1 | KRONII RETURNS Holocure

Cheerful and genki as ever, Kronii has settled into her new home and returns to streaming for everyone! The comforting beat of her BGM ran into the Kronies ears. A furious Kronii relays chat with her story of how everything slowly started coming together. From her internet, her AC, and even her own room finally being set up for her comfort and leisure. Hopefully she catches the ice cream truck when she is less busy...

News of Time Mutt's appearance is also news that we learned of today. Time Mutt giving Kronii no break from any of her moving responsibilities as they run away from home for a brief moment. Despite all that had been going on, she's doing well which is music to our ears. Additionally, Kronii commissioned new emotes for chat! Members and non-members alike can check them out in chat!

Ina's unique passive that commands some of her takodachi to heal instead of harm her. Kronii made it the furthest up to this point with Ina. After Ina is everyone's favorite bratty shark girl, Gawr Gura. Gura's turn turns into a bit more of a zatsu based segment. Kronii asks if Ring Around the Rosie is based on the black plague. Although Gura does take Kronii the furthest, the onslaught of Bubbas prove too much for Kronii and fell her. Not that the stream was over, far from it. The gaming continued throughout the evening and full glad are we to have our Warden back, safe and sound.

"I don't like BL, but I respect the people that do.
Though I did have a phase."

Kronii's game of choice for today's stream is the game that has taken the Holo fandom by storm, HoloCure! For those unfamiliar, HoloCure is a fan game from Kay Yu. After checking out the menu's, settings and gacha, An all around love letter to Hololive and it's many idols, the game is full of references and jokes from every generation and the entire EN cast as playable characters.

Kronii starts her first run, stage mode, with The Grim Reaper's apprentice herself, Mori Calliope. Kronii's familiarity with Vampire Survivors serving to keep her decently in the know about how the game would function. Her first run ended at 4:25 but, we all know that was just a warm up. Following Calli's run is Amelia Watson. Kronii was pretty happy seeing Bubba show up as well, a feature unique to Ame. After Ame's round, Ina gets a turn.

Opening up to Kronii's silky smooth voice, technical issues strike our Warden's stream. A defiant controller bars her from starting the game up and instead, viewers enjoy the Void together with Kronii while she worked on her controller. The real issue being identified after some troubleshooting, Kronii had never plugged the controller in! "Forget that ever happened."

After assuring everyone that she has yet to play the game, she sets up the ambiance in her room to match the game's atmosphere and starts things up. Picking quickly up on the main character's mechanic of being able to possess sea life, "I am kind of a gamer." Kronii proudly declares as she starts getting into things. Swimming around for a few brief moments however as she dies almost immediately afterwards.

The game not throwing any softballs for her however, catching her off guard a few times as she delves into the depths. Ever the source of her own pride, declaring that things were easy when, in fact, they killed her a few times ~~first~~. First try every try babyyyyyyy! Sasuga Kronii! Making us proud! With only her all natural gaming ability, Kronii proceeds onwards to the first boss with chat naturally teasing her as she goes through the hoops.

Aside from the goofiness of the beginning, Silt plays as a safe game for Kronii. Not too much going on action wise. Although not quite zatsu level like powerwash simulator. If you enjoy Kronii's presence, which you should, this is a nice game to relax to. It would probably also play well in the background while you were busy with work, gaming, or just want to hear Kronii's voice. If you stuck around for super chats... HI! I'm Cortana

3 | Kirby And The Forgotten Land

Hi gorgeous! You look amazing as always, Kronii. Even if I were to put 2 flowers side by side, you'd still be the one who blooms the most beautifully.

Thank you to @Mello_Naper for the Art!

Kronii returns to Kirby today, after a stream earlier in the day going over super chats. If you were somehow, unaware that Kronii had TWO streams in one day, this is your friendly reminder. As nearly every single other holomem had finished Kirby, Kronii is out here. A league of her own. Always on that grind. Since she was busy and life had been thieving Kronii away from all of us, it is understandable that she is far behind her peers. Nonetheless, our dutiful warden gets into the game and effortlessly, first tries every obstacle in her path. From the desert to the abandoned mall in the desert, Kronii took care of things with ease and unlocked bonus features in the Waddle-dee Town.

The real game began when Kronii started up the fishing minigame. Making sure that she would be the very best, she searched for the best catch she could get. And by god did she get it! A giant photo of her prize catch would be on display for all the waddle-deez to see and bask in the glory of the word perfection personified! You can be certain that Kronii also went through town, making sure everybody would get a personal encounter, to know she was the one to claim the record. Shortly thereafter, Kronii took a quick trip to the gachapon machine, giving it a couple spins. "I already got all the characters I wanted, best not to get greedy"-Chadronii She would continue the game after that, making for a most relaxing night.

4 | Fanfic Writer Showcase: Gabe

This week I asked a very special member of the community. You would be hardpressed to not have heard of him in some way, shape or form if you found yourself in this thread. The only person with multiple sections to themselves in the /∞/ archive, runner of Ryan Goslings multiple timelines, Gabriel Kroniig. I inquired the process behind his writing and he was kind enough to spare me the time to tell me. Short, sweet and to the point. Thank you again Gabe!

Writing process? Not much thought behind it really. There are three reason why I usually write. 1st is I'm feeling particularly horny at that moment and ended up expelling that into a fic. 2nd a prompt interests me and I work around it. 3rd felt like shitposting

Timeline Alpha fics are an example of the 1st and 2nd While Timeline Omega are more 2nd and 3rd I don't really particularly care about the quality of my "work" it's just me venting out my coomer mind. Usually I just type words out, look at the resulting block of text once or twice and maybe correct a few grammatical errors and typos, but I'm not particularly enthused by literary quality.

>Dodging the question when all her regulars are doxxfags anyways and know what she's been up to but have to pretend like they don't fioresome...

Yeah alright, so it's the same shit that always happens in ameg. No streams for a couple days and everyone loses it just starts larping as fags. Here it's frothing with Kronies, there it's rape threats against short Teamates. Interesting how I've only observed it in Ame and Kronii threads, though.

You idiots are so fucking entitled holy shit, she's not yours. You're not her boyfriend, her husband, her partner, or her manager, you're just a fan. You don't control her.
