Hello Trinity and Frank,

As an affected member, I am again asking you to lay out what the requirements are that you consider a member.

It's an extremely simple inquiry.

This will be the last attempt to ascertain the most basic of a question you're hiding the answer to.

Thanks

Additionally, why are you requesting to verify my church membership? What is the end goal of that?

It's perfectly reasonable to ask what the criteria is to be considered a member in your eyes, before providing my own personal information.

There is no reason to provide you with personal information if I can attest I will or won't satisfy your criteria.

I'm happy to confirm whether I'm a member (and give you the information to confirm it) once I know what the actual criteria is. This is a totally legally reasonable standard. It avoids the situation of you being able to state I'm not a member after the fact, when we state very clearly upfront what makes a member.

If you deny a self identified member an answer to a very simple question, please justify why.

Thanks

Hi Penny,

Thank you for your response.

I want to be straightforward with you: I'm not in a position to engage in an analysis of what members of the church have access to with someone whose identity I have not been able to verify. That is not me being difficult — it is simply how this process works, and it applies equally to everyone.

My original request was simple and reasonable: please provide your name so that I can confirm your membership. That step comes first, before anything else. Redirecting with legal questions before providing that basic information is not a path I'm able to go down.

If you are a member of Fount Church in good standing, then I am happy to continue the discussion with you. I'd kindly ask that you provide your full name so we can move forward in an orderly and transparent way.

I look forward to your cooperation.

[WARNING: EXTERNAL SENDER]

Hi Jordan,

Sure, I can certainly do that.

However, I would first like to understand: what is your legal stance on what specific criteria qualifies as a member who would be eligible to access a copy of the 455 page financial report you guys produced?

Thanks,

Penny

The Chairman of the Board of directors forwarded me the email dialogue that you have had with him.

Your email states that you are a member of Fount Church. Can you please provide me your name so I can verify your membership?
