/hlg/ survey result

Holotower edition

in Drain / 排水溝 : リスナーのお悩み & 嬉しいこと

Are we dying?

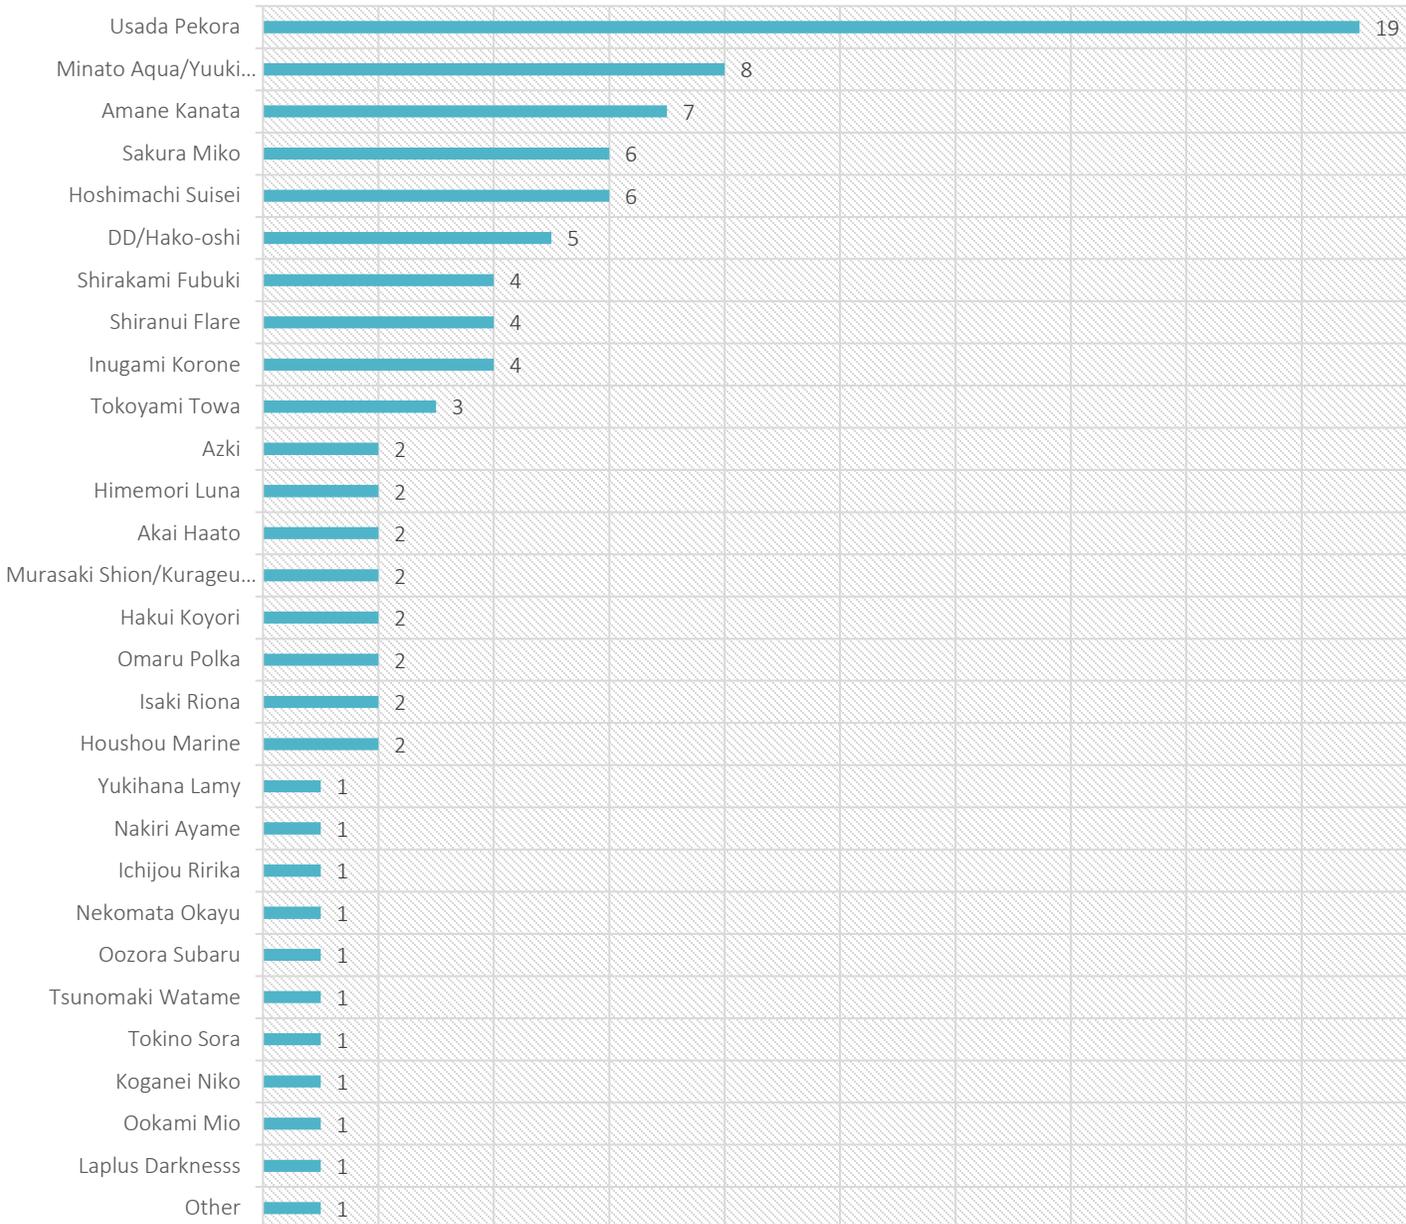

We all do, eventually.

From 18th of December to the 26th, the survey concluded with a total of 93 respondents, where a total of 54 respondents gave membership proof

Last year's survey had 172 respondents so that's approximately a 46% drop.

*Some responses were flagged as spam and deleted

/hlg/ Oshis

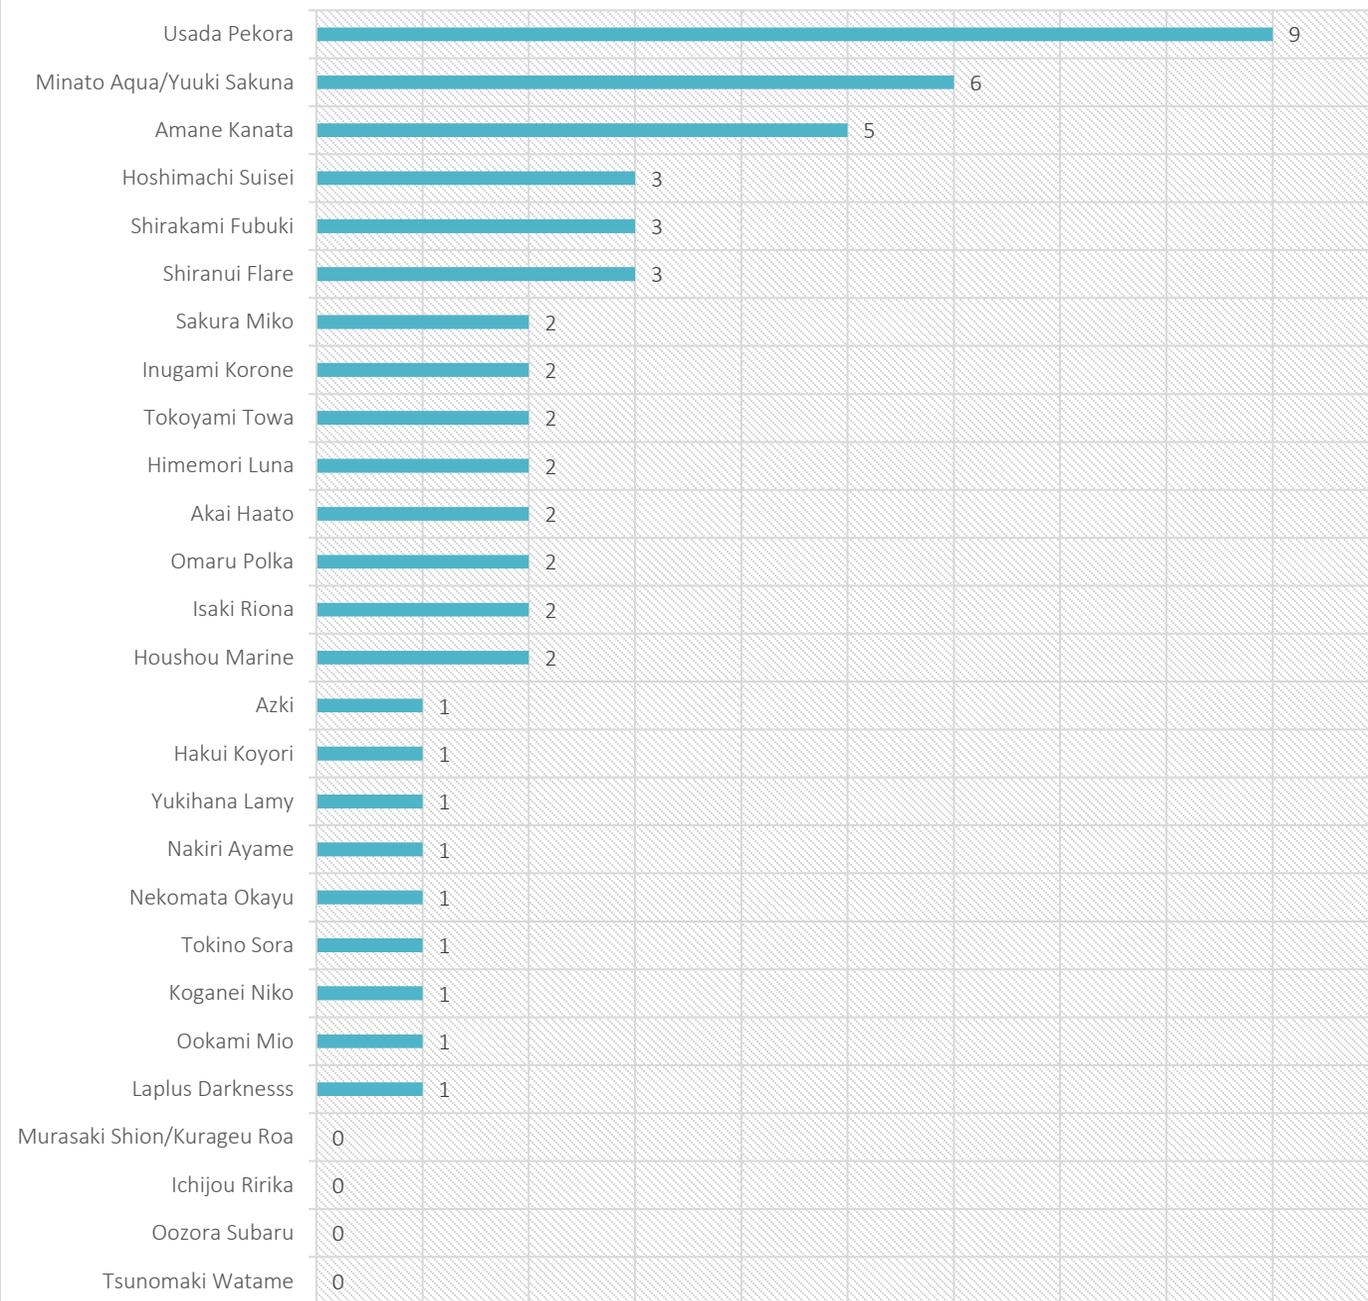

Nousagis have taken over as the most prominent fanbase, more than doubling the responses from the now 2nd largest fanbase Crew.

Nousagis were also among the few fanbases that actually increased their presence from 2024. Them along with Sukonbu, Joshu, Hishominarai and Omaru-za all increased their members by 1! (not counting FLOW GLOW fanbases)

The elephant in the room is obviously 35P who not only lost their 1st place but suffered a catastrophic 70% drop in their members. We shouldn't judge them too hard though as many other fanbases suffered similar or even bigger drops.

/hlg/ Oshis with membership proof

Compared to last year where 67% of Nousagis provided membership proof, this year less than 50% of them bothered.

Maybe they liked Surveymin more...

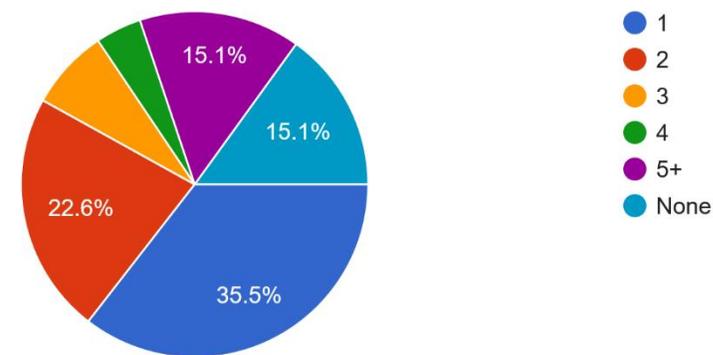

*This was suspicious enough that I did make a sheet specifically for Nousagis to take a closer look at their answers.

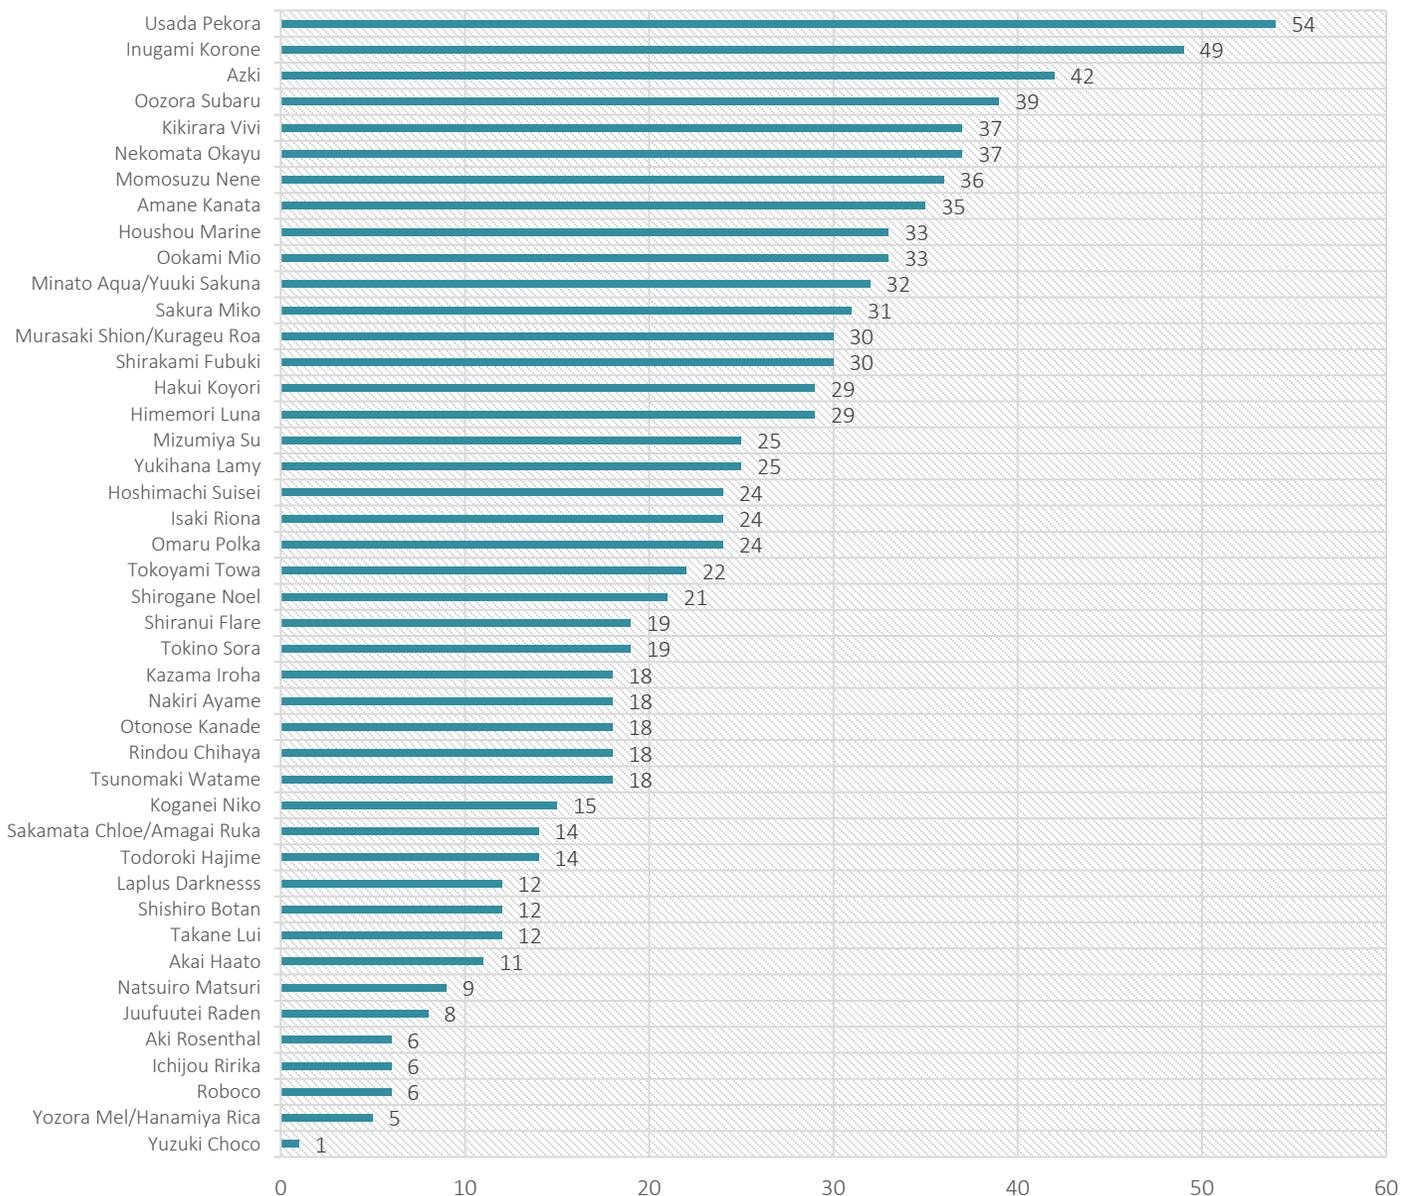

I don't have much else to say about these so here's a chart of how many memberships anons have

How many memberships do you have?

93 responses

Including your oshi, which Holo do you like or watch regularly?

The top 2 of 2024 keep their placements in 2025!

Pekora continues to be /hlg/'s most watched Holo while Korone is not far behind. Meanwhile the previous #3 Aqua/Sakuna dropped all the way down to 11th and Azki takes her place.

On the other end of the spectrum, Choco nearly pulled off a miracle as she almost received 0 votes. However with the help of a single kind anon she avoids being completely forgotten by the thread.

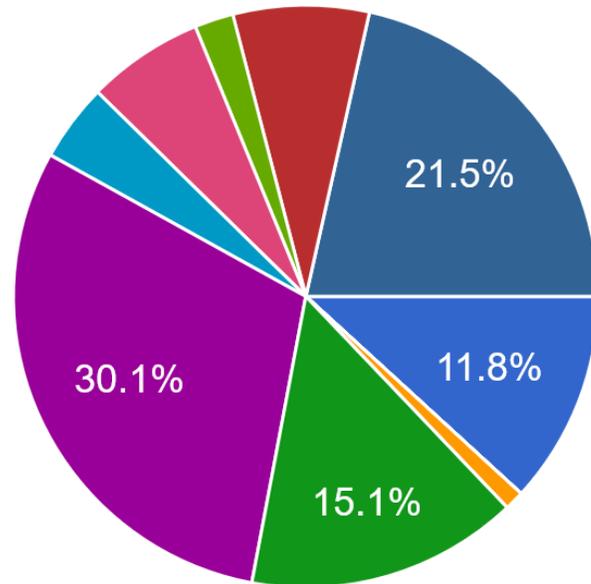

Don't forget her

What kind of poster are you?

93 responses

This is actually a throwaway question.

I wanted to include a question about lurking or using other threads but I needed some way to split the tourists from the regular userbase. Thus I came up with this question.

I used the data from this question to split anons in 2 groups.

"Active chatposter" and "Regular poster" form "Group A" (41 anons).

"Occasional poster" and "Lurker" form "Group B" (52 anons).

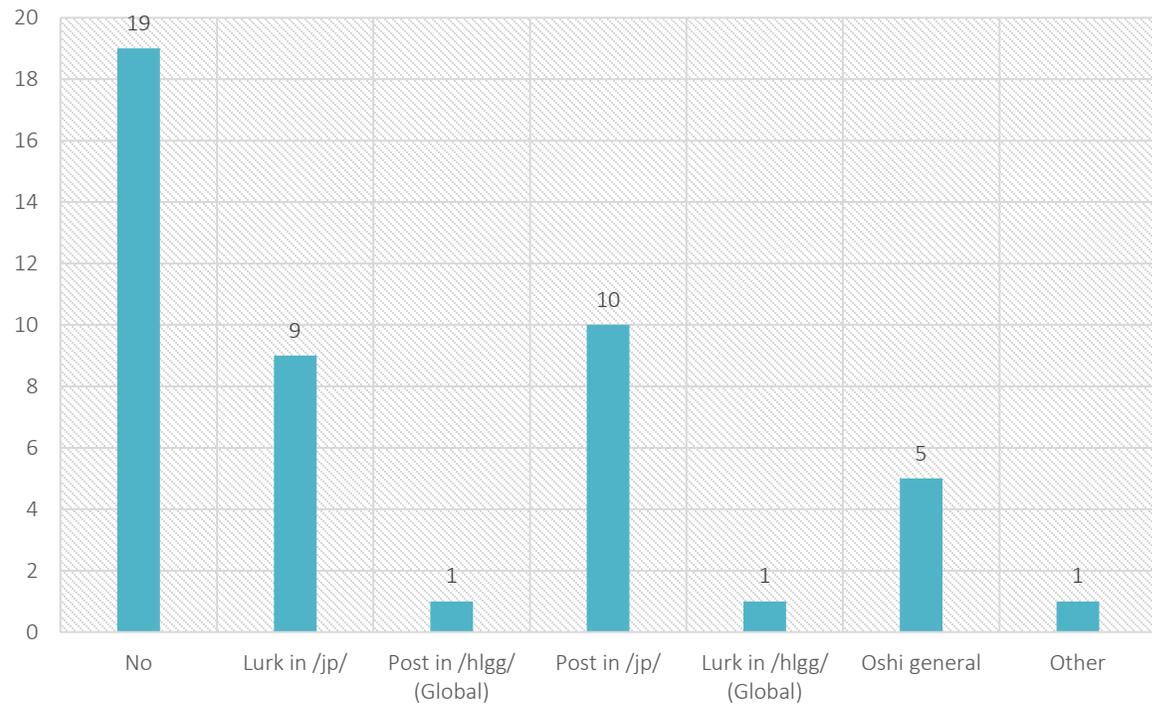

This is only relevant for the next question where I've split the results and presented them using these 2 groups.

*This goes without saying but not everyone in Group B is a tourist.

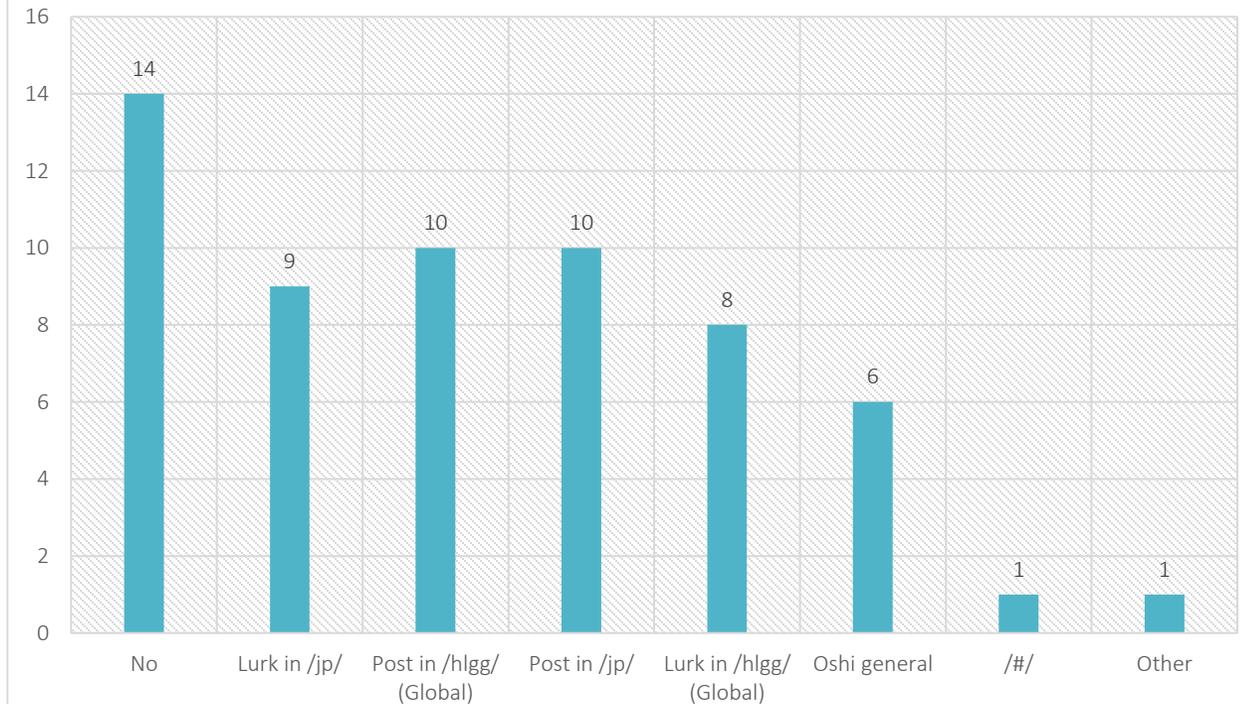

Does /hlg/ lurk or post in other threads?

Group A

Group B

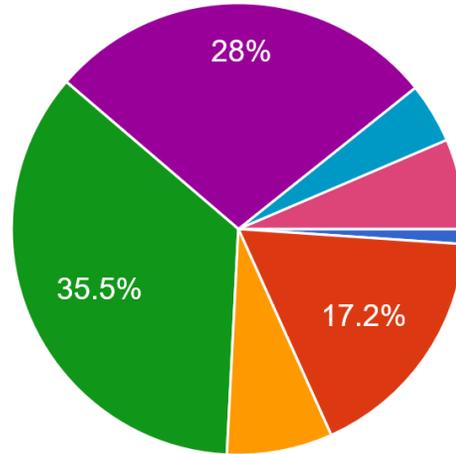

/hlg/ is officially a Euro thread

Special shoutouts to:

Anons who talk about streams, anons who give updates about their oshi other people might have missed like summaries and stuff, anons who do stuff for other anons, anons that post about less talked about streams, fat-fuck fan bases, Poyoyoposter x3, surveyanon(s), summaryposters, non Nousagi/Heimin chatposters (minority but important part of the ecosystem), hourly schedule anon, Kumarine posters, Nousagi, Ichimi, the AkuPeko poster, the gay heimin, tasoposter ❤️x2 , everyone who participated in this, normal Shiokko, Lapfriend, based Miofa, Kumarine, anons who hate Kumarine, taso posters....

Feedback to Tower

These are (mostly) unfiltered things that /hlg/ anons wanted to say to Tower admins, both praise and critique.

>It's nice to have mods on our side and are able to respect what we would want from our thread. I have no problem with tower, so far >thank you for giving me a reason to leave that maliciously moderated shithole.

>It's nice being able to post without all the schizos. Very refreshing.

>I don't know if they are officialy banned or not, but I think roommates are an integral part of the discussion about holos. At the same time I understand that kind of discussion attracts a lot of schizos so I can see why it's more frowned upon on this site. It's the only reason I still lurk on /jp/, but again, I undstand why they do it this way here >can't/don't post very often or in a very involved way so i can't give any fair feedback, but i'm comfortable hanging out when i can >ex holo posting should be banned.

>highlight my (you)'s better

>Bans are too lenient/short. Yorumin-attentionseeker and the usual jpschizo comes back every day to do their usual routine.

>You guys are doing a great job but every few days JP hours go unmoderated which sucks

>Sucks that some of the proton vpn ips are banned, but there's nothing to be done about it. The thread itself is a case study in the tragedy of the commons

>just tired of the tourists in our thread

>it seems like more schizos show up lately and they don't get banned , hopefully things get better next year

>Keep more globals alive for longer.

>RIP heiminmeido

>I will never forgive Cloudflare

>Tower is really good, but my only other experience is /jp/ so that's not really a high bar

>I'm grateful holotower exists.

>archive sucks

>great website

>The site works well on PC but it often freezes on mobile

>I'm pretty satisfied with the thread as it is, thankfully offtopic and schizo posting is kept at a minimum. Sakuna/Ruka/Roa being on topic or no is a bit of a grey area for me but most other anons seem happy with it

>KEEP HLG PURE

>Somehow some of those poor souls from the other site still end up here, thank you for dealing with them in short order

>The meidos are doing a very great job. Number one reason why I'm here, so props to them.

>fix archive search, add twitter copy paste tool (<http://ohayua.cloudfree.jp/twitter>), add board for porn

>Site can be a bit janky (we really need someone to put together a decent 4chanX equivalent, the ones out there right now are meh) I'm pretty happy with the moderation so far >a better HUD, a more "4chan" feeling would be good. And also 4chanXT compatibility.

>Awful moderation

>I can't believe the mods actually do their job here >naming convention, /hlgg/ /hlg/ /hololiveglobal/ are too similar

>I wish the jannies/mods/admins were awake during Japanese primetime, otherwise it's great

>We really need more active meidos for JP prime time

>I'm extremely grateful to holotower mods. /hlg/ is finally a fun thread and not a miserable experience. NSFW should be allowed under spoilers

>Can't think of any they've been doing a good job dealing with our niche brand of autism without restricting us

>Stop mistaking actual criticisms with shitposting.

>towa...

>Good job, anon. Pretty fun place with a good balance of civility and fun shit post. I have no comment on the functionality as of now. Would love more lax rule on non-holo post (for discussing JP indie, or small group) but no complaint here.

Is there anything you want to say regarding Cover's apparent direction?

>For me, Cover has been kinda out of touch since 2023. And the current situation is quite concerning. Cover that I used to like supporting talents for what they're good at, not just pushing them for the recipe of success. Of course, it's business. And of course it's not totally unsalvageable.

>Cover bad Hololive good. Jokes aside, I really don't care about Cover anymore, they lost my trust way before my oshi graduated, I just wish the girls could find/maintain their happiness.

>They should do something and listen to suggestions from holos and fans before Towa gets seriously angry. What happens when Towa gets angry? Wrath... Beyond Towa...

>more than their "direction" it's their fuckass internal management that they need to fix ASAP they have been fucking abysmal and incredibly infuriating

>Organisational bloat. Lack of general managerial direction. Should really remain talent-focused. Should never have went public.

>What is there to say? I could scream expletives (I was going to) but they've always been retarded. I hope my oshi leeches as much as she can from them until they eventually push her into quitting.

>Pls fix bad problem faster

>How many more graduations need to happen before they realize they fucked up?

>Cover hate, and i miss aqua

>As with most things, it's gonna be much worse than we can hope for but much better than we fear.

>I see 0 chance of them getting better ever since going public

>Less forced idol shit and management pushed projects, more game related box events and tournaments.

>I hope they learn their place...

>kanata gradation....

>I don't know. All I know now is pain.

>I have nothing interesting to add to this, I just want Cover's higher-up and shareholders to burn in hell

>It's not looking good.

>it's pretty sad, but I learned to have zero expectation from them

>Doomed

>Down the drain trajectory.

>I still can't believe they're back to pandering to the chinks after everything they've done...

>Fire all managers, can holoEarth, make Achan come back.

>Incompetent management is now also malicious. I'm really worried about the future

>Die cover die

>It's going downhill, not necessarily rapidly but downhill nonetheless.

>I don't like how it's turning more and more into a soulless talent grinding agency, I get that workload is different for each talent but losing taso made me go from indifferent to actively disliking the company

>Retards don't understand the golden geese they have

>3 graduations in a week man where did it all go wrong

>Fix your shit you dogshit company

>Death to management, return to pre-IPO hololive

>People are way too keen to interpret everything they do as some cartoon villain sabotage of the holos and it makes it impossible to honestly discuss their actual problems

>Hologirls 5/5 Cover 1/5, always has been

>They need to fix their shit desperately and understand the girls are the reason the company is even remotely successful. Without the girls they'd be nothing.

>It's shit

>FUCK COVER

>direction?

>DEV_IS seems to be doing well but everything else is going to shit.

>I really hope Lap anon kyoani's Cover HQ with all of upper management inside

>I will never forgive them

>I'm not a fan of it , it seems like cover cares less and less about the girls

>Drakengard Route B staff roll

>I'm getting pretty disappointed with how they are handling the well being of their talents and it's affecting my ability to look forward and enjoy any events involving hololive

>Yeah, I hope Cover goes bankrupt

>I thought it couldnt be worse than last year but I was wrong.

>Laptomo was right. He was always right...

>Fuck Cover

>"It can't be helped" only goes so far. There's a huge issue within Cover and they need to address it immediately.

>Except for the Kanata situation which is extremely weird, they seem to be taking steps to make some positive changes (like the self 3d booth). They should still fire half of middle management though.

> All I can say is I'm worried. I don't like making wild speculations and inventing headcanon about the inner workings of the company, but Kanata's situation has left me at a loss. Things are obviously just getting shittier all around.

>I'll just say I probably spent less money on Hololive in 2025 than any year since 2019 >kill all boomer retard nigger investors, behead all useless incompetent management, fire all sidebranches, make interacting at all with male esports ecelebs punishable by termination, get your head out of your ass and grow a fucking spine yagoo

>Cover deserves Kyoani treatment, (maybe not literally, but) they should burn.

>Fix your shit and have better support for talents

>It sucks, obviously

>I'm tired boss...

>management is a shit

>I'll support for as long as my girls are in Hololive. All I can do is hope they improve.

>I'm down $1000, make the line go up Cover.

>I've known hololive was fucked ever since Mel got fired over absolutely nothing. After that, I just decided to enjoy it, until it all blows up. As more and more pre-holoX members graduate, I'll likely start dividing my time between their reincarnations, and the ones still remaining in hololive. Nobody is staying in hololive forever, so I'll likely have fully transitioned to watching reincarnated indies eventually. Which is fine, since I have no love for cover/hololive the ""brand"", only the talents.

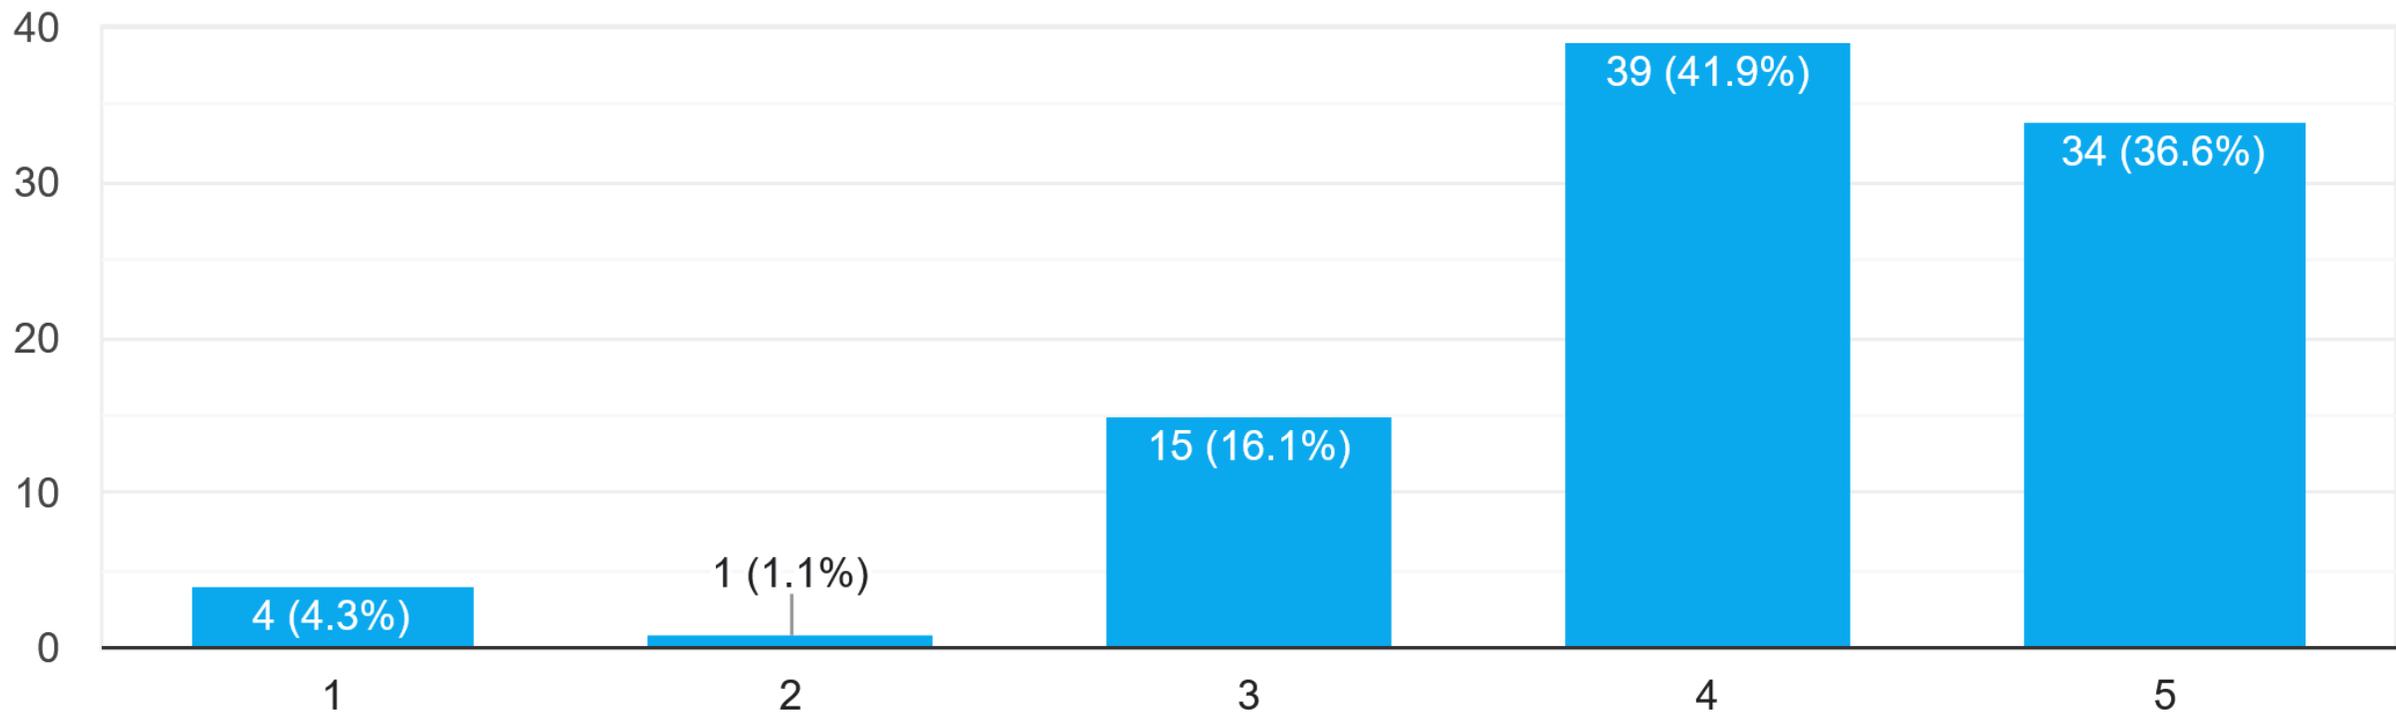

>Imao

>Lack of direction more like. Cover needs to suck it up and focus on becoming a talent agency that can actually support holos, not continue as an IT company.

>Cover's direction is absolute dogshit, I'm just here for the girls and the girls alone

On a scale from 1 to 5, how would you rate your stay in /hlg/ (tower) in 2025?

- >Keep in mind you are in a thread meant for fans of all (japanese obviously) hololive members, treating the thread like you're the only poster here and that all holomems hold no value is very bizarre and at times disrespectful and rude.
- >Some of you anons are alright, don't go to /jp/ tomorrow.
- >Cooler heads prevail
- >(`ω´) stop calling my oshi a boy
- >Nousagis please stop associating everyone, but especially Vivi, to Pekora when there is nothing related to Pekora at all like she's some sort of side accessory to her thanks
- >I already wrote the same thing in the other question, but anons that post about less talked about streams, even if they are posting alone, are my favorite posters since they allow me to be somewhat up to date with what every holo is doing. I don't reply to them myself because I'm ESL and not good at saying things, but I read all their posts, even if they think nobody is reading them and appreciate them a lot. They are the reason I still use this website in the first place

- >Cherish your oshi and show it to her as much as you can
- >some of you need to be a little more normal just chill out man
- >abayo chocoballs.
- >not necessarily bad but it's sort of slow with no streams, we need to brainstorm together things to discuss in dead hours or maybe not
- >Everything you love will one day crumble and shiet
- >Too many snowflakes so you cant joke around because someone will get triggered
- >Am I the only that dislikes calling them tards? I know they're dummies but still
- >Let's be schizo-free this coming year!
- >Cherish your oshi and give her more compliments. I will do that too
- >Thank you for doing this.
- >Thank you for being kind. I was able to attend a live concert because of the board, and that was a meaningful experience.
- >Most of you are ok, I guess...(No, not you, I meant the other anons)
- >Another year with these fucking schizos. Thanks for another year, also live poyoyo poster live
- >You're fucking weird but I still love you.
- >Just a few short weeks of disruption led us here, I hope you people will stick around for a while longer

THE END

Thank you for participating in the survey!

As most of you are aware by now, I am not the usual surveyanon. I volunteered to take over for him as I do have a lot of free time this time of the year.

I've never worked on anything like this though so I have some regrets. Some questions weren't quite as interesting as I initially thought they would be, I could have written more analysis, I made a few mistakes here and there, etc.

If I'm still in charge of the 2026 survey I will learn from these mistakes and hopefully create something even better.

Happy New Year guys
