

Jake Weddle Reddit DMs: A Timeline/Taking Accountability:

Warning

We don't endorse or support any of the videos that came out before this document. We also do not condone anyone harassing or contacting the minor mentioned here without her family's knowledge and consent. What happened was not okay, and the way we handled it deserves serious scrutiny.

Why We're Releasing This Now

The kid involved has been harassed.

We're putting this out to expose who was responsible, to clear up the record, and to admit where we also messed up.

Introduction

This document was created by two people directly involved in archiving and documenting all deleted MrBeast videos, including the LLCs connected to them and related material. Recently, the behavior of Lex, Edna, ourselves, and others put a minor in harm's way.

The situation started when Lex broke up with her boyfriend. After the breakup, she made several claims — including accusing Jake Weddle of being a potential pedophile or groomer. Instead of handling it quietly, Lex publicly criticized the minor's presence on the r/mrbeastsnark subreddit without contacting her directly, and without working to have her account removed to shield her from malicious actors.

Jake Weddle made things worse by continuing to DM the minor. He didn't take the situation seriously, didn't stop it from escalating, and in doing so failed to act responsibly. If Lex or Edna truly believed grooming was happening, the right move would have been to reach out to the minor, hear her side, save the relevant logs, and involve her in deciding how to handle things. They also should have contacted her parents. That's why we decided to contact her and her older brother ourselves.

We listened to her side, gathered the evidence properly, and had her stream the DMs from start to finish so we could verify everything. We downloaded a copy for safekeeping. Meanwhile, Lex and Edna chose to make this public on Reddit, without consulting the person they claimed was a victim — which only exposed her to the spotlight and gave time for evidence to be deleted. This document has been in the works for nearly four months, so some of the dates on screenshots may look inconsistent. We'll clarify when possible. Lex and Edna might argue we weren't given the full DMs. But our archived copies, saved through Rexit, show clearly that the Reddit logs they posted had no sexual content — nothing close to the level of severity that Ava's situation had.

What the logs do show is Jake Weddle trauma-dumping about his ex and engaging in other behavior that, while not predatory, was still inappropriate. Protecting minors requires empathy, caution, and private communication — not public shaming or reckless exposure. We stand by the way we handled this, but we also admit we made mistakes and failed Snow after the fall of MIB. This document includes all archives, sources, downloaded Discord logs, and screenshots for anyone who doubts the claims. To be clear: we do not believe Jake Weddle is a pedophile or a groomer. But the DMs deserve scrutiny. And we're holding ourselves accountable too, because we are not innocent in how this played out. A child should never have been dragged into this mess in the first place.
