MONBOORU

ATTRIBUTION AND CREATOR RECOGNITION

When available, record the artist's name or username, work title, and a link to an official profile. Include the original publication link whenever possible. Use reliable sources and respect attribution preferences. Never guess an identity or present uncertain information as fact. If authorship is unconfirmed, mark it unknown.

Prefer the earliest source published by the creator or an authorized representative. Link to the specific work or creator page. If the original page is unavailable, retain trustworthy references and state that the source could not be confirmed.

External fonts, libraries, frameworks, and tools may have attribution requirements. Identify the resource, its creator, and official source. Follow applicable license requirements. Acknowledgment does not mean Monbooru owns the material.

Correct names and links when information changes. Preserve source context. Monbooru aims to keep attribution accurate.