Pulmonology professor Theodoros Vasilakopoulos was in an awkward position on Monday morning during his TV appearance at the Open station.

The reason is that now the data show that the ICUs have been filled with vaccinated people, despite the narration of the "experts" and the government.

Journalist Akis Pavlopoulos asked initially. "I am 50 years old, I have put 3 vaccines in my arm, so will the job go? "Every three months from a vaccine."

With Th. Vasilakopoulos answering that "you are terribly protected in relation to the completely unvaccinated. You are not 100% invulnerable. You have a small risk, which is almost eliminated if you get the fourth vaccine."

"We used to say the same about the third dose, guys, do the third dose to be protected, now they say do the fourth. "This story must end, we can not go every quarter to kick a vaccine ," the journalist continued.

In fact, reference was made to the percentages of EODY that show that more than 40% of the intubated are fully vaccinated, with Th. Vasilakopoulos claiming that you are fully vaccinated and double vaccinated, something with which the journalists disagreed, but who They said that even 13% to be in ICU with three installments (this percentage was mentioned by Th. Vasilakopoulos) is a significant percentage.

The professor then made a dribble, saying that "from September the updated vaccines will have been released".

Somewhere there, the journalists asked the director of the Geodynamic Institute of Athens, Professor Akis Tselentis, to express his opinion.

"Unfortunately I have been vaccinated," he said, adding that he wanted to do either Russian or Chinese because it is a classic technology and not mRNA and at the same time he had evidence that it is more effective.
