"Long ago, or probably last Saturday, in a galaxy far far away..."
text appears

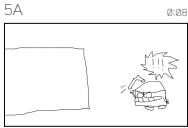

[XSONA LOGO, as a song that suspiciously like the Star Wars theme plays]
xsona logo appears, as it slowly zooms out

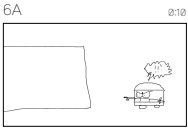

"Somewhere in the planet of Nomia, the dark overlord Alesismov seeks power, but Aria ain't gonna let her. Blah blah blah, whatever."
text scrolling

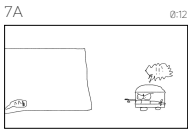

(pan right to Boltz, who is cranking the opening scroll)
(the music distorts before eventually stopping)

"BOLTZ: Enough with this bullcrap. I wanna get to this dang story!"
boltz gets pissed

"Reebo, cut to the next scene!"
boltz orders reebo to cut to the next scene

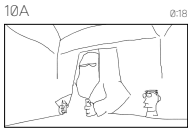

"REEBO (off-screen):
(beeps cheerfully)"
<REEBO, princess ARIA's spherical robot assistant, agrees.>

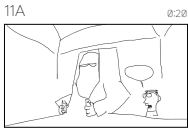

"God, I hate this job. I'm outta here. I've got oil to give to my customers. Reebo, go with Aria."
boltz runs away

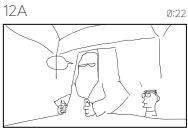

<cut to a starfield. Two ships are battling: one is a sleek looking spaceship (imagine an Apple Magic Mouse) commanded by ARIA, princess of Planet Nomia, and another is a bulky spaceship run by LORD ALESISMOV (like say, an '80s Macintosh mouse coated in black), the evil overlord who wants to rule the universe of XSONA.)>

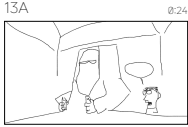

We go inside of Alesismov's ship, where he is commanding the ship, and ISAAC (5), his son, (who spectacularly fails at being evil), sits next to him.

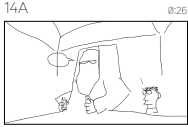

"ISAAC:
Daddy, what are we doing?"

"ALESISMOV:
Son, we are going to take over XSona together. All we need is that crystal in Aria's castle."

"ISAAC:
But I don't wanna!
It's too cliché!"

"ALESISMOV:
If you don't, no more dessert for the rest of the week."
