

The following will show the continuous chain from Horse Mommy before Secondlife to the Horse Mommy today and how they are the same person. Meaning there is no account change despite what they may claim.

The Start

This is the first HorseMommy (HM) post in the Second Life Trash thread. They began with a furry avatar with bimbo additions. Take note of the file naming scheme as that will appear a lot. In particular the number. During this post they also state they are new to the game. Right from the start their pictures are coomer in nature, posting explicit content with a number of sexual partners.

Hi I'm new to this game and have literally no idea what I should be doing so any suggestions would be great

During this time there is also a confirmation that they are indeed the HM that posts in The Black Desert Generals. Their pictures follow a similar format and style to those and contain a link back to the other elements of HM's Past.

First Human Avatar

Their First human-like avatar is created. Take note of the red hair. Also take note of the bra used and that the file number has increased accordingly.

Here is the continuation of the style of content posted as well as the evolution of the avatar. Take note of the change in hair used.

Red Head Avatar

This is the first main HM avatar that will be used for some time. Also take note of the skybox used.

Tripcode Era

During this time HM began to use the tripcode of !!JuivTaTqr0m. It is also a continuation of the main Red Head Avatar. Note the file number has still continued to increase.

A photo at steak where they refer to the other person as a shota. During this time they also mention shotas a lot.

Shota Fiend

This was the first post under a new avatar style, that of a demon that they called the Shota Fiend. Oddly these screenshots were properly named rather than the standard file number. Take note of the black fading and garter belts. Also notice that the bra is the same bra used all the way back on their first human avatar. The backdrop and lighting setup is still the same.

Further Evolution

Here HM continues to adjust their avi, in particular the addition of freckles. The file number increases. During this time they also change other aspects like hair and adding additional arms. Sometimes they even post with a cock or bulge clothing. These posts continue to take place in the same skybox with the wood slats. This avi also uses the same underwear that the first Pedo Incident picture used.

Asian Demon Avi

Here is the first post of the Asian Demon Avatar. Though this is a semi-new avatar and the point where HM claims to have taken over the account there is no evidence to suggest so. The style is the same and includes the same items. The skybox is also the same. But most importantly the snapshot file number has not reset, which it would if it was someone else on the account on a different PC.

During this time their posting is intertwined with the 'old' blonde spider-like avatar. Eventually they further change the Asian Demon Avatar, including adding a golden jacket and changing hair.

Depends on what you are, woman man etc etc a lot of the main stores specialize in one gender or the other.

Steak Discord

The day HM joined discord. On the same day they post with the Asian Demon Avatar to trash.

The first picture posted in Discord.

After

Beyond this the chain continues as Hm creates more avatars, some even bringing in old items. This carries on until today of an unbreaking chain.

Conclusion

The Horse Mommy of the past is the Horse Mommy of today. There is a continuous chain of events linking the two completely. At no point in time is there evidence to suggest a change of person behind the account and posting. The evidence all leads to the opposite.

There is an evolution of their avatar that links them together and even when new avatars are created they are still intertwined in posting or sharing exact elements such as the bra. Their pictures are taken in the same style as well as the same windlight. At no point is there a file number reset on the file name that coincides with a change of person, something that would occur on a new PC. There is also a constant resolution of 1920x1017 which can be a small indicator.

These pictures are also taken in the same skyboxes or in front of the same blank background and spotlight lighting setup. A lot of the time the same poses are also used throughout the time periods. The assisting accounts created also do not align with any shift in posting. Instead it shows a distinct act of attempting to recreate the persona.

And implanted in all of it is the constant mention of shotas and wishing to interact with them. There is no dismissing of this until a 'persona change' yet continues to take pictures with the same people and shotas. Of course topped off with the pictures directly with shotas, mainly the naked one.

Of course there is additional evidence that could be put here, but the most distinct and obvious posts have been chosen here. It is concrete that this is the same Horse Mommy that has committed everything from the original photoshops, Black Desert posts, Shota and coomer pots in SL, and now to the lying persona.
