Flavor of the Week Rats and Mice

Rats and Mice are both rodents and are present on every continent, including antarctica with its human population. There isn't a corner of earth where you won't find a nice mouse woman longing for love.

Naturally, mice are very social or very solitary, with shut-ins being as common as socialites. Usually in a tan to black fur, they are dominated by their neutral color and smaller stature. They tend to be more bottom heavy, lovely breasts of even their larger cousins, but don't be fooled, just because of their smaller boobies doesn't mean they aren't just as apt at feeding will-be children than any other. Notice how I say will be as rodent heats are intense and happen 21 times per week, three hours at a time. Usually standing at 4'8" or 1.35 Meters these bundles of lust will show you the famous fertile fields of the mouse.

Rats, are notably larger than their mousy cousins, standing anywhere from 5'0 to 6'3 depending on species. They are like mice but larger, and more intense with a love for meat, no not the kind in your pants. They are like mice but larger, smarter, and more emotional.

Classics Corner:

If There's an Off Switch

By: Silverbro

Pentagram City.

It's a truly awful place. The people of the Nine Circles aren't strangers to the worst of the worst. Murder, adultery, rape, apathy, any depraved thing you could come up with is overflowing in stock.

Yet it doesn't keep Anonymous Goetia from engaging with it. The city of dead hopes and dreams acts as a haven; A distraction from the horrific mess that is his home. Both influences have negatively impacted him to the core, with seemingly no hope in sight.

He'll soon discover this is not the case. Maybe, just maybe, things won't end so bad.

Man has a drunken hookup with a fluffy raptor lady.

Note from Smiling: I can't really say much without giving the story away, it's a rather short greentext.

DM me (A_Smiling_Face) over sofurry if you want to help in the project, or run your own page in the weekly newsletter.

This is mainly a test because some dude thought it'd be cool. I won't have as much time going forward, so I'd be nice if everyone could run their own page. I can try to set up, or maybe you (members of the thread) could help me with that as I am for shit at anything digital communications related.

As for regularity, maybe weekly, bi-weekly, monthly or quarterly, I really don't know.
