I know a lot of conservatives who prefer to "take the high ground" and "not sink to their level." Most of the time I agree. But NOT all the time. If we never hold our opponents accountable to the same ridiculous standards they set for us, we'll always lose.

Great Uncle. (I made the same mistake... because they have the same name.)

Fully agree with this. We should be rooting for the truth, whether or not it matches our preconceived notions or preferred narratives. And it's not fair to blame a Governor for every death in their state. Let's focus more on the POLICIES.

important thread point isn't that Glenn Kessler's relatives were Nazis; I highlighted that to show how hypocritical it is for journalists to scrutinize people's ancestry as a "gotcha." The point is that a liberal WaPo fact checker doesn't understand why his article was racist. <https://t.co/Led9BedGUp>

I am not sharing my March 18 article on @GovRonDeSantis +Florida rollout to self-promote, I'm sharing it to prove that as of 3 WEEKS AGO, ALL the claims/insinuations in tonight's @CBSNews @60Minutes "investigation" had already been debunked. Ridiculous! <https://t.co/VuxyJfbzQu>

So @60Minutes spent 3 MONTHS "investigating" if @Publix donated $100k to @GovRonDeSantis PAC in exchange for the right to distribute vaccines. DeSantis' likely 2022 Dem challenger @nikkifried - loudest proponent of this conspiracy theory - received $45k Publix donation to her PAC

The "Florida is hiding thousands of COVID deaths" conspiracy into "Geographers, especially those who were fired from 3 jobs & arrested 5 times, know more about epidemiology than epidemiologists do." <https://t.co/BgjDNDxueb>

New "justification" for lockdowns and excessive government control just dropped. Well this narrative has been circulating for a while, but this is the most in-your-face example I've seen
yet. <https://t.co/HsO0d26phb>
