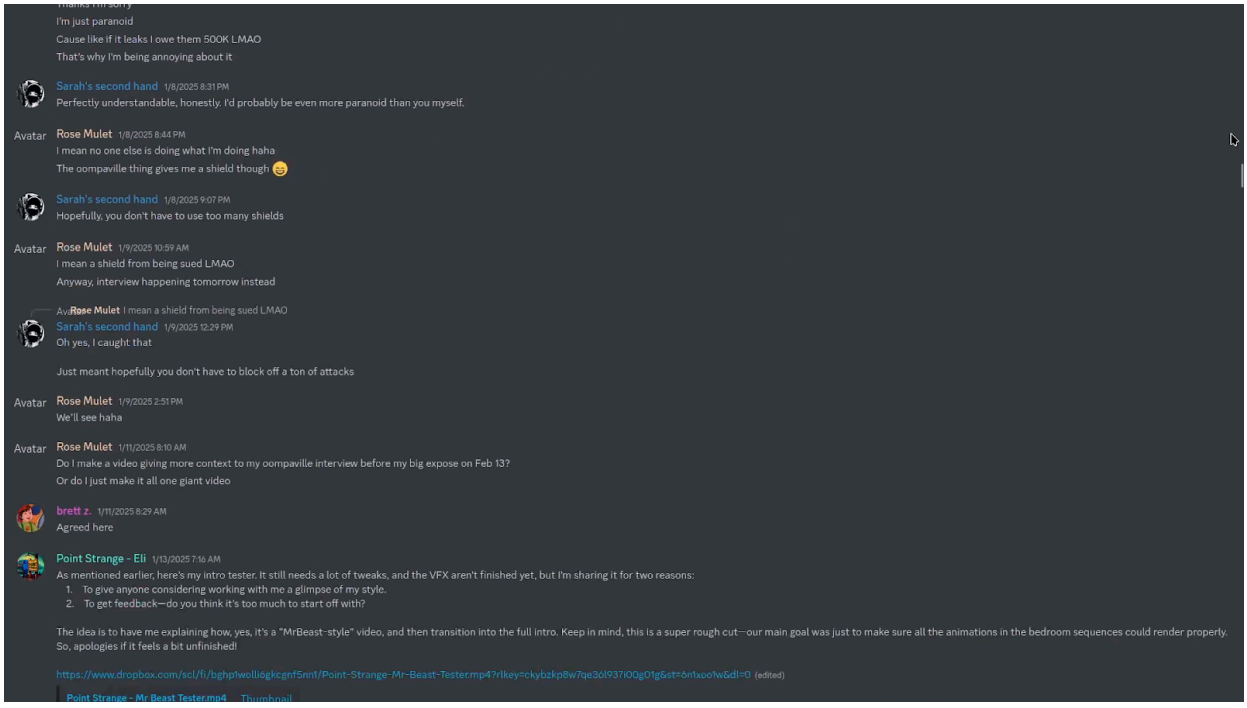

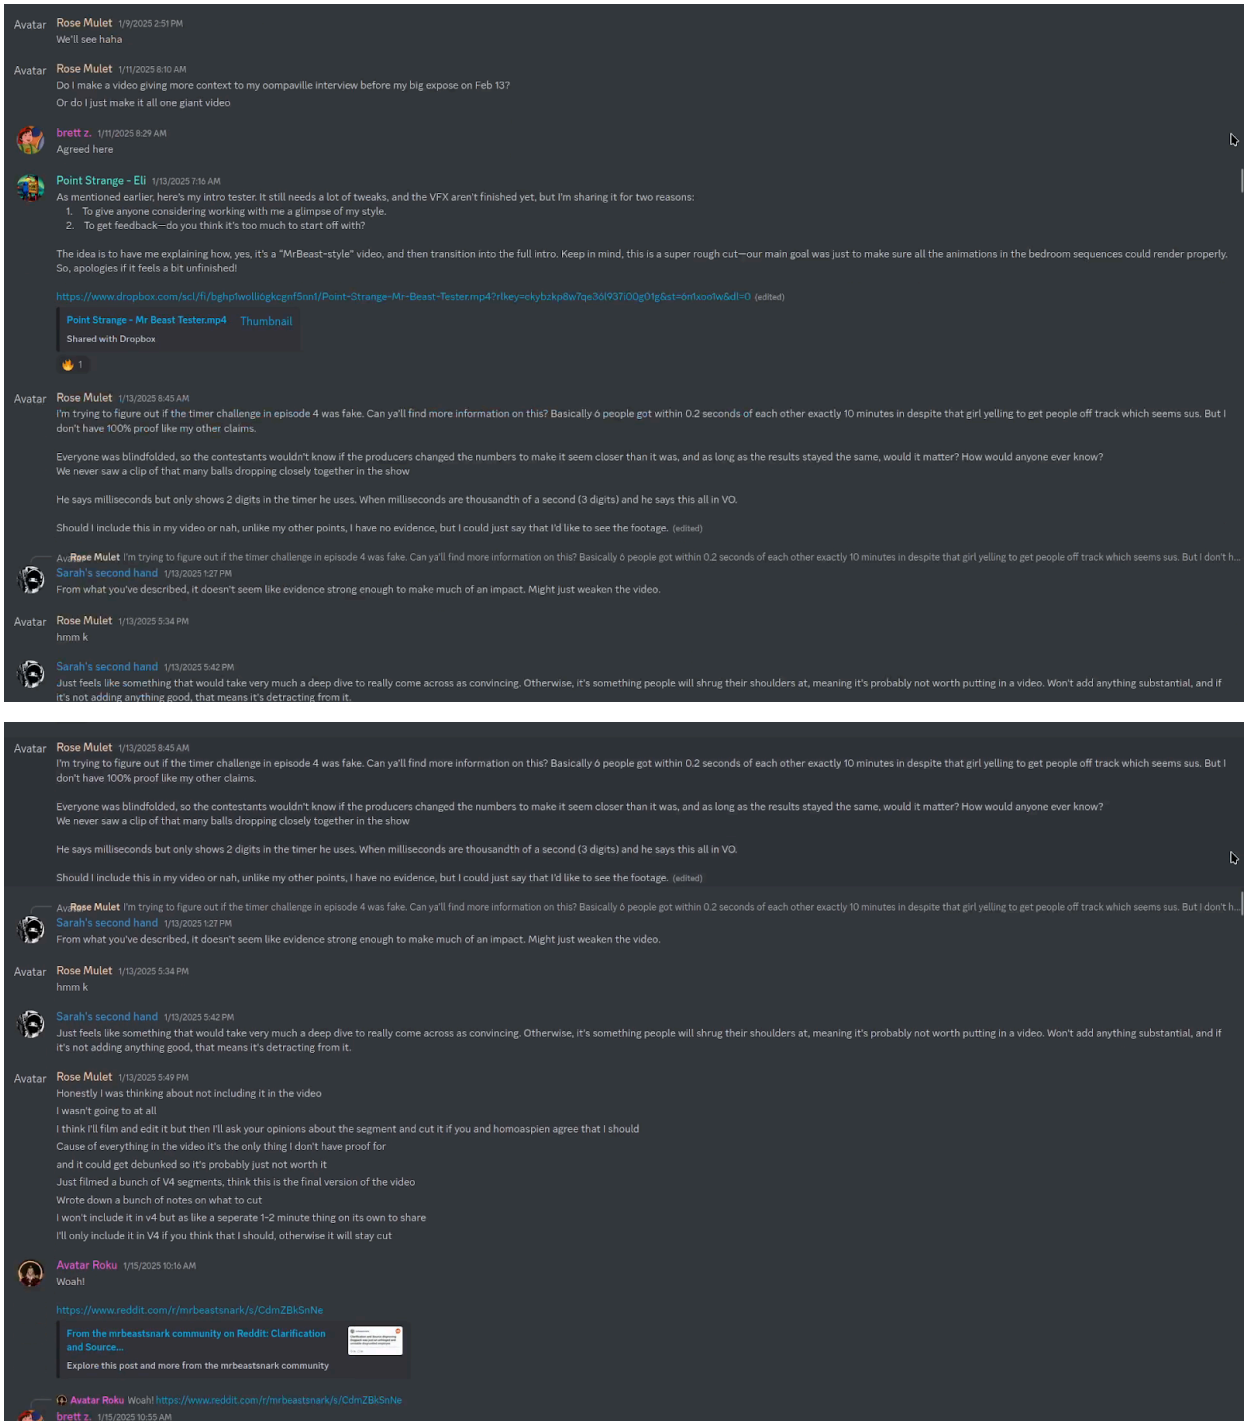

Rose says that shes paranoid because she'll owe MrBeast and his team $500K. Sarah, a member of the server (the only ordinary member of the server who had access to this chat), understands Rose's paranoia and supports her. Rose says that "no one else is doing what [shes] doing” and adds that Oompa interviewing her the next day will give her a shield from any legal disputes. Eli also joins the chat.

Eli also planned to make a video against MrBeast. He said he worked for the BBC and was an editor. I only learned later on he wasn't actually as credible as he made himself out to be. Rose asks if anyone can find out if the timer in Beast Games ep. 4 was faked. Sarah tells her it's not worth putting in her video if she doesn't have substantial evidence to back it up.

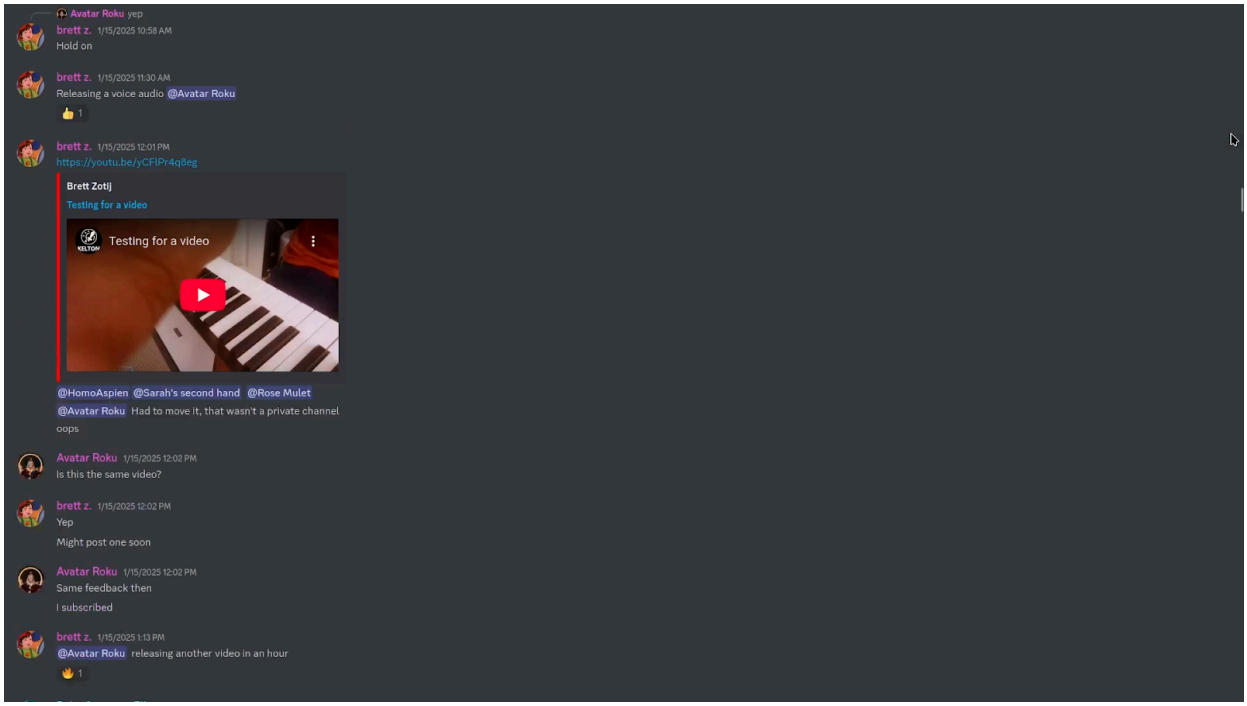

Avatar Roku links a post from r/mrbeastsnark, with Brett also linking a video from Noscope, another former MrBeast employee. Snow was present in Noscope's Discord server from early September to late April.

Brett often likes to try and get into contact with anybody notable that he can who can promote his projects. He also posts a video with his voice in it.

Brett says he'll release another video in an hour. Eli asks if anyone knows how to reach out for comments at the MrBeast company. He asks Rose for her opinion on being included in a "small skit" about how contestants were treated both in Beast videos and in Beast Games. He hopes to get Jake Weddle involved in his video, to which Edna jumps in and says Rose might be able to help. Eli assumes Rose is on good terms with Jake, but Edna talks about himself being on bad terms with him for reasons he didn't share (that we now know is because of Lex). He offers Eli to DM Jake on Reddit to get his attention. Brett posts another video and Rose finalizes hers.

Rose says in response to Eli that Jake didn't respond to her most recent email but he was nice the first time he responded. She says her video will be "releasing on February 13th or whenever Oompaville drops his video". She also says to everyone else to not release anything with “her info” until after her video is posted. She hopes for Oompa to not go too hard on her in his interview, but tells everyone else to spread the info that there will be an interview. She shares the (presumably) finalized video.

Interviewing contestants
I don't think he's gonna go too hard
But we'll see haha
But obviously that info isn't public so you can't tell anyone
That stays here
It's kinda why I'm rushing V4 out
So that I have it ready to go
If anyone thinks they can improve the video with edits and stuff go for it Especially the intro part cause it's so vital, or for spots that seem empty even though I cut a bunch of stuff out even compared to V3
Got rid of a ton of empty space
I'm really proud of this video

Edna brings up that Steven Asarch (a journalist who was involved in covering the Ava story) had contacted the Beast team before and could help Eli with his problem. Steven Asarch is invited to the server not long after and is given access to this channel. Everyone else explains what the channel is about. Edna tells Brett that the punishment for leaking info from the channel should be an instant ban as some of the information could cause legal issues if it got out. Eli offers to invite his dad, who he claims is a solicitor, to see if he can set up something NDA-like for the channel. Rose also asks if anyone could assist with making a thumbnail.

9:55 AM Y'all are the first to see this, so please give me advice

This is where I first was given access to the secret lab channel. Brett asks Edna for permission to advertise the server, which he approves. I explained that people were most likely going to join and do gay ops to get information. Edna also corroborates this, saying that Jimmy has hired PI's to spy on his whistleblowers in the past.

The name Gary Pastor is mentioned as someone being sent to spy on Jake and Lex once at a hotel.

While there's no verified evidence to confirm this (no information available that I can access), Gary Pastor remains an interesting figure. According to his LinkedIn (A1), he is a retired U.S. Marine, former armed security officer (NC), served four years as a Greenville police officer, two years as lead investigator at a personal injury law firm, and has over 20 years of experience as President of Private Eyes, Inc. What is Private Eyes, Inc. (Prieyes)? Founded in 1999 by Gary Pastor, the company is a licensed private investigation firm operating in North Carolina and other states. Their services span criminal defense investigations, surveillance, background checks, and other forms of private-sector investigative work. HomoAspein claimed the MrBeast company uses the services of Gary Pastor/Private Eyes but is there any evidence to support this? Dogpack404 and Rosanna made similar claims about being followed by PIs. In DMs I obtained, Eli stated Jimmy hired no private investigators based on his research though Eli is not a reliable source. Ultimately, the claims contradict each other, and without hard evidence, they remain speculation though it is possible there is merit to these claims if evidence is presented.

Eli 2/4/25, 9:21 AM

I have the option of hiring a PI, I'll have to pay for it myself but I feel like it might be worth it to get an edge.. thoughts?

[redacted] 2/4/25, 9:55 AM

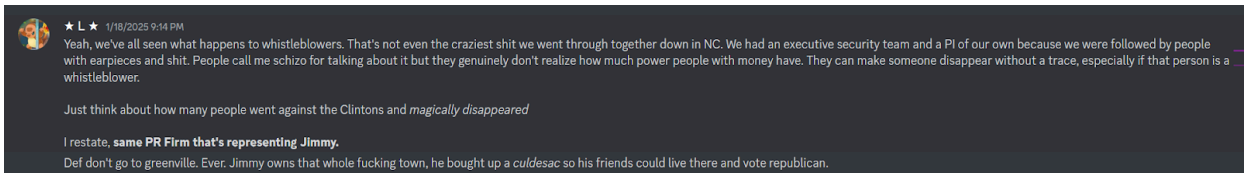

Good on paper but not in practicality. He knows pretty much every PI in eastern North Carolina so you'd have to shell out big bucks to find one far enough away that's not connected to him and is willing to travel and spend time in Greenville without catching the attention of the PIs in his circle

Nah see I've checked this. Jimmy 100% does not have one. I spoke to a contractor that had to suggest getting one to him. In short, It appears he's not as crafty as every thinks. He's been given too much credit. The contractor described them as disorganised with Jimmy arrogant.

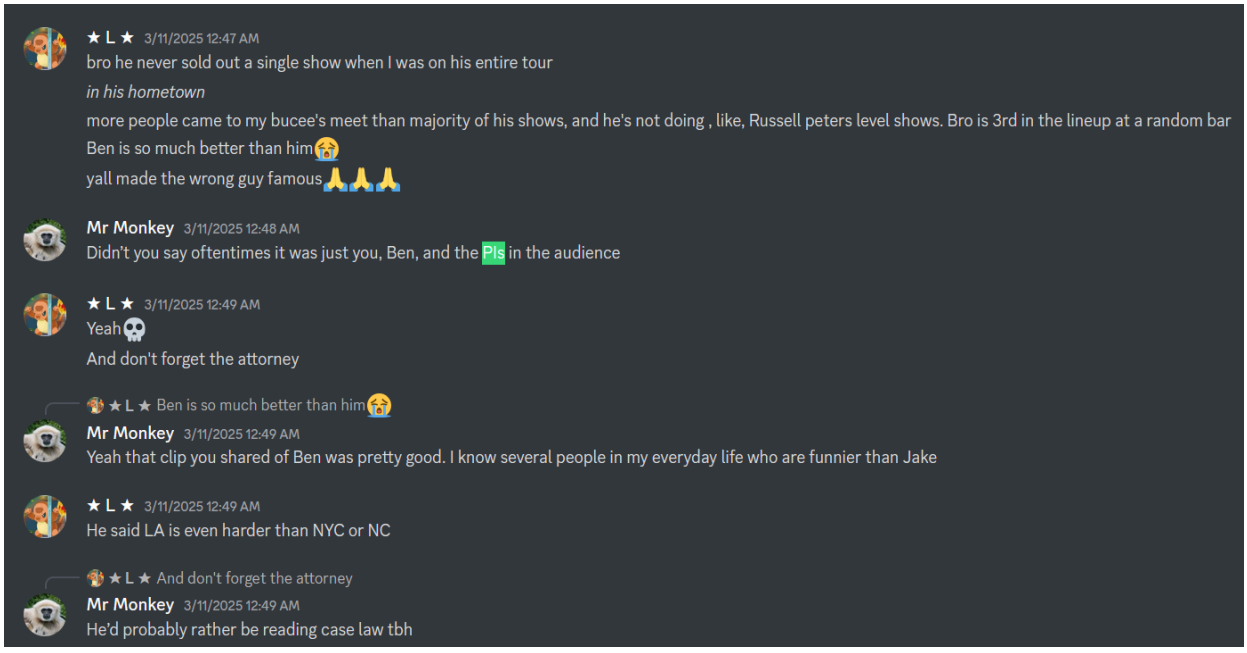

What can be confirmed is the group's persistent paranoia about insider threats and private investigators. In another group chat we accessed, PIs were mentioned again specifically regarding a man who calls himself Dave Dodge. Who is David Dodge? David Dodge similarly to Gary Pastor works at a high level position at Private Eyes, Inc. His role is Director of Operations and would join Private Eyes at around July 2021. To be clear, I am not trying to dismiss Lex's experiences or downplay her genuine beliefs or whatever evidence she may or may not have regarding PIs and I wouldn't call her crazy either for believing that.

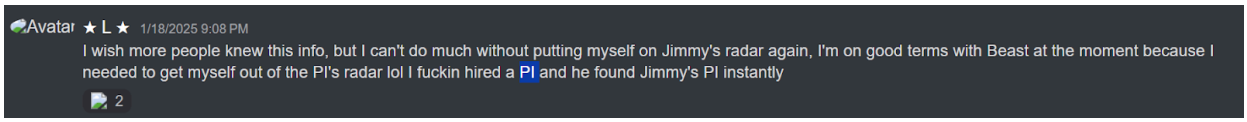

The idea of private investigators following someone for weeks to gather damaging information and discredit them is genuinely unsettling. Given my own experiences with some questionable individuals, I can empathize with that fear. However, in this particular case, there still hasn't been solid evidence presented to support those claims—though the concern itself is certainly valid.

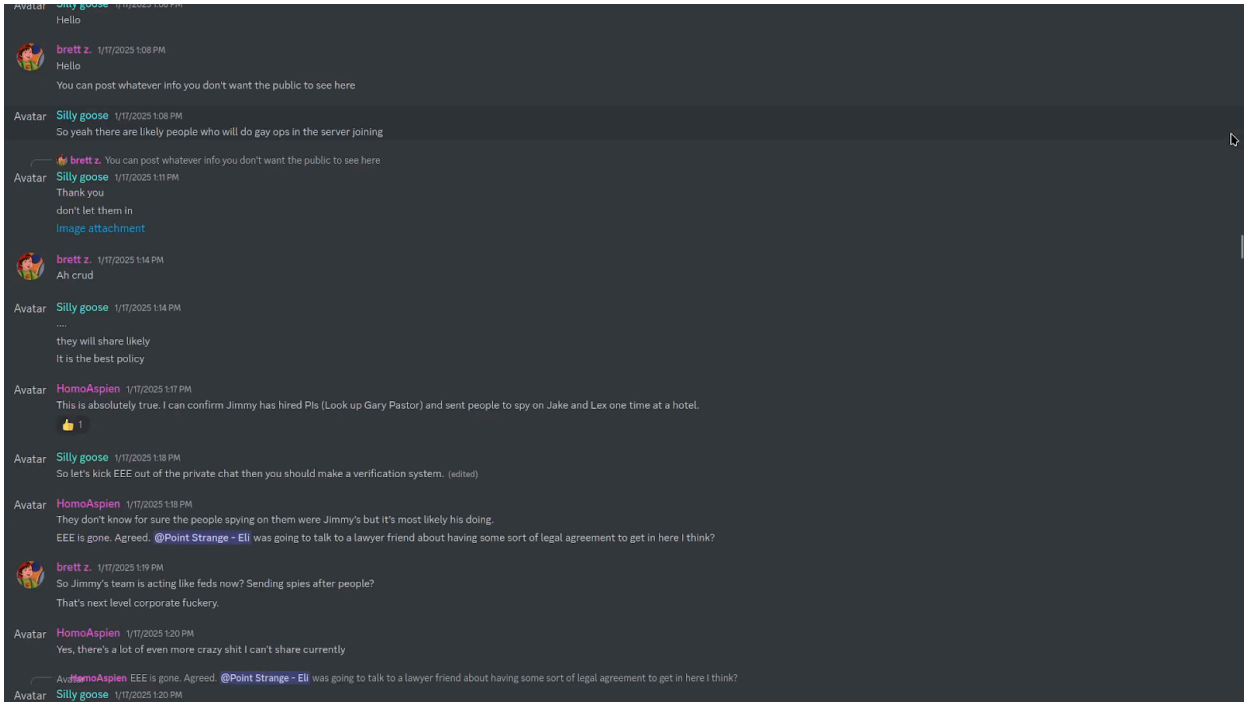

Lex also made another interesting claim that no one would go to Jake's shows outside of an attorney, Ben and PIs. While paranoia about PIs is commonplace throughout the group's interaction with others, gay opers were another big fear.

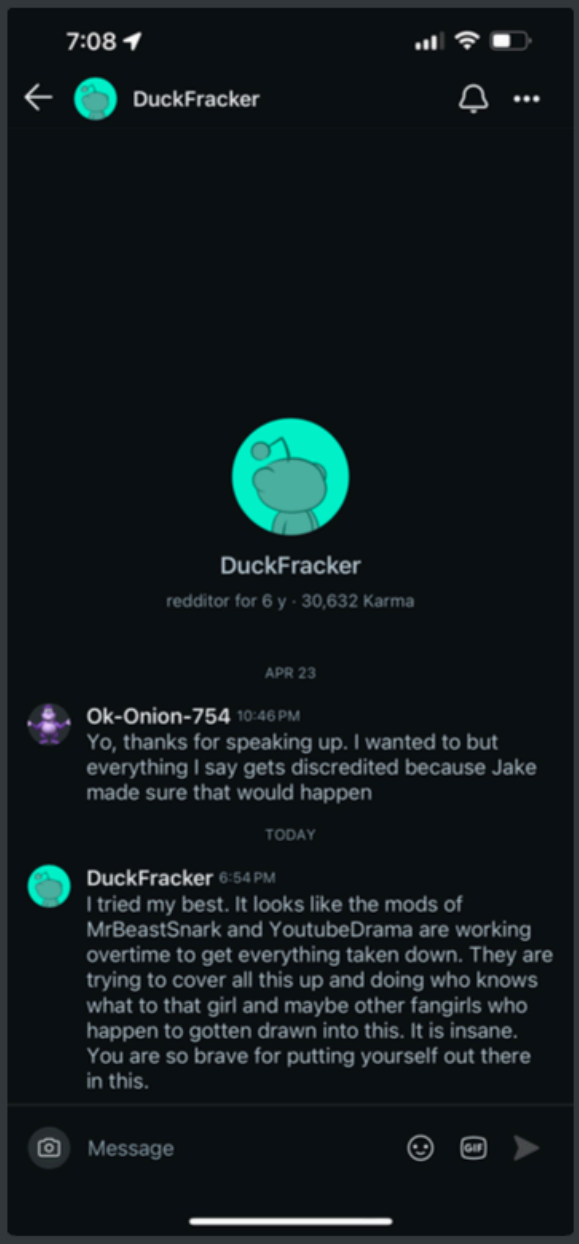

We agreed on kicking out possible gay opers from the secret chat and Edna spoke about knowing a lot regarding Jimmy's team that he is unable to share in that moment. The person we kicked out went by EEE, who Brett speculated was DuckFracker (a seemingly pro-MrBeast redditor who was banned off of the snark subreddit).

It should be noted that DuckFracker was briefly in contact with Lex and showed his full support of her.

★ L ★ 4/27/2025 10:08 PM

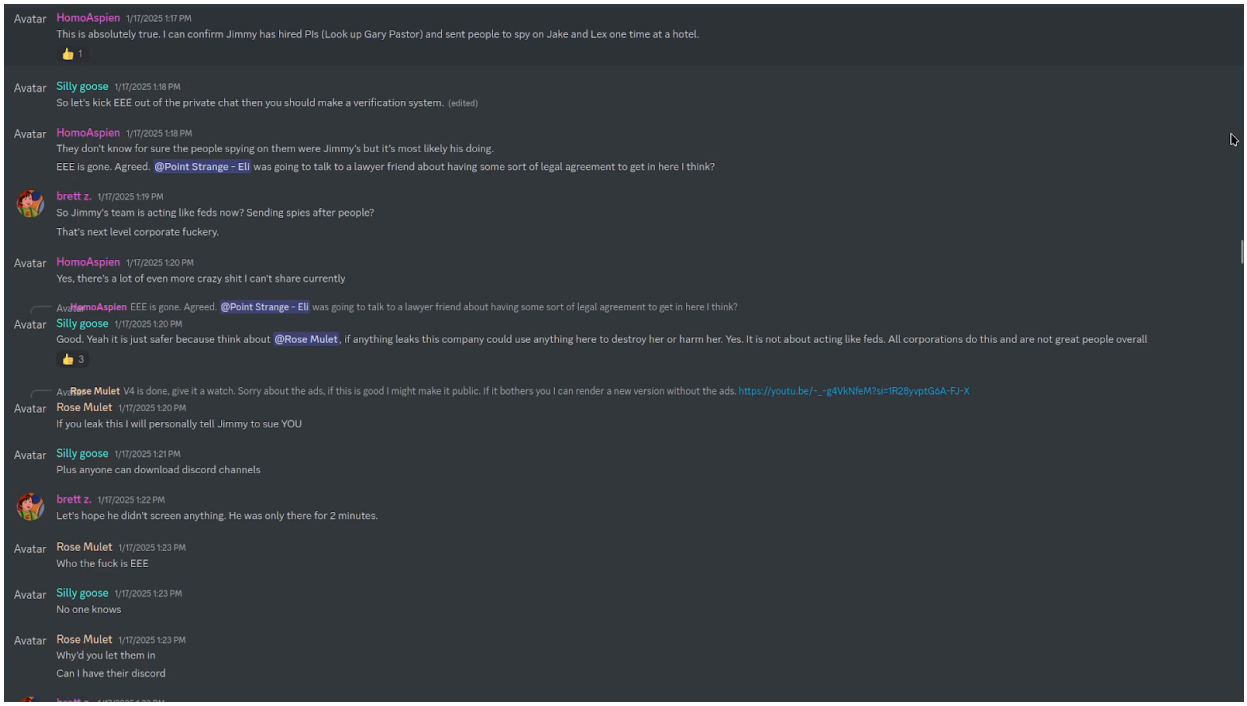

@Mr Monkey awe

We should make a Reddit gc with them

Don't go into full disclosure mode tho

But we should recruit the other people who are being outcast

Edna explains that DuckFracker was banned from the subreddit the day before by the head mod, Downtown_Station. He mentions another pro-MrBeast user who was a contestant by the name of u/was-actually-there. Rose also continues to finalize her video. She plans to send it to CamNuggets (though is reluctant) on the condition he obviously doesn't leak it. Brett discusses having a strict verification system for anyone who wants access to the secret lab chat. Eli reports back on what he said earlier about setting up something NDA-like for the chat, and was told it's not possible. I offered that a bot could be invited that would purge messages every couple of hours to deter anyone trying to dig for info, but Brett disagreed, saying it could get rid of "relevant postings"

Edna suggests people offer socials and a T&C page for access to the secret chat instead. I told Brett he could make a channel for important resources and all the sensitive info in a secret channel, and only trusted members could access it. Eli agreed with me, and Edna suggested that categories for different types of information could be made as well. I shared a secure messaging app I use. Rose got back to us, saying she was kicked out of the Beast Games contestant group chat, a GC I personally wanted the logs to for evidence collection.

I asked if Steven Asarch was the one who got her to download those logs, but I was wrong, which shocked me. Steven only hyped her up and listened to her talk all day, and didn't push her to do something important like this (especially absurd considering he's a journalist). I knew evidence would be lost if she didn't save those chats fast, but I tried to be nice. Rose said that Oompa had seen the contestant group chat and I asked her to send me the logs she had and her Discord chats with Oompa. Rose agrees to send me the screenshots, hoping I don't plan to share them to anyone else. Rose says that Oompa claimed to only be interviewing one or two other contestants, but they were being told to say good things about the show in advance to Oompa. Rose also boasts about being "the next DogPack" a lot.

Rose says that one of the people in the messages she shared was part of Keemstar's video talking positively about Beast Games. I noted that Keem doesn't exactly defend Jimmy for the money because he's already rich, but the two are friends and as such will try to defend each other. I offered to help Rose share her story with an acquaintance from the Farms and offered feedback. I tried to convince Rose to download the full logs of the contestant group chat, as anyone could easily try to slander her or say she's hiding things due to not having the full conversation. Rose doesn't seem to believe this is as serious as it is as she says "nothing is out of context so idk what they could try to say to attack me". I also explained people weren't focusing on this because most big Youtubers work under Night Media, a company with business ties to the MrBeast company.

Rose claims to be connected to dramatubers, expecting it to be massively covered. As of writing her video has 13K views on Youtube. She says she doesn't know how much to trust Oompa but will leak the full interview with him if he tries to slander her. I sent her a link to the Human Media group in response to her asking about talent agencies and also commented on her video more.

All good :)

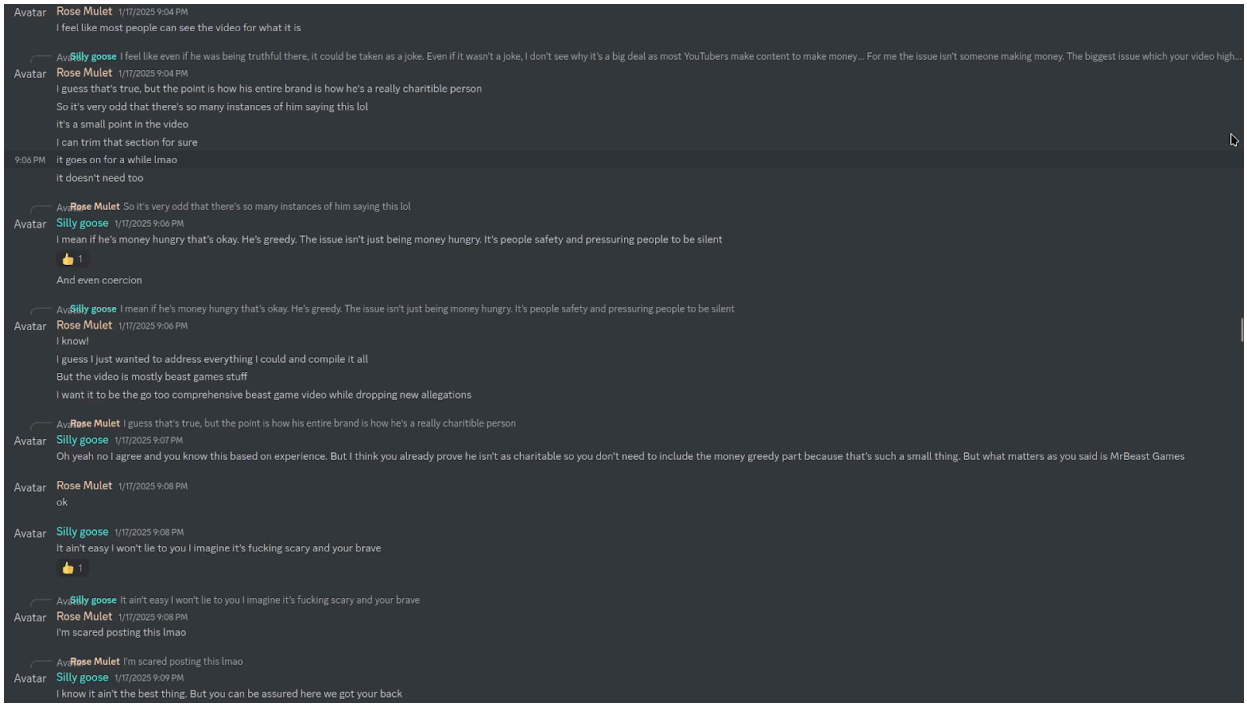

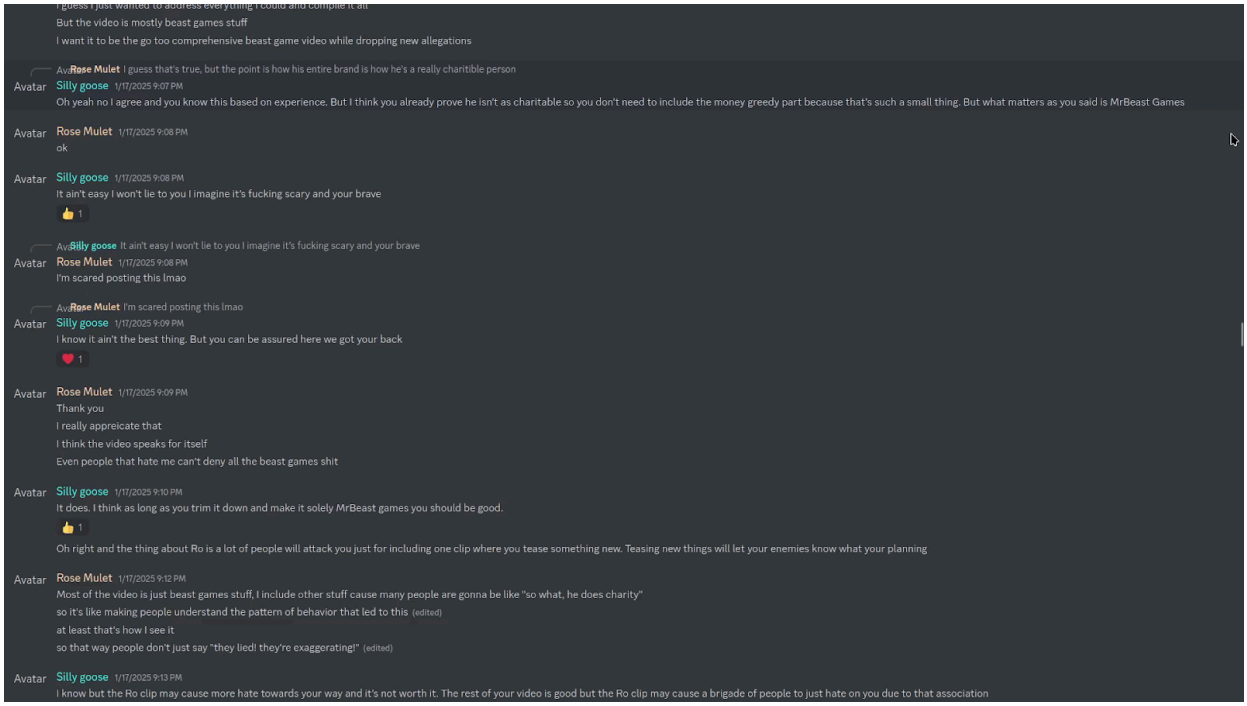

I knew of Rose's online controversies regarding her what I perceived as backstabbing Bradtaste at the time (did not know her weird rape comment history), but I tried to play things cool to keep her talking. And plus, why did Brett, Edna and Lex keep around someone like this in their server anyway? I asked what Rose planned to do if people tried to bring up her past, to which she responded that the controversial things shes said were a byproduct of her being groomed when she was a teenager. I tried to assure Rose, and she said that nobody would be able to defend the Beast Games issues after her video, even those who didn't like her.

I originally had the "I only ever did this for money" clips at the end so interesting that the stuff you take issue with is all stuff I kinda just added on at the end haha (edited) it's nothing like too major. I think if you just do what you need and stick on point you'll be okay. After the video, I did search your name as your name did seem a bit familiar and yeah. Now I'm not saying I don't believe you. I just wanna be careful a bit but most people may start criticizing you due to your past online activities. Not to say I'm perfect. I am no angel by any means

But if people start bringing up your past, what do you plan to respond with?
Rose Mulet 1/17/2025 9:02 PM can you elaborate though about why you think the "doing it for money" clips are out of context?
I can VC and talk about that and it's a long story. I was groomed and it led me to devolp weird mindsets and I tweeted weird shit when I was younger
I know people like nicholas deorio hate me and will critize the video it's whatever

I feel like even if he was being truthful there, it could be taken as a joke. Even if it wasn't a joke, I don't see why it's a big deal as most YouTubers make content to make money... For me the issue isn't someone making money. The biggest issue which your video highlights is unethical practices and just deception and media manipulation (edited)

Silly goose 1/17/2025 9:09 PM
I know it ain't the best thing. But you can be assured here we got your back

I told Rose to remove the Ro clip as people would hate on her due to that association. Rose said she initially didn't want to include anything related to the previous main 3 MrBeast whistleblowers, and wasn't aware of Rosanna covering the rope situation (where a contestant was being strangled by the rope in the tug of war game) up until a few days ago. I didn't want her to face the same backlash DogPack did for his mistakes so I gave her some honest advice. I do talk some shit about DogPack here but I don't really feel as strongly about it as I seemed to be in these logs.

Even people that hate me can't deny all the beast games shit

Avatar Silly goose 1/17/2025 9:10 PM
It does. I think as long as you trim it down and make it solely MrBeast games you should be good.
👍 1
Oh right and the thing about Ro is a lot of people will attack you just for including one clip where you tease something new. Teasing new things will let your enemies know what your planning

Avatar Rose Mulet 1/17/2025 9:12 PM
Most of the video is just beast games stuff, I include other stuff cause many people are gonna be like "so what, he does charity" so it's like making people understand the pattern of behavior that led to this (edited) at least that's how I see it so that way people don't just say "they lied! they're exaggerating!" (edited)

Avatar Silly goose 1/17/2025 9:13 PM
I know but the Ro clip may cause more hate towards your way and it's not worth it. The rest of your video is good but the Ro clip may cause a brigade of people to just hate on you due to that association and by that point they watched the whole video so I don't see how it'd discredit it but I'm not super attached to that being there or anything Kinda like "stay tuned! more is coming" keep people on their toes idk but yeah I originally didn't wanna put anything jake weddle or rosanna or dogpack at all in it (edited) so I get it

I didn't even know rosanna covered the rope stuff until days ago the other versions of the video didn't include that but I'm just like the more people that back me up the better so I found every possible clip in existence lmaoooo (edited) made a lot of mistakes too, but hey, the more people that give me advice, the less mistakes I'll make lmao

Avatar Silly goose 1/17/2025 9:20 PM
It will. I will help prepare for any possible outcome as well. Speaking of outcomes, if there is a chance the video gets leaked the original unedited one then I think it's best if you want you should make the last tiny bit going over the unedited parts and deconstructing them then you have a chance to do it before your critics
And be your own critic and get ahead
See two steps ahead

Avatar Rose Mulet 1/17/2025 9:21 PM
Oh absolutely
I'm already preparing for how to respond haha

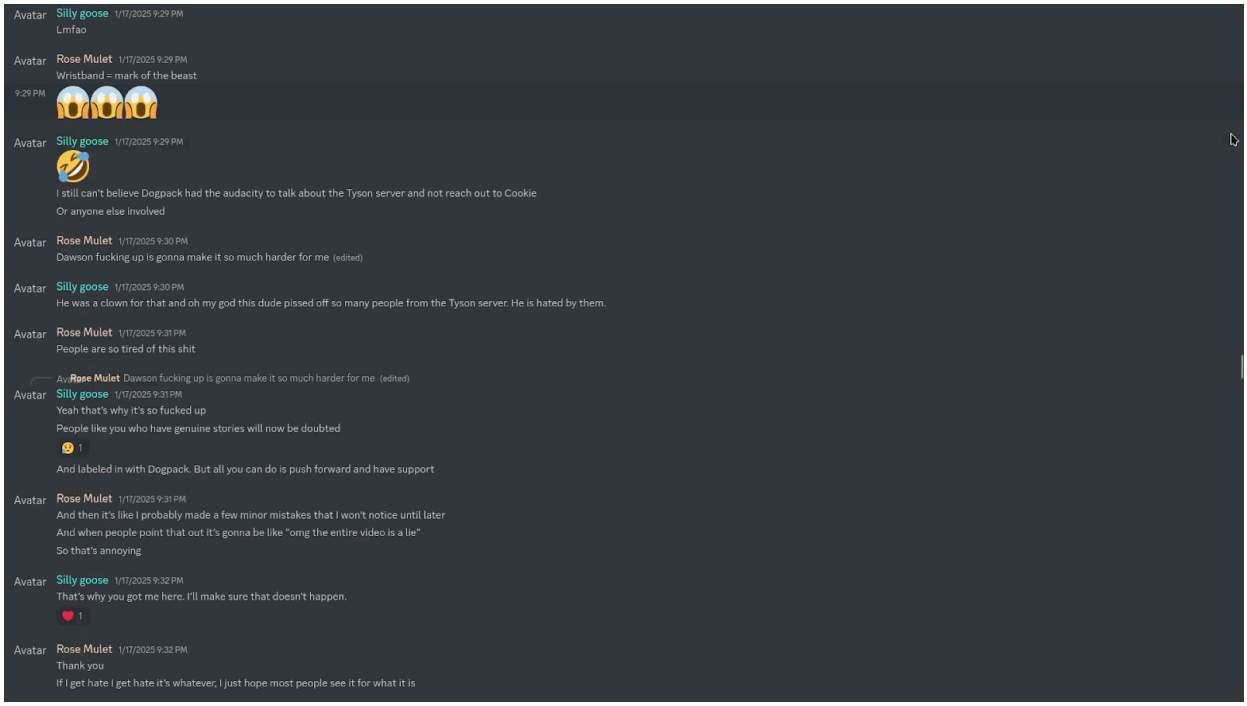

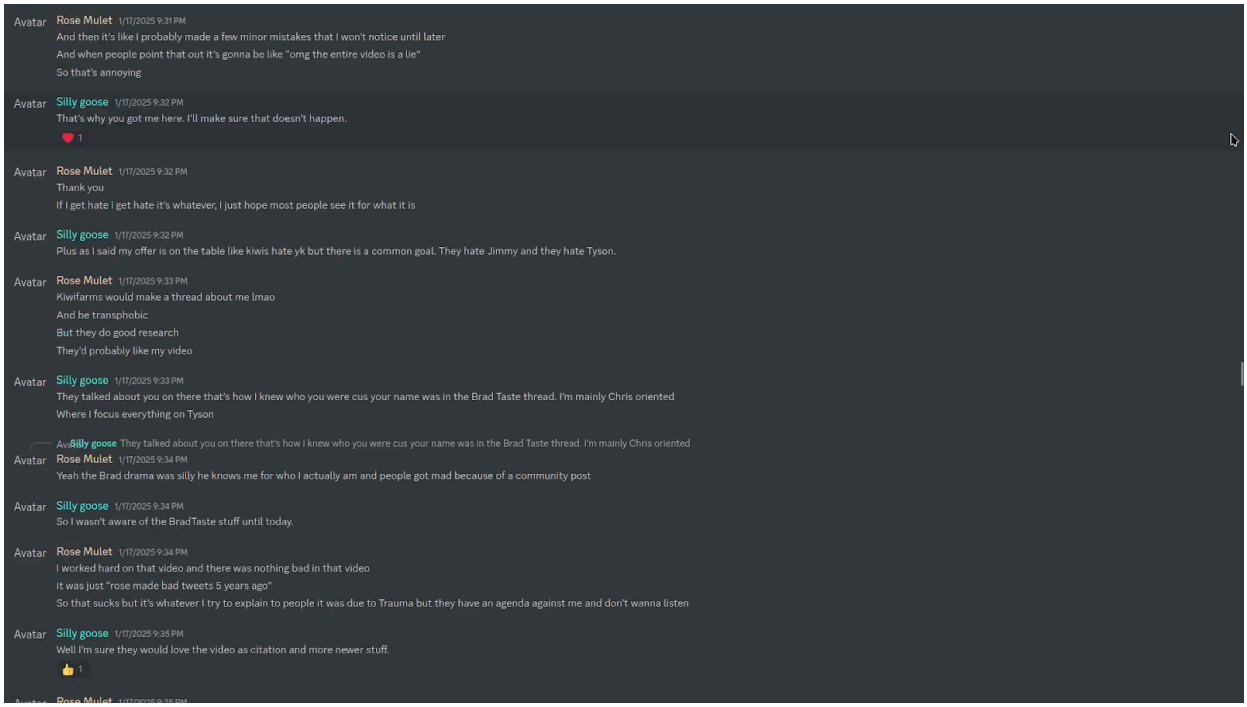

I give her more feedback and she makes a joke about the whole deleted antichrist segment from the DogPack video. I didn't like his mishandled story about Ava because it meant victims with actual stories would be pushed aside and made into a mockery (my recent actions also have done more damage). Rose says that kiwis would make threads of her and be transphobic, which is true. I told her that's how I knew who she was: discussion on the Farms about her (again did not know about her full antics).

I said I wasn't aware of the BradTaste drama until that day. I told her to just ignore the youtubers who looked to make fun of her and not to worry. I also informed her about ways the drama youtubers could try and discredit her so she would be aware. I mention MamaMax in these logs as well; back then I did gay ops to get info on him/his server a year ago.

Access here to learn more

I learned that Rose had also talked to Chud Logic and Turkey Tom before (also here's me admitting to her I do, in fact, say slurs).

But they do good research
They'd probably like my video

Avatar Silly goose 1/17/2025 9:33 PM

👍 1
You won't have much to gain
All you can do is post what you need and hopefully more people come out with their stories

Avatar Rose Mulet 1/17/2025 9:39 PM

Turkey Tom and Nicholas deorio even mentioned in a video that I was in beast games

Avatar Silly goose 1/17/2025 9:40 PM
Ehhhh Lerix I'm kinda cool with and he likes me due to me helping him get the MamaMax leaks where I exposed Max but people talk shit online don't let it get to you. It's just banter. You'll be fine

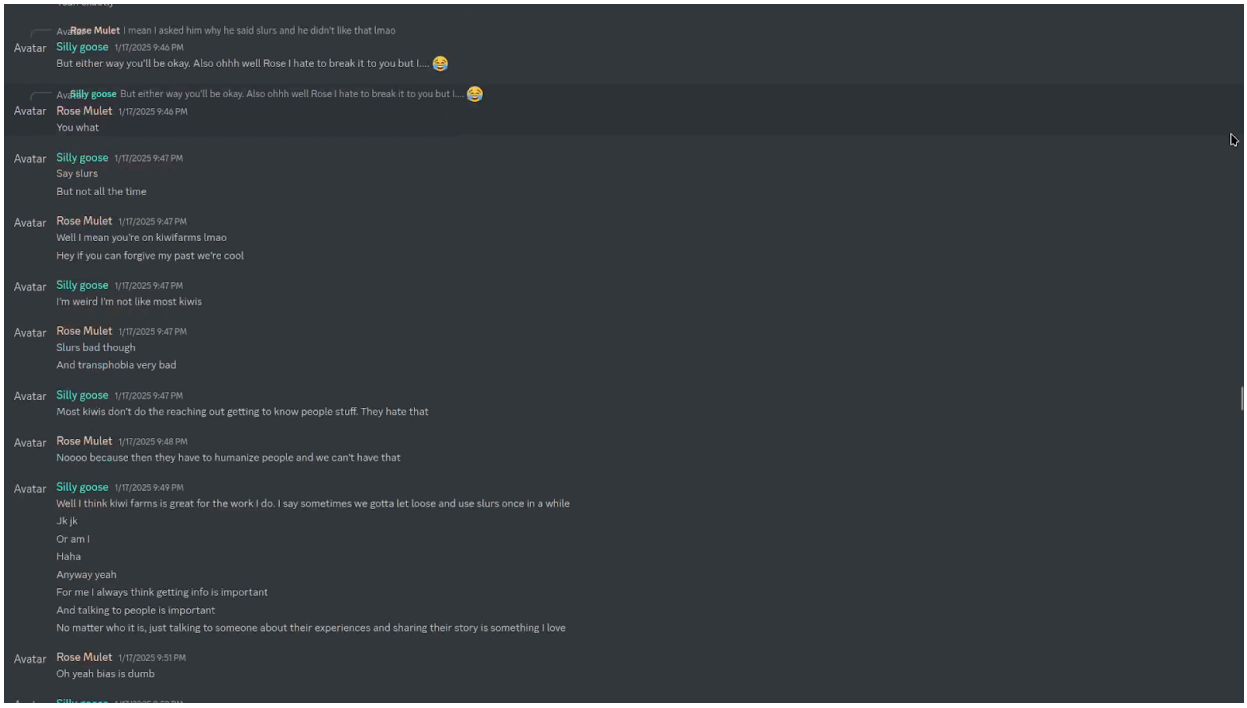

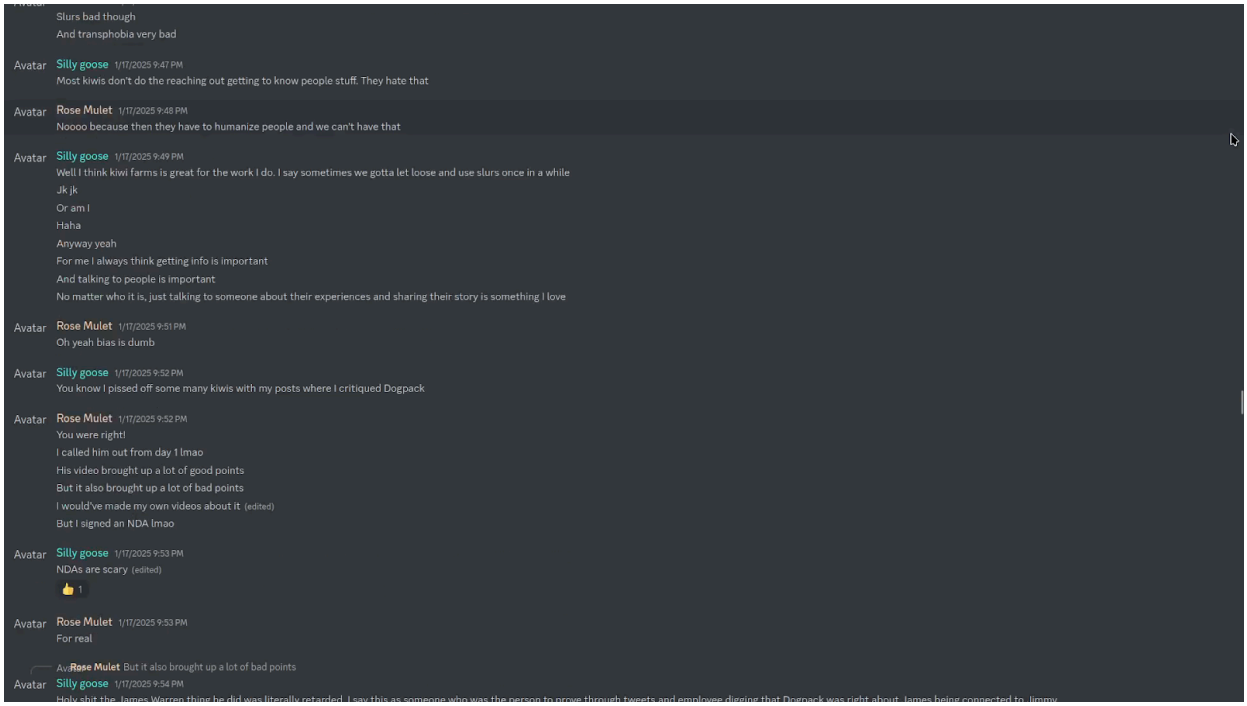

Rose said that as long as I could forgive her past, she could forgive mine as well. I told her that most kiwis don't usually do the same things I do and I value getting info no matter from what side. I also brought up the time I got a lot of kiwis mad from a post I made on Dogpack, to which Rose agreed with me and said she disagreed with him from the start but didn't make a video about it because of the NDA she signed.

We both agreed that the 3rd video was bad and I also told her about me giving commentary ammo to use against Dogpack which I'm not too proud of myself for now. I'm not sure if Rose was being truthful here about disliking him though, because there are many other instances where it seems otherwise.

Slurs bad though
And transphobia very bad

Avatar Silly goose 1/17/2025 9:47 PM

She asked my opinion on Steven, to which I gave a neutral answer. I also told her some of my findings on Dawson that I dug into for a thread that I never made. I talked about feeling guilty for indirectly giving Nicholas DeOrio information that he could use to hurt Dogpack (public info regarding Dawson and some millionaire he hung out with, a nothing burger). I called this my only “deal with the devil” via proxy (Beckett aka Cope and Seethe). I also explained how DeOrio knew more than others due to being connected with Keemstar and other things regarding Beckett, Steven and Cookie. Steven also starts chatting again, and Rose makes him promise to not leak anything out of the blue. He was confused about why he was being talked about, but I explained it to him.

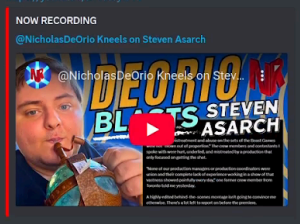

@MattPaulsonSD Yup, one of those businesses was copying Unilingo but he failed at making it work. Incredibly bad business practices

Ok so I can chime in on this. Jimmy created CreatorGlobal, his own dubbing firm. And took Fabrod's Unilingo staff as a result.
Farbod is going to be coming forward in the near future in a couple of spots about it. Can't say much beyond that right now.

One thing I know regarding this journalist is he does care. Most aren't covering Jimmy. He has so he cares genuinely and he will handle things with whatever care they need

I told Rose I probably wasn't the best person to come to for legal advice. She said she just needed a support system. I also bring up Discounr Milk (a pedo mod who was in the Ava server) to which Edna brings up the time he downloaded MrBeast's state filing LLC and found info in it which I requested to see. He also said his video was being delayed due to the TikTok ban (Capcut shares the same parent company as TikTok, and that was his editing software). Near the end of these screenshots Brett would tell his friend about this and brings up Jake now being in the server.

Not even 25 minutes later, the argument would break out between Jake, Snow and Lex. Brett and Edna would talk about how r/youtubedrama was hiding the truth and Edna guessed that he was going to be banned from there soon for associating with Lex. Edna asked for permission for Lex to be allowed in the secret lab which she was added to and apologized for the situation. Lex also requests for Snow to be removed from the server. She says Jake was trying to DM Rose and talks about the argument that happened in the main chat.

Lex makes a number of claims about Jake, and another member, Nova, links a podcast Jake was on where he talks about his father and two twitter accounts, which Edna says is most likely commentary fans roleplaying.

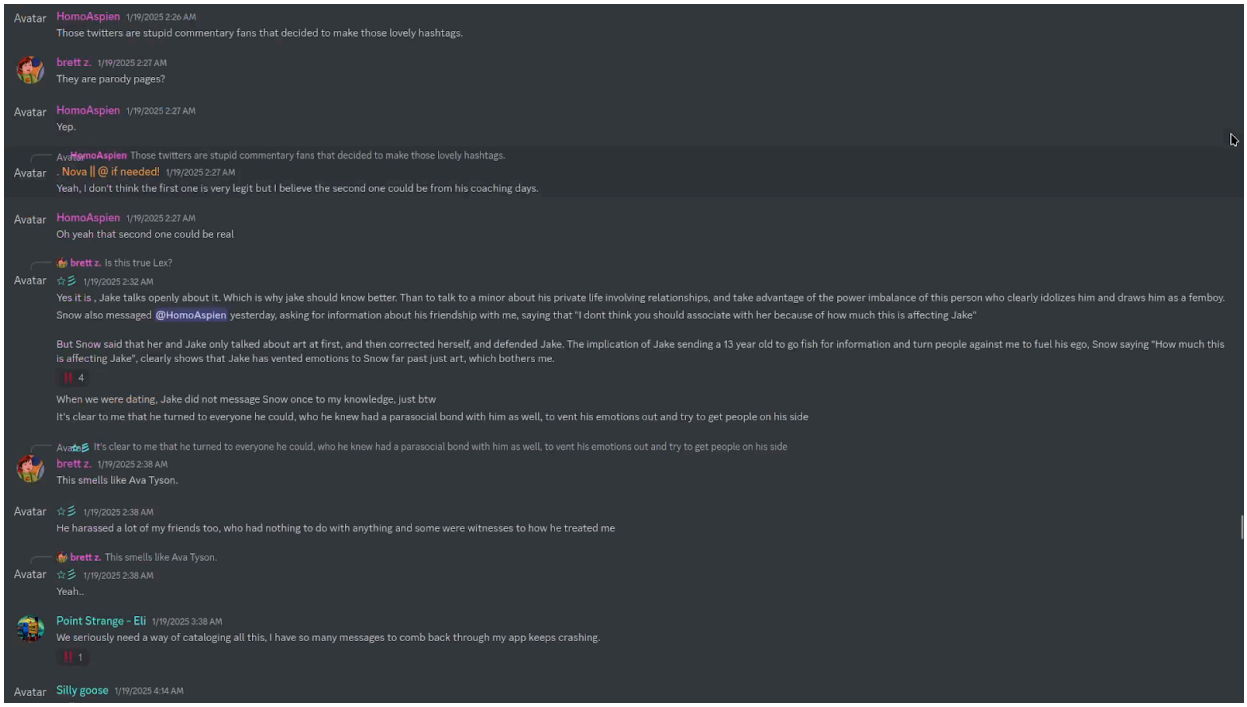

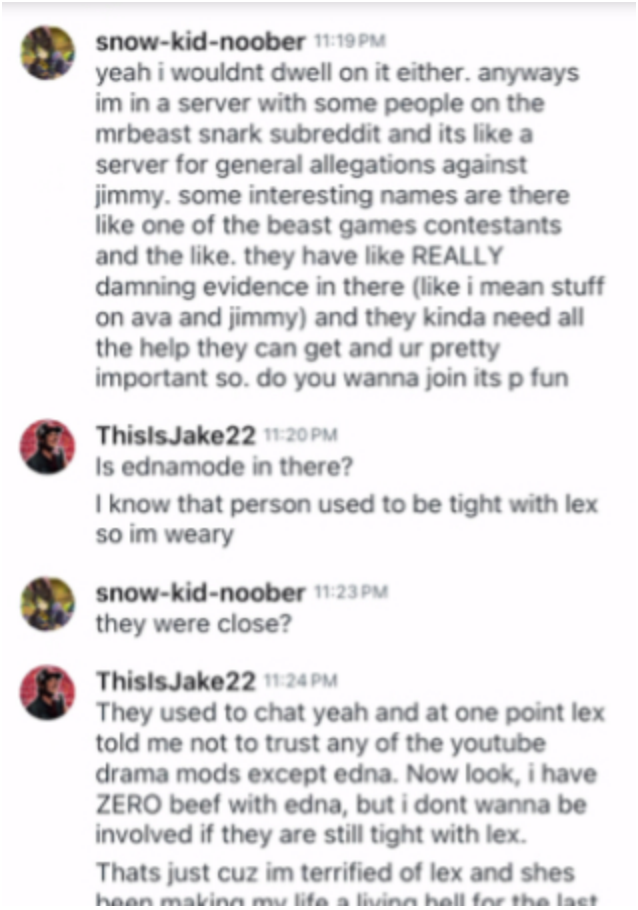

This is false as we can directly confirm this account is indeed Nathan Weddle.

<provide evidence here>

Lex goes on a rant about Jake, accusing him of exploiting a power imbalance with someone who clearly idolizes him and even “draws him as a femboy” (also a lie according to Snow’s post history) She also alleges that Jake sent Snow to extract information from his critics and manipulate others into turning against her.

These are valid concerns, but Lex (or rather Edna/Homo) seem to be misinterpreting what Snow said. Before Jake was invited, he said he’d refuse to join if Lex was present.

yeah i wouldnt dwell on it either. anyways im in a server with some people on the mrbeast snark subreddit and its like a server for general allegations against jimmy. some interesting names are there like one of the beast games contestants and the like. they have like REALLY damning evidence in there (like i mean stuff on ava and jimmy) and they kinda need all the help they can get and ur pretty important so. do you wanna join its p fun

snow-kid-noober 11:37 PM
kk

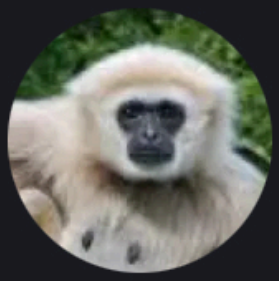

but be careful i suppose

ThisIsJake22 11:38 PM
Oh yeah no. No shit talking lex in the Snow appeared to be looking out for Jake, not acting under his orders as Lex claimed. While interactions between adults and children should not be normalized or acceptable, what is clear is Lex falsely stated that about a kid who was proven to not be sent by Jake. Additionally, her messages with Edna were exaggerated.

Mr Monkey 1/18/25, 11:38 PM
The truth of this situation is a lot more complex than what appears publicly. That's all I can say

Snow asked Edna those questions simply to find out if Lex was on the server not to influence anyone's opinion. Lex's continued hostility toward a teenager is concerning, especially since neither Snow nor anyone else was present to correct the record. As a result, Lex was able to make extreme claims without challenge, and others in #secret-lab enabled it by staying silent. That said, there's room for nuance; Snow did eventually reach out to hear Jake's side of the story.

While talking in the secret lab channel, I made my suspicion of Lex known, which got her irritated. I don't think I should've spoken that way towards Lex unprompted. However, she apparently doesn't care what I think of her but is going on rants about how I know nothing about opsec and I'm not important enough for her to gay op me. Nova commented that my paranoia was unreasonable, to which I responded that everyone's free to trust Lex. I just didn't want to, and I was right not to. This is also applicable towards me as I later downloaded everything therefore just as Lex was not trustworthy in my eyes from the perspective of others I was also not trustworthy.

When we were dating, Jake did not message Snow once to my knowledge, just btw
It's clear to me that he turned to everyone he could, who he knew had a parasocial bond with him as well, to vent his emotions out and try to get people on his side

I asked if anybody knew Lex's past at all, to which nobody responded, and Lex kept up the arguing until she went to sleep. I would apologize for my hostility later, clarifying that I was often careful about anything I shared online. I also shared my thoughts on Jake while Lex continued to criticize me for using Kiwi Farms and not criticizing her ex instead. I said that I'd try to break ties with Snow while encouraging her to break off contact with Jake, be willing to go on a call someday, and offer to take the L if I was wrong about anything. Lex sends a long message about me consuming too much negative content and believing everything I see online in regards to commentary.

Silly goose,

Ngl bro, it's pretty ironic that you're calling other people "malicious" while believing everything you read on kiwifarms, a website literally made for spreading defamatory/inflated drama and personal info about public figures to attempt to "cancel/expose" them, while not being willing to identify yourself online to the people you're judging so harshly and demanding answers from that they don't owe you.

Until you can show your face and your voice and deal with strangers criticizing every little thing about you that they read on some website, you shouldn't be pointing fingers at anyone.
You criticize me harder than the 28 year old guy who is openly talking to a 13 year old online about his trauma to seek sympathy. That's not malicious to you?

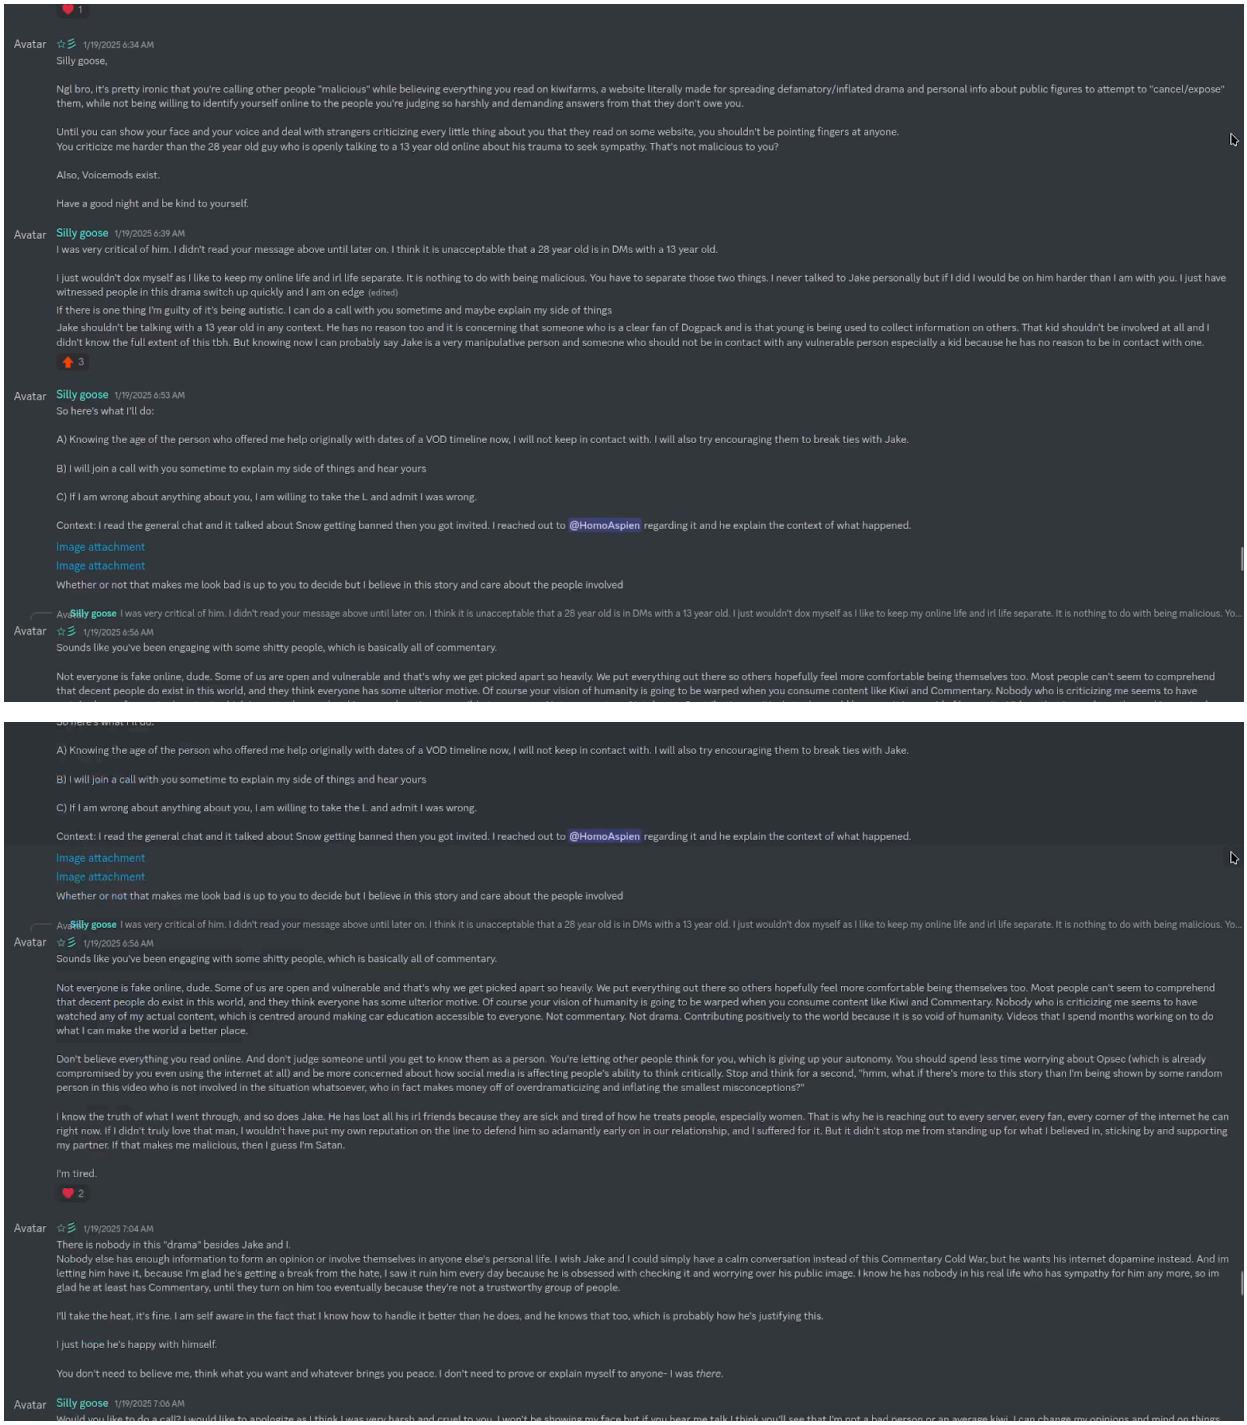

Also, Voicemods exist.

Have a good night and be kind to yourself.

Avatar Silly goose 1/19/2025 6:39 AM
I was very critical of him. I didn't read your message above until later on. I think it is unacceptable that a 28 year old is in DMs with a 13 year old.

I just wouldn't dox myself as I like to keep my online life and irl life separate. It is nothing to do with being malicious. You have to separate those two things. I never talked to Jake personally but if I did I would be on him harder than I am with you. I just have witnessed people in this drama switch up quickly and I am on edge (edited)
If there is one thing I'm guilty of it's being autistic. I can do a call with you sometime and maybe explain my side of things
Jake shouldn't be talking with a 13 year old in any context. He has no reason too and it is concerning that someone who is a clear fan of Dogpack and is that young is being used to collect information on others. That kid shouldn't be involved at all and I didn't know the full extent of this tbh. But knowing now I can probably say Jake is a very manipulative person and someone who should not be in contact with any vulnerable person especially a kid because he has no reason to be in contact with one.

So here's what I'll do:

A) Knowing the age of the person who offered me help originally with dates of a VOD timeline now, I will not keep in contact with. I will also try encouraging them to break ties with Jake.

B) I will join a call with you sometime to explain my side of things and hear yours

C) If I am wrong about anything about you, I am willing to take the L and admit I was wrong.

Context: I read the general chat and it talked about Snow getting banned then you got invited. I reached out to @HomoAspien regarding it and he explain the context of what happened.

Not everyone is fake online, dude. Some of us are open and vulnerable and that's why we get picked apart so heavily. We put everything out there so others hopefully feel more comfortable being themselves too. Most people can't seem to comprehend that decent people do exist in this world, and they think everyone has some ulterior motive. Of course your vision of humanity is going to be warped when you consume content like Kiwi and Commentary. Nobody who is criticizing me seems to have

Nobody who is criticizing me seems to have watched any of my actual content, which is centred around making car education accessible to everyone. Not commentary. Not drama. Contributing positively to the world because it is so void of humanity. Videos that I spend months working on to do what I can make the world a better place.

Don't believe everything you read online. And don't judge someone until you get to know them as a person. You're letting other people think for you, which is giving up your autonomy. You should spend less time worrying about Opsec (which is already compromised by you even using the internet at all) and be more concerned about how social media is affecting people's ability to think critically. Stop and think for a second, "hmm, what if there's more to this story than I'm being shown by some random person in this video who is not involved in the situation whatsoever, who in fact makes money off of overdramaticizing and inflating the smallest misconceptions?"

I know the truth of what I went through, and so does Jake. He has lost all his irl friends because they are sick and tired of how he treats people, especially women. That is why he is reaching out to every server, every fan, every corner of the internet he can right now. If I didn't truly love that man, I wouldn't have put my own reputation on the line to defend him so adamantly early on in our relationship, and I suffered for it. But it didn't stop me from standing up for what I believed in, sticking by and supporting my partner. If that makes me malicious, then I guess I'm Satan.

I'm tired.

There is nobody in this "drama" besides Jake and I.
Nobody else has enough information to form an opinion or involve themselves in anyone else's personal life. I wish Jake and I could simply have a calm conversation instead of this Commentary Cold War, but he wants his internet dopamine instead. And im letting him have it, because I'm glad he's getting a break from the hate, I saw it ruin him every day because he is obsessed with checking it and worrying over his public image. I know he has nobody in his real life who has sympathy for him any more, so im glad he at least has Commentary, until they turn on him too eventually because they're not a trustworthy group of people.

I'll take the heat, it's fine. I am self aware in the fact that I know how to handle it better than he does, and he knows that too, which is probably how he's justifying this.

I just hope he's happy with himself.

You don't need to believe me, think what you want and whatever brings you peace. I don't need to prove or explain myself to anyone- I was there.

I apologized and tried to be sincere. I sympathized with Rose and Lex—Lex talked about feeling shunned by the commentary community and just wanting people to be kind.

I know first hand how much drama channels can get people wrong, but no one cares cause its so much easier to join the bandwagon and hate on you, and it just sucks when I see people hate me without ever even trying to talk to me first. The same with you @☆彡 . Perhaps I could be making the wrong choice but either way if I'm serious about looking into Chris Tyson and understanding Discount Milk, I need to know more about the people involved with MrBeast and their experiences. That includes getting to know about you and maybe giving you a chance and not being an asshole. I know with Chris there is more to this story than most people think. Same with you. There is always two sides of a story

Lex said she was logging off for the night, and I kept pretending to be on their side. The next morning, she offered Brett a Chrome extension to save Discord chat logs and suggested some future server rules. Brett asked Edna if he had reached out to Downtown yet. Lex also proposed allowing only mod-approved posts. In hindsight, that wouldn't have changed much—Downtown, the head mod with sole approval power, didn't see any issue with Snow's posts, according to Edna in this leaked group chat:

This actually answered a question Snow and I had months earlier—why were Downtown and Edna still letting her post on the Snark subreddit after MIB? It turns out Downtown was the one approving her posts, since Edna didn't have that ability. Still, why did Downtown watch a kid get harassed and do nothing? And why did Edna wait two months to say anything, even though he had the authority to ban her? As of August 2025, Snow still isn't banned from r/mrbeastsnark.

When adobe flash player died everything online went downhill, I stg.

I was shunned a lot by commentary because I tried warning them about the Chris Tyson predatory moderators and was labeled as schizo and kicked to the curb. What Rose went through was real and terrible. and what I went through was also real and terrible, both can be true. and we're allowed to talk about things with each other if we want to, because we both understand what it's like to get the shit end of the stick from people online. People messaging Rose saying to stay away from me when I have no idea who they fucking are is hurtful. maybe I want to be her friend and be kind to her- is that so bad? Do I need permission and a majority vote to be allowed to talk to people? No, I don't. So if you respect Rose as being an adult woman who can make her own decisions , then yall need to stop trying to undermine her independence by attempting to poison her perspective about someone. Let her decide who is a good egg and who's not. She's the type to tell it like it is, Which is why I respect her. the world needs more people like that.

I don't know why anyone ever thought I had intentions of causing harm to her or anyone in the server but I'm past that now. honestly im glad she has a community who protects and cares for her. bc she deserves that.

don't be weaponizing women against each other for sport. there are humans behind every screen and keyboard. humans that deserve support and friendship.

I can show you a chrome extension that saves chat history

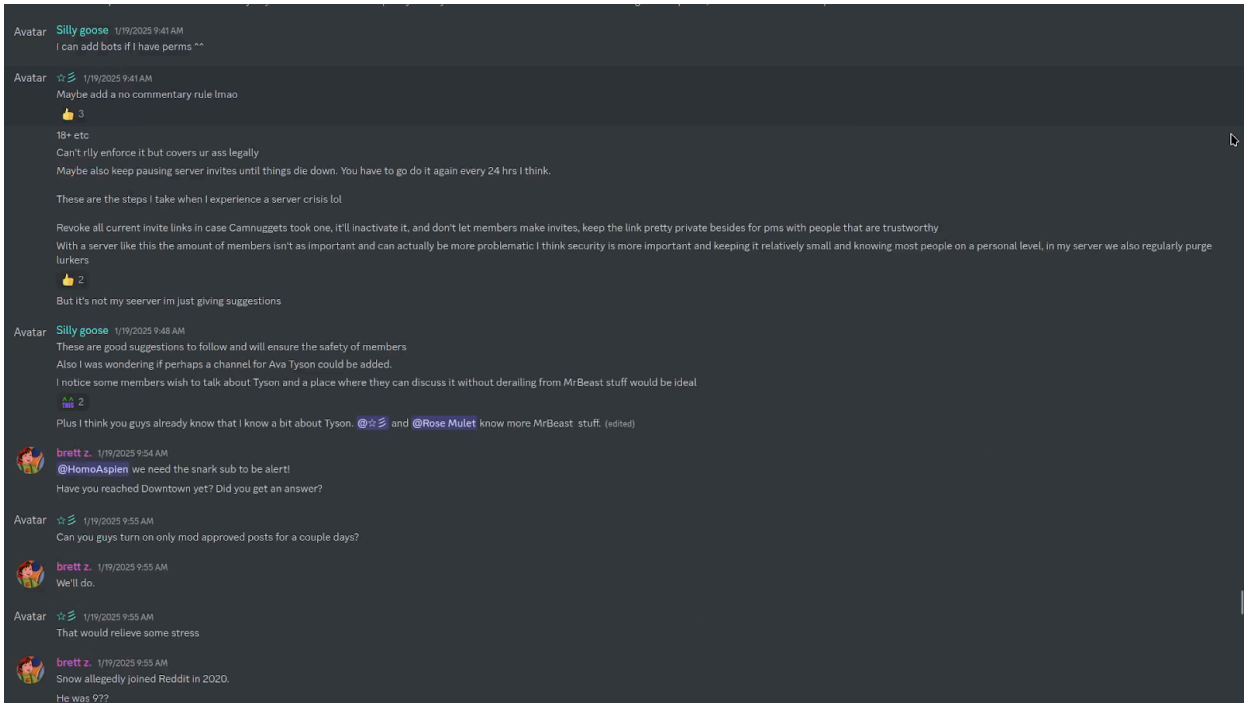

But, you really don't need to keep track of it. What's your concern w that?
You'll drive yourself crazy, im not gonna interact with it after today. Was a mistake to in the first place, but I found it kinda silly how Jake could've just left the server once he saw me in it but stayed and bitched instead

Make the server have manual verification where people can't access or see anything unless they have a confirmed phone number and their account isn't brand new etc, and have them open tickets to talk directly to mods to be verified

Or, have "decoy" chats and a role you give people when they pass the vibe check that unlocks the rest of the server and the actual chats

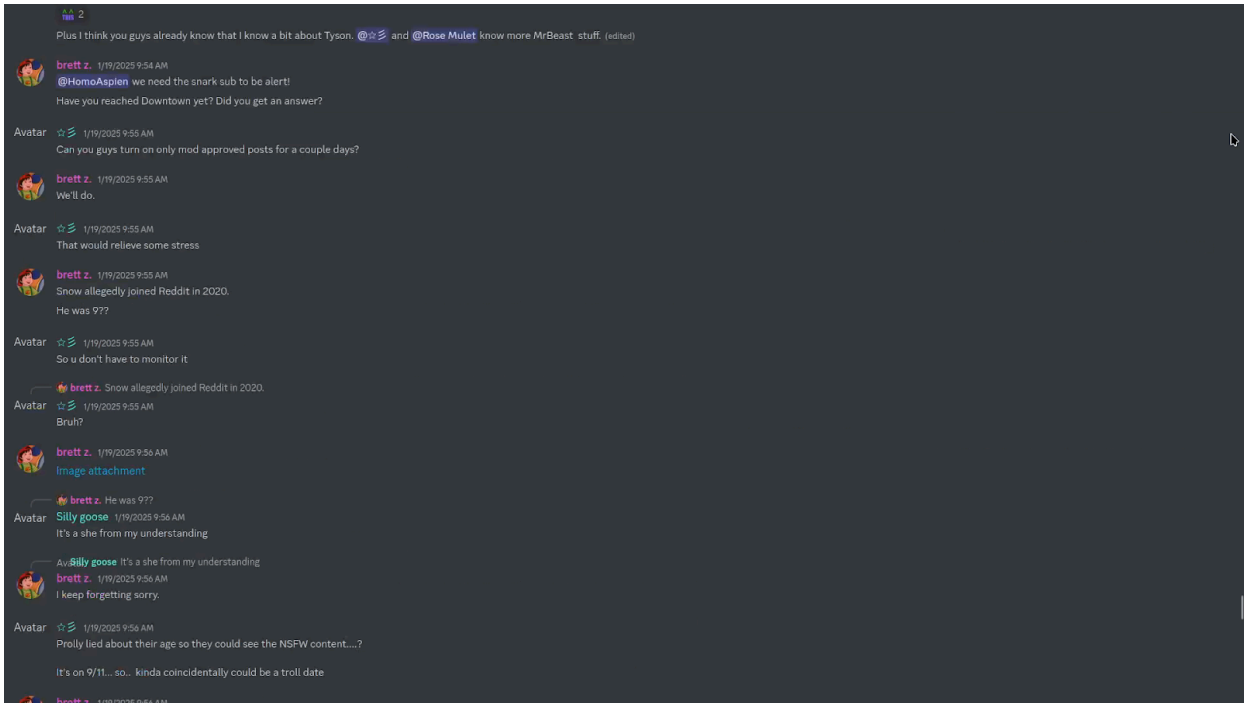

Bots can be configured to make moderation easier

Later that morning, the secret lab discussed Snow again. Many, even outside MIB, saw her as a troll or a “gay op” due to how young she was to be active on Reddit. Lex kept taking jabs, claiming even Jake saw her as parasocial. While Snow’s behavior is odd—and it’s undeniably concerning that 27-year-old Jake is in contact with her—comments like Lex's blur the line between genuine concern and personal bias. There's no evidence Jake ever said that, so why bring it up? Edna also chimed in, saying the r/youtubedrama mods were alerted and are siding with Jake.

Good morning all. Unsurprisingly Jake has squealed to the r/youtubedrama mods about the situation. Got a cryptic "Hey Edna, how are you doing?" Message from one of the mods just a bit ago. Not responding to it brett z. 1/19/2025 9:59 AM

Oh no. You're getting harassed and snow joined Reddit at 9 years old.

Avatar 1/19/2025 9:59 AM
Man I didn't have the heart to tell her that even Jake himself has said to me "damn, she is parasocial af"

Bruh. I'm sorry. Ignore it. We don't need to care about Youtubedrama . Let him try to explain his way out of this

I brought up that I had told Snow about feeling guilty about being harsh towards Jake, which she relayed the message to him and he forgave me. Lex assumed her suspicions were confirmed this way, and guessed that they've been in contact for a long time. This is the message I mean:

I said I planned to unfriend Snow as I did not know her age prior to this situation. Lex talks about telling Jake's mom about the situation but then changes her mind and says she doesn't want to hurt her. I say I'm going to try to get Snow to cut ties with Jake, which Lex encourages.

The 13 year old.. was playing telephone for him? So, not talking about art

I'm not gonna, but like
That's fucked yo bruh
His mom had to go through finding out her ex husband that she had all her kids with was a pedo and now this
She very vehemently defends him tho, even when he's being shitty
He yelled at her in front of me all the time, it made me sad

Jake keeps whining in the comfort subreddit. This shit's going to come out eventually.
His mom defends him too much?

give it a shot so you can say you tried, wouldn't feel right if I didn't. But just know that psychologically when you tell a human especially a child not to do something it makes them want to do it even more. Like if I said "don't think of a pink elephant rn", you have to try harder to not think of one
Btw im pretty sure either @HomoAspien or @Rose Mulet got the ss of everything/most of the things that happened in chat today

I think it's definitely worth sending a calm mild mannered message from a position of care, but be mindful they'll likely send it to Jake.
his discord mod, not underage but still like only 20, is also someone who makes fan art of him , who he talks to regularly, he gets her to check my socials for him.

I'm around that age, so that's handleable. I'm turning 21 though.

We gotta get ahold of one of those creep catcher streamers
Jk

Brett really wants to see this situation blow up, but Edna doesn't want to talk about it publicly at that moment. I also send some of my DM's with Snow.

10:20 AM I don't have the energy or vitriol to do that but

Shit would feed commentary for 3 thanksgivings

Now, here's where I bring up the hacking allegations from a few months prior. One thing that has been questioned by a lot of people are these logs in particular, where me, Brett and Edna discuss hacking Snow to get her logs with Jake, as the former two and Lex assumed that Snow's resentment towards them meant she wasn't telling the full truth and was hiding the full DMs.

And no Discord yet.

Avatar Silly goose 1/19/2025 3:41 PM
Right right I know you guys want that

brett z. 1/19/2025 3:43 PM
Nobody is believing it until there are actual Discord archives.

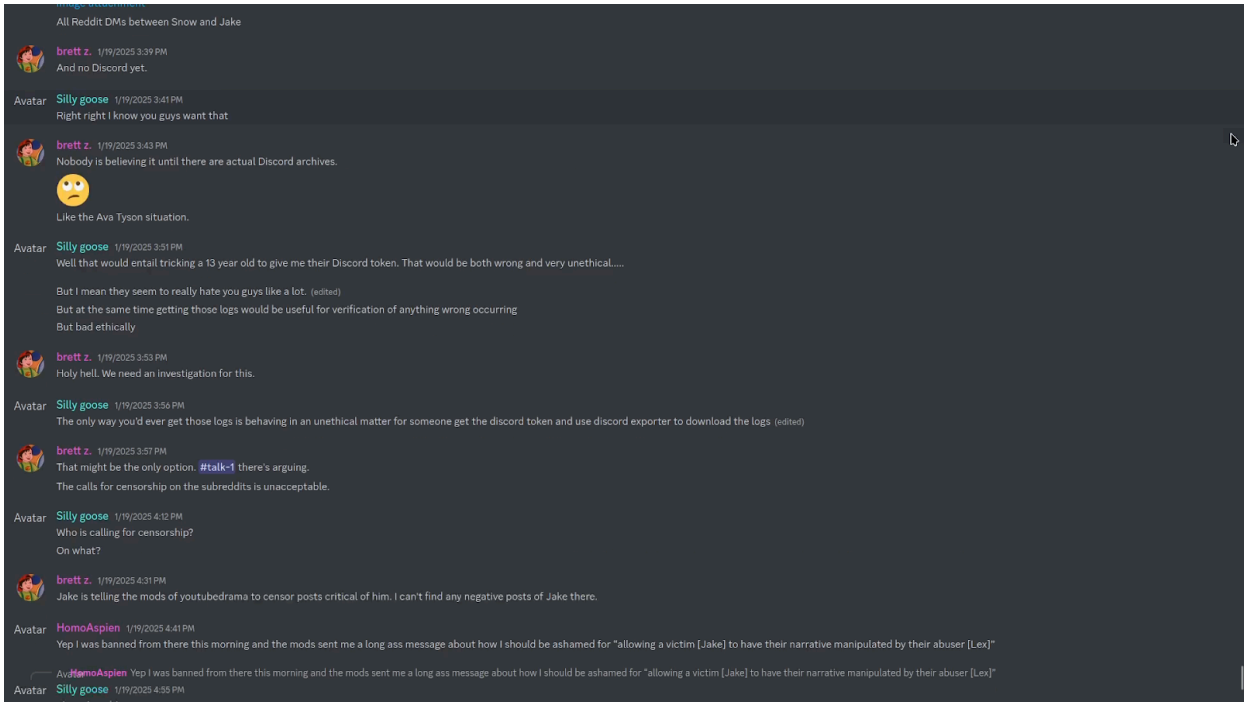

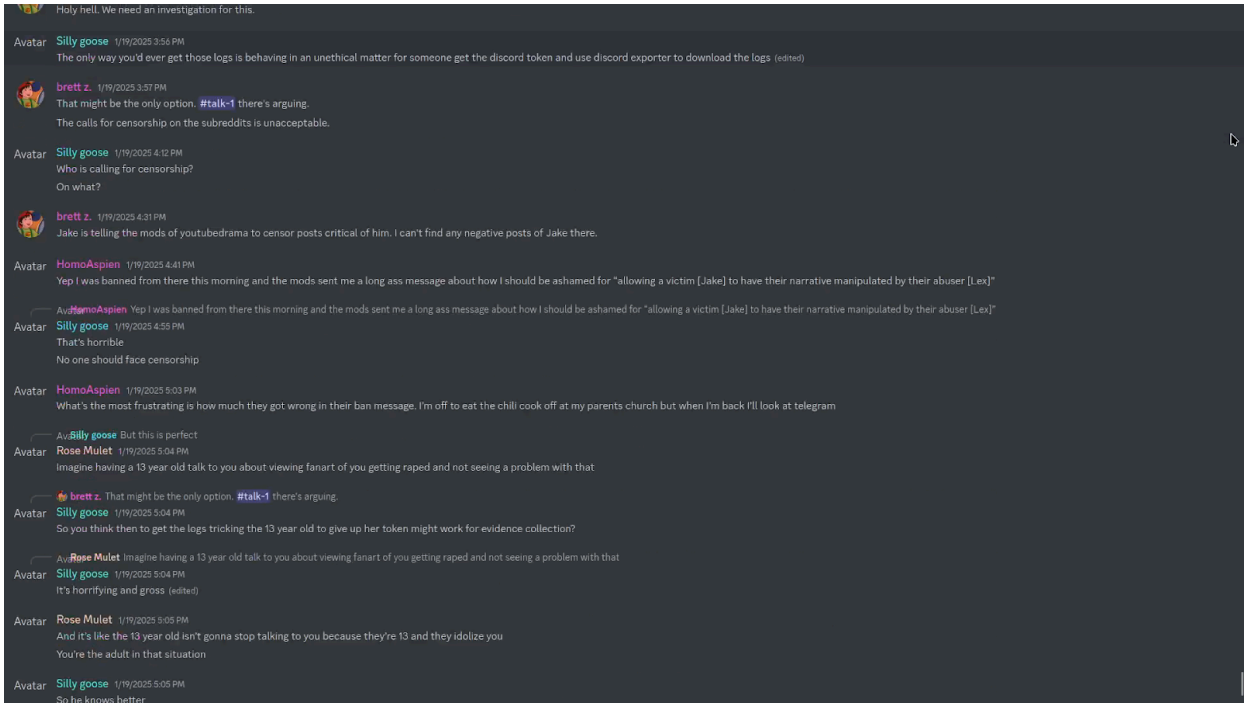

Like the Ava Tyson situation.

Avatar Silly goose 1/19/2025 3:51 PM
Well that would entail tricking a 13 year old to give me their Discord token. That would be both wrong and very unethical.....

But I mean they seem to really hate you guys like a lot. (edited)
But at the same time getting those logs would be useful for verification of anything wrong occurring
But bad ethically

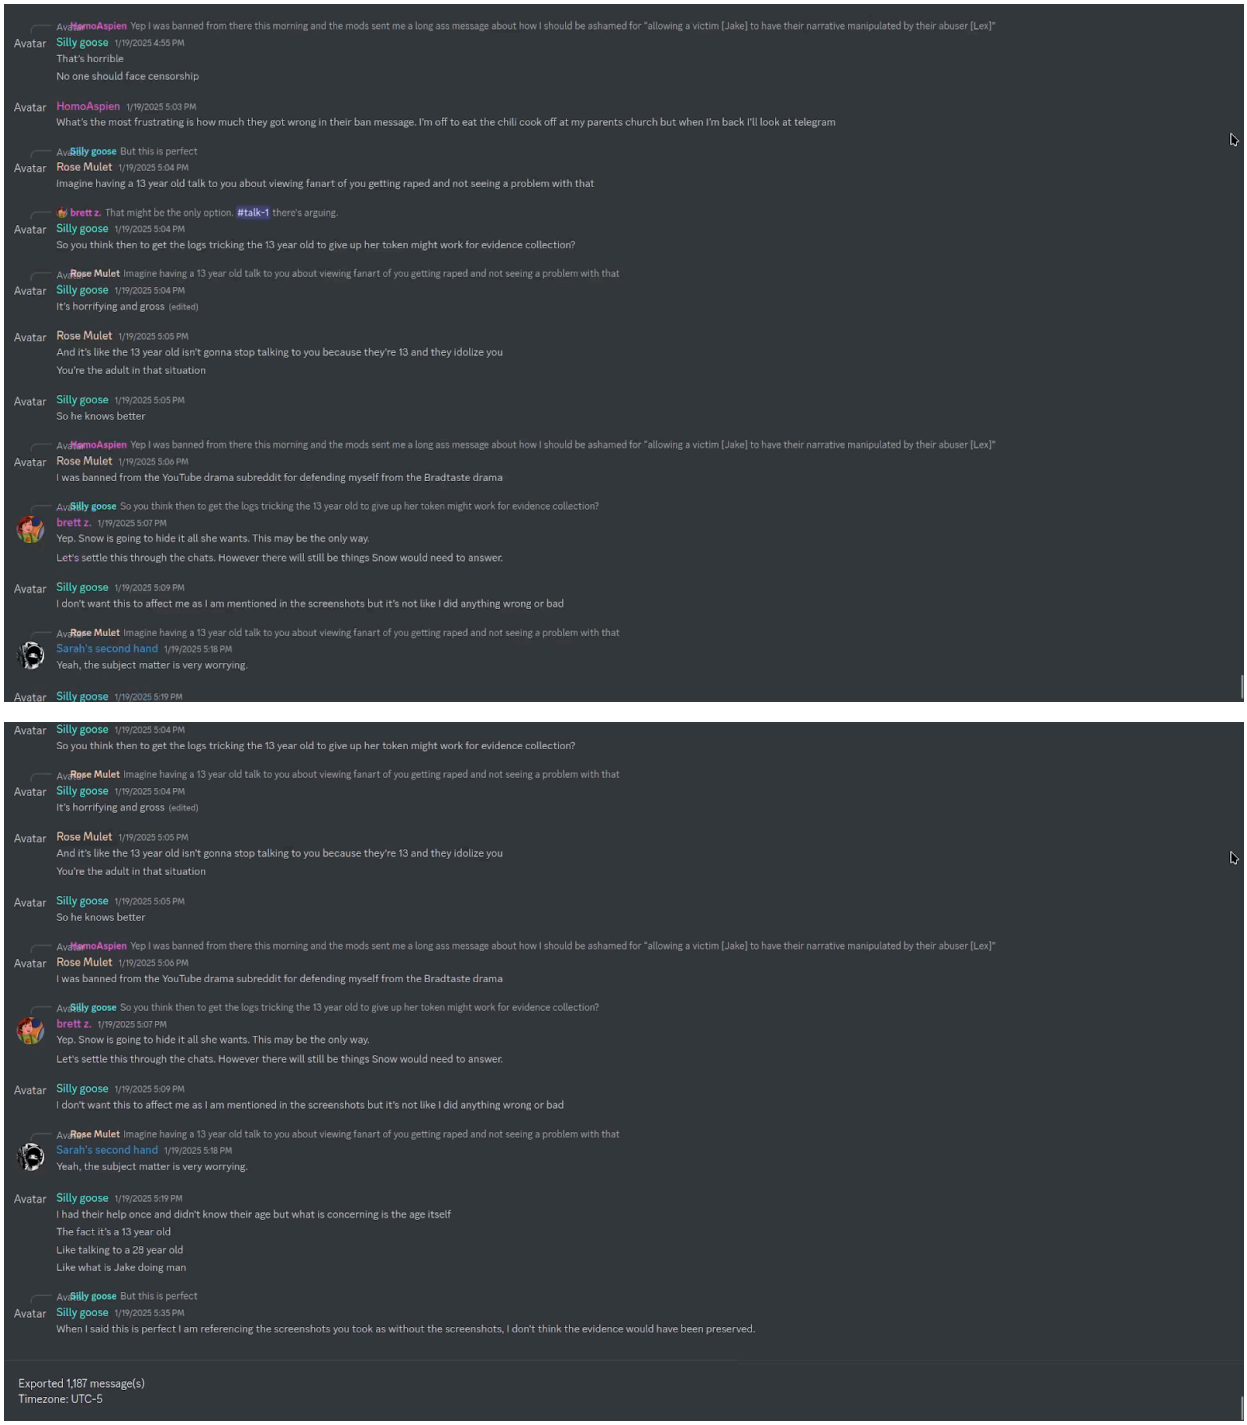

brett z. 1/19/2025 3:53 PM
Holy hell. We need an investigation for this.

Brett urged me to get the logs, but I had no contact with the minor and refused to reach out again. Obtaining the logs would have required hacking, which I wasn't willing to do. However, I wanted to test him to see if that was what he was asking, so I told him it would involve tricking the child into sharing her Discord token. He confirmed that was likely the only option. Though Brett pressured me to get the logs, I still shouldn't have entertained the idea even if it was just to test him. I don't think Brett is a bad person, but I do think he is easily influenced by horrible people. Later on, I ended up discovering that Snow and Jake had never DM'ed on Discord at all, which would make any possible hacking attempts of her Discord account meaningless anyways.

Avatar HomoAspien Yep I was banned from there this morning and the mods sent me a long ass message about how I should be ashamed for "allowing a victim [Jake] to have their narrative manipulated by their abuser [Lex]"

Avatar brett z. That might be the only option. #talk-1 there's arguing.
Avatar Silly goose 1/19/2025 5:04 PM
So you think then to get the logs tricking the 13 year old to give up her token might work for evidence collection?
