We wear ill-fitting uniforms that make us look like psychopaths and can be found sitting in a dark corner of a bar, sipping club soda and reading a Warhammer 40K novel. Alone.

And now I kind of feel like an ass for wanting to write on underlying nationalist themes in a Russian survival horror game.

There's a weird air of self-martyrdom around the online eating disorder community.

But I'll take it over "fat acceptance" any day.

How much weed do you think was involved

Which only means that I'll have a different manner of fun. Besides, it's a Rhetoric class rather than any social studies. I'll learn something.

Besides, my school's been surprisingly tolerant of the fact that I'm a Nazi.

We could work with ChoiceScript.

Got my teeth whitened yesterday. Which means no coffee for two days. I will die.

MEANWHILE IN AMERICA...

On deviantART, maybe? Sure sounds like a lot of DA users I've seen.

I'm not seeing your point.

And I just noticed that their "Stop Hate Crimes" sign is a fucking hexagon.

Hurr, looks like I beat you here.

'Twas a joke, but I see your point.

We can be oppressed together, comrade!

It's true. Love is an entirely alien concept to me.

You reminded me of this one thing I found. Fat white girl decides she wants to make Snow White and Rose Red dark and edgy and sexy. This results.

Wouldn't a symbol of traditional marriage be a multiplication sign?

Ah, but he contacted me first. ;P

There's even a horse. That's eerie.

It tastes like anise with some other herbs, and it's a little bitter though you add sugar to it. It's quite strong, too.

Other way around. Valentine's Day is when women buy gifts (usually chocolate) for the men, and on White Day the men reciprocate with their own gifts.

I'm fine with it as long as they don't try it with actual people. Their friend WalkingMaelstrom, on the other hand, thought it'd be a good idea to describe in great detail a sexual fantasy he had about my dead body. Three times, in fact. Even sent me pictures...

Every trait a person can possibly have will be labeled and pathologized under the guise of "empowerment" that will only convince us that we are weak and oppressed.

You are not having enough sex/You are having too much sex. You are too feminine/You are too masculine. Here, take these pronouns and call us in the morning. If you still feel like a functioning human being, don't worry, we'll soon have a label for you too. You won't have to deal with the burden of your privilege much longer.

You're in our care.

I don't think that's really the point that Ben was trying to make. The way I see it, the reference to "stranger danger" serves to emphasize that anti-racism and anti-xenophobia is against common sense.

I recently discovered Ancient FM, for all you who like medieval and renaissance music or just want to feel classy while studying. Add RainyMood.com for extra Merry Christmas, Iron March.

Got a much-needed haircut.

So after I arrived in Bangkok, I found that I grabbed the wrong suitcase from the airport. Contents included women's clothing and a bag of fruit. So I tell the professor what happened, he said that he'll take care of it the next day, and I left the bag with him. He takes the bag to the airport, they give him the phone number of the people who own that suitcase. He calls, and the guy is pretty irate about it, insisting that the suitcase be taken to his hotel rather than him picking it up.

So the professor goes to the hotel these people are at, goes up to the room, knocks at the door. The guy is middle aged, paunchy, possibly German. With him is a lady who is quite clearly a prostitute. I had taken a prostitute's bag. The guy takes the bag, but then starts demanding money, pulling out all these receipts. The professor refuses to give any money, since it was enough just to bring the stuff over. The guy kicks him! It looked like a serious kick, but didn't actually hurt. He then punches him in the chest and kicks him again. One of the hotel staff pulls him away.

When the professor starts walking back down the hall, the guy shouts "You're not a Christian!"

That thread was Ben's idea.

And you'd post cleavage if yours looked as fabulous as mine. Don't hate me 'cause I'm beautiful~

Back when I was playing Sims 3, I made this charming fellow:

Ah, angora rabbits. Can be one of the most hilarious-looking lagomorphs.

Which could also explain why most of us fascists are Asian.

So I'm left with a $2400 bill because our insurance fucking sucks and doesn't cover anything. I would've been better off if I died.

Not me. I'm the final evolution of Jigglypuff.

Milk kind of scares me. Almond milk is yummy, though.

I think at least half of our fascists started by wishing that life could be more like Warhammer.

It's just hair, everyone...

I was very briefly part of a drama club in high school. But after a while I couldn't stand being around so many loud people.

And last semester, I was part of the editing staff for the literary magazine, and I'll be going back to that next year. It was a poetry issue and I don't know a damn thing about poetry, but I did my best.

Absinthe. I'm not picky about the brand.

I used to be all sorts of uptight about skinheads, until some of them actually started talking to me. They're more like dogs than apes - destructive when bored, yet easily trainable.

We tend to talk a lot about public image when we denounce skinheads, but here's the thing: We're really against the public thinking that all of us are skinheads. To combat that, we need more types of people in general. From all classes, all levels of education, all walks of life. Not just people like us. It's not like we're perfect either, so speaketh the forum alcoholic.

My Little Brony: The Friendless Are Tragic. Read the traits of the "Unhappy" subgroup and see if you won't froth at the mouth. Not to mention the gigantic paragraph trying to justify masturbating to fanfic about ponies fucking. English. I had some really great teachers who had a great sense of humor and taught everything with such enthusiasm that I looked forward to writing essays. Art was fun too. Then there was that one year back in middle school when I took home ec; good god I love sewing.

I think it's more an example of "I like THIS boy but no wait I also like THAT boy and omg boys somethingdystopia WHAT'S A GIRL TO DO"

nope that doesn't sound gay at all

On the Awful Library Books blog, there's a post about a children's book about cosmetic surgery called My Beautiful Mommy. A little girl thinks her mommy is the prettiest mommy in the whole wide world, but mommy wants a nose job and a tummy tuck insisting that it will make her even prettier. Written by a plastic surgeon trying to advertise his business. To children, for some ungodly reason.

Well now I find myself unable to sleep at nearly 5 AM. I'd say that this is hilarious, but everything is hilarious at this hour. I call it Nigger o'Clock. Because it's so dark.

"Frag queen" would be a great term for a man who has female avatars in multiplayer games for the purpose of getting free items.

One of my dogs just died, from a ruptured tumor. We had her for fourteen years. Epic Atheist Brony. EPIC ATHEIST BRONY.

I think we're underestimating how much people love violent images. I can really only speak for Americans in this regard, since there are undoubtedly international differences, but just look at the media that catches the most attention. We love danger, we love violence and bloodshed. One of the hottest series right now is about kids killing each other. Sure, there's probably some pacifist message in there, but let's not pretend that's why people are buying it.

If you don't mind me blabbing for a bit about MY WRITING PROJECT, I went ahead and wrote in some of the goriest, ugliest things I could. Our Hyperborean superman who returns to Earth to save humanity is also a horrifying zombie with a sliced-off face who makes his first appearance butchering degenerates. The sky is on fire! Our future emperor broods in his Gothic tower about the end of all things! WE ARE LIVING IN A GRIMDARK WORLD AND WE MUST OUTGRIMDARK ALL THE GRIMDARK. I brought some of these stories to my school's writing workshop, and found people becoming sympathetic to our Nazi heroes even while knowing of their inevitable violent uprising. It was quite an interesting experiment.

Beauty is dead.

Race war? Zombie apocalypse? Anything?

Okay so out of morbid curiosity I tracked down one of the artists included, and...

I am going to have fucking nightmares. Thank you so, so much.

I imagine it'll happen like this:

HEIL, GIIIIIRRRLS

I'm in Thailand right now, staying in a really beautiful guest house.

Any excuse to post this:

Setting up a Liberal Degeneration blog over at Tumblr.

But who cares? Someone drew Hitler giving birth to a pony.

Submissive people, not necessarily subordinates. The latter is so for the sake of efficiency, one hopes that outside whatever job he has there is also a healthy sense of self. The former are prey animals by nature. We have enough chickens and sheep in this world. They are hollow of spirit and feeble of mind, and one of the worst things about them is how they like to patter after those they see as strong and flatter them in hopes of protection and companionship and as a result render themselves a load of dead weight.

I spend my afternoon making a flan. I burn the first batch of caramel and I have to throw it out. The second batch takes for-fucking-ever to make because I was afraid of burning it, but guess what? It ends up way too dark, but I use it anyway because hell if I make a third one. I bake my flan for an hour in a glass bowl instead of a glass baking pan because we didn't have one. I let it sit on the counter for hours because I'm supposed to let it cool completely. I go down to the kitchen, and guess what?

MY DAD FUCKING ATE A PIECE OF MY FUCKING FLAN. While it was still warm. And now it's ruined because I'm supposed to turn the thing onto a plate to serve it, and now there's a chunk missing out of what would have been the bottom. Well gee, dad, nice to hear that my flan at least tasted good to you!

If that were true I'd be trying to divide the forum into territories and demanding that no one on my side pay attention to THAT BITCH.

It means you wished your parents were dead, you sicko.

No. As soon as a non-white clicks the Register button, their computer crashes. All of their information is downloaded to our servers. We receive an alarm blaring 'SPY IN THE BASE' over and over until we press a button that dispatches a squad of Stormtroopers to their location for capture. The captive is held in a special storage facility where they are interrogated by day and experimented on by night. The only escape is death.

Unfortunately, some people are trying to change that...

I think that the blogger Xiaxue sums up my feelings on all of it perfectly in this post: <http://xiaxue.blogspot.com/2012/02/fat.html> Mostly about how people started getting pissy when Karl Lagerfeld said that Adele is "a little too fat."

I like her better when she's killing people, like in Paparazzi, Bad Romance, and Telephone.

I'm just saying, it's a part of human nature. No such thing as an anti-war film and all.

Reminds me of how bullies will try to provoke some other kid into attacking them just so they can cry to the administration and get that kid in trouble.

There are a lot of hardened criminals who would love any opportunity to kill a pedophile. Making allies of such criminals could be very, very useful.

'Twas a group effort. Surprised it took this long for it to be discovered. Here we have a fairly catchy song by the lovely Emilie Autumn, unfortunately also some sort of feminist anthem about how she seeks revenge on the entire male population. Some choice lyrics:

Now, she hasn't had the happiest experiences with men (she has been abused and raped), but this is just unnecessary. Consider the sort of audience this is reaching.

Choose your empowered choice! Hooray! Just like Sasha Grey!

Well, I wanted purple, but all the red pigment in my hair is really tough to kill.

Morality is based on not wanting others to harm you, thus you do not harm them. It arises from the question, "What actions, if done unto me, would make me wish to retaliate?" Religion takes this a step further by saying that an external force will punish you if the person you harmed does not, thus preventing harm from coming to those who are too weak to retaliate themselves.

So, today is apparently a National Day of Silence. Basically giving everyone the silent treatment in protest of gay kids being bullied. How's that for bitchy passive aggression? Just not talking so someone can ask you why the hell you're not talking and then giving them some self-righteous pamphlet or another.

I ought to stage a Day of Screaming as a counterpoint. Because really, who are you going to listen to? The people who aren't talking to anyone, or the people who are walking around going AAAAAAHHHH! AAAAAAHHH!!! WHY ARE HOMOSEXUALS BEING GIVEN SPECIAL TREATMENT!! AAAAAAAHHHH! OTHER KIDS ARE BEING BULLIED TOO! AAAAAAAHHHHH!!!! I say it's neither, just one of us fucking around for the lulz.

That, and they're just nice guys. And nice guys are irritating as shit. I now have a tendency to projectile vomit at the phrase "I'm here for you if you ever need to talk about anything!"

I wish the slave trade was still a thing. Imagine the money we could be making now! What if it turns out to be black

I too hate the word "homophobia." It pathologizes what is in fact a completely normal sense of aversion.

I recently had to rant about how much I hate "alt models", because for some reason every narcissistic cunt with a Model Mayhem account and daddy issues thinks she's a fucking artist and we're all JUS JELOS.

Ah, another American NS! Welcome!

I keep seeing all these posters for "Coming Out Day" on campus. A lot of which feature students. If this were my freshman year, I'd be writing a sort of rant about it. If it were my sophomore or junior year, I'd start writing the URL to Iron March on all the posters I saw. But now, I'm just counting the chubby white girls proclaiming to be "straight allies." I've yet to find all of them.

It would be the best worst thing ever.

So I watched Bee Movie (this is Tumblr's fault). Turns out the whole thing is a Holocaust metaphor. Seinfeld even refers to the apiaries as "work camps." I'm surprised there was no "Zyklon Bee" pun.

What the fuck is wrong with Jews that they'd shoehorn their Holohoax into a movie about goddamn talking bees.

It's Mountain Dew mixed with Red Bull, and I hate the fact that I know this. Registered for next semester's classes. Will be taking a class on propaganda. Should be tons of fun, and useful!

Also, the tail would get in the way. I think. I have no idea and don't want to think about it for too long.

I like to appeal to people's sense of cynicism about modern politics, and hell, about other people in general. Remind them that Honey Boo Boo's mother can vote and they'll ask you where they can pick up an armband.

In response to the ever-popular "early warning signs of fascism" thing:

I've seen blogs like that before, all just a never-ending cycle of narcissism. Let's not pretend that women aren't just browsing all these "body acceptance" sites so they can look at bodies that make them feel better about their own. That's why there's also resentment for any thin woman who submits her photo.

I think someone on Tumblr pointed out it was a parody image from some chan or another.

Sometimes dumpy white chicks have very important feelings.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lWCU0jC2h_k

I've noticed a lot of similar tripe on deviantART as well. "I AM BEAUTIFUL, I AM CONFIDENT, WORSHIP MY PASTY FOLDS." Acting like it's something revolutionary, when it really serves no purpose but to feed into itself. And other young ladies join in, praising such beauty and confidence in the expectation of receiving similar praises. I even briefly considered taking a photo of my own to parody the phenomenon, but realized I'd probably be undermining my own message.

wut

I have stories. Third grade: I decided that I'd be Hitler and lead an army of girls to conquer the playground. Unfortunately, few stayed loyal to the cause, lost to such enemy distractions as soccer games and jump rope. The final blow is when I developed a crush on an enemy, and thus cast myself down the twirly slide in shame. Yes, it's telling when one is so lazy as to put off signing up for an online forum. :V

I am Lindsay, a nineteen-year-old student in the midwestern United States, and a National Socialist, though I do not prioritize white nationalism as much as combating liberal degeneracy. I'm unaffiliated with any Neo-Nazi group, as it seems that in America their culture and mine do not mesh particularly well. The online community seems to be where I belong more than anything.

At least three of you will know me from my deviantART account that was banned back in April of this year. The initials "SF" might ring a bell. (I won't write out my username in full because I know some butthurt individuals like to Google it.)

So, greetings all. I'm ready for enlightenment. ('-')

Obviously STEM majors are still superior to the rest of us...

I'm kind of sad that you didn't go for the obvious 'NazBall' pun.

And Squadristi ball looks like a gimp mask.

This is the part where someone rants about all popular music being a sign of liberal degeneracy.

(SPOILER: We're all a bunch of hipster elitists~)

and just look at those sharp knees

disgusting

So, uh, when are you going to try confronting a fascist offline?

I pissed off an antifa on Tumblr today just by reblogging a photo of policemen.

Aww, it's their Kokoro Wish.

I know a little coffee shop that'd be the perfect place to deposit these. I may provide pictures when I do. :3

I think it's completely natural that a lot of us would hold disdain for Neo-Nazis, if for nothing else, than the fact that any layperson will associate us with them whether we like it or not. Hence we tend to put a lot of effort in distancing ourselves from them. Is it right? I don't know. But it's understandable. Though I can say that there isn't much use in making ourselves into some kind of ghetto. But I do wonder what the Neo-Nazis think about us. The one whom I know in meatspace does admire me, though that's not much of a sample size at all.

I do support bullying their ditzy girlfriends, though. :3

Music in the modern world. We all a stupid how.

That wasn't either of them, that was WalkingMaelstrom. I never actually looked at the pictures, but they were of how he wanted my corpse laid out for him.

Why don't you go make an angry blog post about it?

How we all began.

Basically they're putting too much weight (lol) on physical appearance, which has the exact opposite effect of what they want. But I'm really in no position to say how important beauty actually is. Regardless, whining is a bad thing.

I don't even know Yorick but I'm going to start calling him "Don't start a Cupcake" now.

How much do you want to bet we're going to see this kid on the news before the end of the year?

And ponies.

Quite a few Nazis come from liberal parents, I've found. I suppose it's because of the way liberals raise their children, seeing themselves as nurturers rather than authority figures, so the children are more inclined to seek independent modes of thought. Plus there's the fact that young people are very perceptive of flaws in any system they're exposed to, thus if they're mostly exposed to liberalism...

Last semester I studied abroad in Southeast Asia, which was a great experience because I learned a lot about my own people's culture and traditions. With that in mind, I'd like to travel through eastern Europe to learn about the other half of my heritage. Or anywhere I can get cheap food and clothing.

I didn't make it; it was something I saved from a random image site.

And I did know how to read by the time I was two years old. Yet I wasn't one of those screaming babies, (if my parents are telling the truth), so I'm good.

Ms Amber Hazard was someone I had found previously thanks to their whinings about Independence Day being tagged under #fascism, which I track for obvious reasons. I decided to Google their name just to see if they've said anything funny somewhere else, and there it was.

Which one of you is this?

It's more than a little embarrassing that liberals, who normally consider themselves to be champions of science and reason, will eschew logic altogether when it does not align with their sense of morality. They will freely condemn the right for attempting to make morality absolute, but only when that morality isn't theirs. But we know all this already.

Here we have cultural relativism, a principle that's actually quite popular in universities despite its inherent absurdity. Thanks to it, we absolutely cannot criticize the practices of other cultures no matter how objectively immoral or dangerous they may be. And god forbid you want to condemn a culture that is disadvantaged/made up of brown people! No matter how you feel about starving Africans, their beliefs aren't more important than yours merely because they are starving and you are not.

Here I will quote a book on philosophy, Crimes Against Logic by Jamie Whyte, wherein there is a section which not only dissects the notion of cultural relativism but also mocks liberal guilt:

Gook posting Jap cartoons. There's a difference.

Same here.

There's one question that might be throwing the Militaristic score off:

Considering how we like dictatorships, well...

Just moved into my new dorm room. Someone fucked it up because it doesn't have a fucking curtain. How the hell am I going to get dressed in here?

But I'm more referring to when liberals think relativism can apply to things that are meant to be based in facts. Some things are objective. For example, Western medicine versus alternative medicine. If Western medicine is truly the best way of treating a certain ailment, as supported by empirical evidence, then that holds true even in cultures that have their own medicinal tradition. But they would not admit such a thing, for suggesting that anything Western could be superior to the ways of a favorite noble savage is heresy. This conflicts with a supposed adherence to science.

Who else thinks this looks a little familiar...?

The week after next is Human Rights Week, and I want to do something fun. I'm considering making flyers to hand out, but what should go on them?

I even got a death threat from the lovely lady!

I find it suspicious that it was developed by Asians. They're the ones who'd be impossible to track!

I'll be studying abroad in Thailand next semester. I might see some of these guys around.

More presents for Talley.

Funny you're saying this, after the interest you've shown in my ideas and beliefs. Unless you somehow missed the hot pink lipstick and DD's in my personal photo. Also I'd like to take a moment to appreciate the irony of a ponyfag calling anyone a hipster.

But isn't it important to know which pony we are? I'm Twilight Sparkle! Alex, you are Rarity.

I caught a nasty cold.

Now I'm a Snotzi.

He found an old discussion of my beliefs that I had with someone, and generally liked the way that my Nazism sounded.

Everyone: -2 Charisma. :^r

Because feminine characteristics = sexualized. Never mind that girls as young as 9 actually are developing breasts.

And what are neofascists but LARPers these days?

I don't know, I think it's needlessly cynical to believe that for two people to be able to stand living together one must relinquish their sense of self.

I'm thinking of how some mentally disturbed people tend to be fascinated by their own waste. I suppose menstrual blood can be included in that, but with the bonus of being wrapped up in the pretty little bow of feminism and body acceptance. That, or the Vagina Monologues has been adapted into a cookbook.

I've encountered remarkably little opposition. Most people find themselves very curious about my ideas when I begin talking about them. I tend to phrase things in the abstract, speaking of "degenerates" and "noble men", and of "blood" rather than "race." Explaining why I reject democracy is always successful as well. Their own beliefs are never brought up at all, everything said is about myself and how the world appears to me, how I'm not "that kind" of Nazi, how my beliefs were shaped over a matter of years, and so on. I tend to avoid arguments and heated debates, as most of the time there's no point.

Just try to be charming and spirited so anyone who tries to oppose you looks like a jackass. :3

My new avatar is fucking terrifying

It's some kind of weird psychological thing, methinks. Either way it's hilarious.

Love is love, except for when it's also a ciscentric heterosexist patriarchal social construct.

"THAT'S RACIST... oh wait, it's a Japanese holiday?"

I'll talk to my RA tomorrow morning. For now I just changed in the bathroom. Even moved my bed to the other side of the room. I really, really hate windows.

I'm reminded of the time they killed off Vic Sage and replaced him with Renee Montoya, a Hispanic lesbian. Makes no sense. The Question was always supposed to be a hardcore Objectivist, but then the whole point of the character got steamrolled by political correctness.

Another word to the wise: Never talk back to Slavros, your life will be a lot easier for it.

I tried hanging a sheet, but as it turns out there's nowhere to hang it because the little plastic hooks are all broken.

Nordics are awkward though.

I have the worst schedule ever this semester. On Monday my classes start at 8 AM and my last class ends at 9 PM. This is going to be hell. I can't stop sleeping between classes either. Woke up like ten minutes before screenwriting class, forgot to brush my hair, ended up walking into the wrong classroom looking like I'd just been fucked before unceremoniously hobbling out and over to the classroom next door where I find the students having a scintillating conversation about underwear.

ANAL FISTING IS EMPOWERMENT

BEING PISSED ON IS ART

Every other man thinks I'm scary. :<

Because somehow I knew that years later I would join an online forum whose founder is an Uzbek.

you misspelled 'kawaii'

Something's wrong with my leg. My left calf just started cramping up before I even woke up yesterday morning, and it hurts to move it even slightly. I have no idea how this happened.

I found this on my old hard drive and I can't breathe

The first non zombie-related article that introduced me to survival is one dealing with how to disappear in America.

<http://www.skeptictank.org/hs/vanish.htm>

Less on basic survival, more on how to make an escape. A lot of it seems overly paranoid, but you never know.

And thus marks the beginning of a new internet sensation - SWEET SLAVROS AND HELLA BEN.

Nonsense. All fascists have autism.

It was in the form of a joke, but I felt really embarrassed nonetheless.

Happy US Election, everyone.

This gif sums up Iron March:

My hair is no longer pink.

It's that gosh-darn escapism again. The cartoon is set in a magical beautiful world full of candy and rainbows where everyone can get along. Not to mention that the cast is all female, so every creepy nerd can find a perfect pony waifu. (Oh god, Fluttershy...)

Nothing wrong with liking cartoons. Being a manchild, on the other hand, is what makes Bronies so hated.

Cis meaning not transsexual, aka us normal folks.

repost this if you are a beautiful strong androgynous-expressing demisexual/gray-A polyamorous panromantic genderqueer who don't need no gender binary

She seems so happy.

I assume this is your first experience with Blingee?

More reasons why Gothic is the best RPG series ever. I've never seen any Gothic related faggotry.

This is like the equivalent of that guy who shows up at a party with a guitar. No one likes that guy.

I'm an atheist. That's just the expected result of being raised by a Catholic mother and a Buddhist father who eventually started going to a Unitarian Universalist church. Instead my ideology is influenced by the laws of nature, as I see them. I'm not terribly compatible with Christianity, but there are a lot of Christians I respect for their sense of good will. I like Buddhism as it is practiced in Asian countries, but please let's keep the white people away from it. Just a model, just a Muslim, don't hit on me silly infidels.

Today is my birthday. 21 years of war.

I haven't. Never had reason to.

I personally disapprove of the effect that pornography has had on culture in recent years, but bans and censorship are unlikely to do anything at this point. It's just part of a trend of ignorance regarding sex and relationships. We're at a place where a woman can tell by a man's sexual performance if he consumes an excessive amount of porn. (Hint: IT MEANS HE'S BAD.)

I had to.

I'm back in Thailand, celebrating Songkran. I expected the water guns. I even bought my own, with Batman on it no less. What I did not expect was the buckets of water poured on me. I was this close to committing assault when I was sprayed while adjusting my shopping bags. Nonetheless the heat is much easier to bear when soaking wet.

I forgot how gross wet jeans are.

Well isn't that fucking charming.

Somehow I doubt that a woman made this.

So which one of you knows this guy?

How is that possible? FascistCapitalist has been dead for three years.

Kill it. Kill it with fire.

~The Real Queen of France~

It was pink because I had dyed it that color a while ago. Now it's just a boring light brown, but with violet tips. I had originally wanted to do an ombre thing, but that didn't work because the pink refused to bleach out.

You are seeing this right - a furry sex doll made with human remains stolen from graveyards.

It fits in a bit better in the original that has text on the other side.

Put it in because I didn't really know what to do with the white space.

And I ended up actually using duct tape to put the sheet up. I hope it holds, condensation might mess with the adhesive. But for now I have the most ghetto window dressing ever.

You innocent creature, you.

And the best part is that women actually find that video really creepy.

ROR

Oh the irony.

Took you long enough.

I remember things being very surreal after my graduation. The feeling of "Absolutely nothing that happened in the past four years matters now."

A present for Talleyrand:

Behold: Menstrual. Blood. Cookies.

And yes, there is a photo of the cookies in question. In case any of you have a particularly sensitive stomach.

Lady Gaga in Russian metanationalist costume leaves you with conflicting feelings.

Well, I regret to inform everyone that I ended up dropping the propaganda class I was previously so excited about. I didn't think I'd be taught too well by a professor who thinks I'm stupid and lazy and sexually promiscuous.

<http://mynationalistpony.tumblr.com/post/10365023083/foreword>

Okay, you guys.

Which one of you is responsible for this?

Or just blasting that song at them.

I recently found a blog, Who Needs Feminism?. I found this post ironic:

You can't fight liberal degeneration with liberal degeneration you leftist twit!
And the reason is that they live in Sweden.

I love how you can still see remnants of the 'e' under the 'y' in 'womyn'.

Ah, I see what you mean now.

Let's just call it a Bieber.

Well, welcome! I'll be watching to make sure the boys don't eat you. ('-')

Oh, that's just Japan being Japan.

The school year is over and I'm now relaxing at home after punching my finals in their goddamn face. But now I'm left with weird dreams about Greek mythology.

Welcome! Your introduction is nice and friendly and doesn't make me want to tear my eyes out!

Everyone, I'd like to introduce to you "Hey Mainstream Media!" A project by young Jewish feminist Jamie Keiles, in case you aren't sick of seeing unattractive middle class white people holding pieces of paper to express their lack of significance.

<http://www.flickr.com/groups/heymainstreammedia/pool/>

Typical "body acceptance" attention whoring. I've said it before and I'll say it again: It's a belly. You have one, I have one, my dog has one, and no one needs to give a good goddamn.

Are you so sure about that?

Ugh, preach it sister. I'm thin, perfect, and beautiful, but it doesn't mean I'm happy.

I have a lot to say about the "nerd girl" archetype that's become popular in the past couple of years, especially since I used to be friends with a few. The nerd girl gets a pass on maintaining her appearance, her femininity lying in her docility rather than any supposed charm. She's approachable, no sharp stiletto heels or nails that can claw you. But more importantly, like her male counterpart, she's forever a child. She may take on "quirky" or (even worse) "kawaii" affectations when she realizes this, especially as she gets older, given that all women are afraid of aging. She's preoccupied with male attention despite being outwardly asexual. This leads to seeing her awkwardly paired with a greasy nerd and you automatically think "Wait, have they EVER had sex?" and proceed to choke on the mental image.

I'm linking to the above instead of embedding them because they all share the same thing: I'M SO SMART, I READ BOOKS. I've been seeing a lot of that lately on the internet and it's becoming a pet peeve of mine. There's nothing special about reading books, especially not those of an escapist nature. A book does not exist in a vacuum for you to pick up and find entertainment with. It has a special relationship with the culture that birthed it, and if you are worth anything as a reader it is your job to comprehend and analyze it. And I seem to be in a ranting mood today.

Can I just call you Ebony Dark'ness Dementia Raven Way, then?

I am so sorry, everyone.

The only money I have is in cash. That might be a problem.

Well I found his About Me, which doesn't disclose his exact age but he's over 24.

I totally forgot I even had these. Forgive the image size.

I found this earlier:

Transsexuality: When you are born with a woman's brain in a man's body that just so happens to want to break women's faces. Love! Equality! Rainbows!

Do it.

Aw, but I love them.

Winter got really harsh down here in Iowa last month, but now the weather's more forgiving. I can wear my favorite shoes again. Not bad for living in one of the coldest cities in the states.

It reminds me of this:

Yeah, that's The Question having a political argument with Green Arrow. The only part of that particular comic worth reading, if you ask me.

In other news, my brother's been living in Hollywood for a little while now. He and my mother were just making plans for me to go out there this summer to see if I can pry my way into a job acting or writing or even modeling. I haven't performed in years. And I might just be eaten by Hollywood Jews.

Oh hey! I wrote the Faithful Hearts review!

I wouldn't mind the style if the clothes actually fit and flattered. On a lot of the transpeople it just looks sloppy because they're merely imitating style rather than owning it.

The solution: Nuke it from orbit. It's the only way to be sure.

I know, look at these poor oppressed victims of a patriarchal rape culture:

I will not say anything more about it other than that Alex will probably not like this game very much.

It's not that more men attempt suicide, it's that more men are successful. Maybe because the women might be too squeamish to use any method that involves bleeding. I'll avoid commenting on your failed marriage and the fact that my country still

I am terrified.

Welcome to 2003, enjoy your stay.

I see that the Iron March manly picnic is underway. Hope no one falls off the roof this time.

Because I know that a lot of anorexics were sexually abused and may be trying to starve themselves to achieve a less sexual-looking body. Plus there was the whole Kate Upton internet drama recently in which the writer of the offending blog post said her weight looked "pornographic."

So I managed to score myself a shirt that says "Big Brother Is Watching."

My reasons for staying with National Socialism comes from my desire to make myself an enemy of the modern world, though it also helped having friends who are fascist, National Socialist, and so on. As for the Third Reich, I most certainly agree with the spirit of it, though I'll admit that mistakes were made.

Why am I reading this post in a nasally sperglord voice?

Because we're hot. :3

Yeah, I've seen it around here and there, applied to any girl with hair like Barbie even if her face is potato-shaped.

5'3".

He still has time to grow out of it at least.

Anyway, welcome.

Comedy serves the purpose of catharsis, along with other forms of entertainment. It creates a designated space for vulgarity and the subversion of social norms, which are in turn resolved by laughter, so people can return to society as normal with their moral health in balance. When moral irregularities are satisfied on stage and screen, they have less of a chance to effect reality. However, this presents a problem now that we have the internet, wherein we become the entertainment.

But think of it being similar as to how schoolchildren have recess. They get their thirty minutes to run around and shout and play before returning to sit quietly and work.

Blutaar was in my dream last night.

Recently started playing Lone Survivor, and am absolutely loving it so far.

You have a deviantART account, don't you.

They could write it off as parody which would fall under fair use.

I honestly have no idea.

Weighed myself again. 91 pounds. How the hell could I have lost weight when I have done nothing this summer? I think I'm dying.

They finally finished my biography.

Go on.

Which brings up another point - loyalty. It's better to be followed by loyal idiots than fickle geniuses.

Aw fuck, and that Nazi Necrophiliac stamp was one that I made. It was originally a joke about the absurd amount of necrophiliacs you'll find among any given group of Nazis (Torture-device and Valgaror, anyone?).

I ought to hang myself.

Wishing you all a happy International Holocaust Remembrance Day!

What? It's true!

Methinks I should write a guide: HOW TO TALK TO WOMEN ONLINE WITHOUT BEING A NIGGERFAGGOT ABOUT IT.

But more on topic:

We might need a style thread after all this #hairchat.

I have a lot to say about Lady Gaga fans. A lot.

Sperging about favorite anime genres for an audience, such as ecchi, yuri, harem anime, and crossdressing anime.

And this dude is one of you guys, I just know it.

Mother Monster, you're adorable, but I can't make much sense of this...

And we might just end up with a Klein bottle.

The thing that bothers me the most about the spectrum is that it's called an autocracy not a monarchy dammit.

Because we're fabulous.

I may be reading one of my stories at an English department event at my school next week. I wonder how they'll like EMPEROR SVASTIKRON AND THE BUTCHER OF ULTIMA THULE...

And then there's Katawa Shoujo.

Is it bad that my first instinct was to lol at the name Tynisha?

I enjoy NSBM. Sturmkaiser, Wewelsburg, Pantheon, Ziontod, Moloth, all that. And some death metal, mainly Arghoslent, and then the occasional power metal (Iron Savior, Cryonic Temple, Blind Guardian, and so on).

But I'll leave behind for you the best NAZI VIKING SPACE MARINE TECHNO METAL there ever was.

<http://youtu.be/NTan0-QINk0>

So this is the second act of your life as performance art, right?

<http://msamberhazard.tumblr.com/>

So I found this blog. Could also go under EBUL FASCISTS for the first post I found.

And her About Me:

She forgets to mention that she's a camwhore. And not even a pretty camwhore.

There is nothing about me that isn't autistic.

All of my friends know, and think it's funny. My parents know it but vehemently deny it. My siblings don't, but I hardly ever talk to them anyway. And quite a few people at my school know as well, I think I might be the creepiest student there. Spergin' about spergs.

I think it needs corpse paint and battleaxes.

Ah, don't worry. You'll meet your own Lilly one day. :3

just tumblr being tumblr
But I didn't see any mommies in Warhammer...
I'm loving the voice that I read your posts in. ('-')
YOU MUST BE SWIFT AS A COURSING RIVER

Somebody actually put effort into making this.
Because I'm Asian.

I think we have fucked up sleep schedules because internet. The fact that most of us are young adults kind of points to that conclusion.
There's a lot of weird things one tends to notice about fascists. Our eyes seem to look alike regardless of color. A prominent jaw is also common. And a trait of all the National Socialists that I know is a naturally low weight.
There are many things that need to be erased.
Ooh, this looks fun. Well, one gallery at least. The rest looks to be pornography.

I don't think it's 8 you should be worried about. He didn't do anything. 7, on the other hand, ate 9.

I like this one as a contrast to all the photos they have of gorgeous young douchebags making out.

It really is little more than a fashion trend at this point. Colorblocking is so last season, rainbows should go with it.

Aw, I'm sure this'll look great on mommy's fridge.

Back to Tumblr with thee!

...
I've got nothing.
I checked back on the copy I left. It was more or less in the same place I put it, but showed signs of wear (pages were bent, one of the staples was coming loose). Someone at least picked it up.
Turns out that even the Vietnamese think I'm really skinny. Vietnam has the lowest average BMI in the world. I am very proud of myself.
I'm not sure. I never drank it while I was growing up either. I'm fine with it when it's mixed with something else (like the aforementioned coffee), but on its own my mouth just doesn't like it.
So I entered that Original Quotes Contest.

In unrelated news, just found out that I'm underweight. About 95 pounds according to our scale. At a height of 5'3", this puts me at a BMI of 16.8. I had no idea I let it drop so much. (NEWSFLASH: EATING ONLY ONE MEAL A DAY IS NOT GOOD FOR YOU.)
Last time I'd weighed myself was before I even started college, and I was 104 pounds.

Nazi's Were Not Racist! (With Their Token Black Friend Geromy!)

A girl I knew from high school is apparently a transsexual now. She was always something of a looney tune, one of those "soul bonders" who talked to anime people and the like. It's weird to be reminded that these people exist outside of the internet. Makes me paranoid.

This is not a revolution, this is a cry for help.

Well this is scary. Two niggers recently tried to rob some students from my school.

Thankfully no one was hurt and the police are looking into it. I already hate having to walk through the ghetto to buy groceries as it is, and it isn't as if we live in a big city...

Or maybe we'll have to become something akin to Sparta.

Impossible. Bitches love Nazis.

Welcome! Hope you have a great time here.

Some women really don't like receiving attention from men, on the other hand. They see sexual characteristics as obscene and ugly, and seek to minimize them. That's why disordered eating has become so common among girls at puberty.

And one of the prostitutes was pregnant. She was this tiny little thing with a ginormous baby bump. Looked like her 'patron' was sticking around to take care of her at least.

Also, fun fact: Cambodia has one of the highest rates of HIV/AIDS in Asia. Yet the men still think that unprotected sex with these prostitutes is a fabulous idea.

^ HERETIC.

I once had to endure a screaming baby while cozying up in a bookstore. A bookstore. And I'm like WTF nigga the baby can't even read

Let's not forget that PETA president Ingrid Newkirk defended bestiality.

"If a girl gets sexual pleasure from riding a horse, does the horse suffer? If not, who cares? If you French kiss your dog and he or she thinks it's great, is it wrong? We believe all exploitation and abuse is wrong...If it isn't exploitation and abuse, it may not be wrong."

I'm reminded of a friend I had when I was younger. She was black, from a black neighborhood in Chicago, sent to my town to live with her aunt and uncle so she can enjoy the privilege of going to our excellent (majority white) schools. She had every "opportunity" that liberals like to talk about, but eventually decided to go back to her old home in Chicago. She ended up having a baby at 15, and the father was in jail.

Little wonder why I turned out a Nazi.

Next semester I may be traveling through Asia, specifically Cambodia, Thailand, Laos, and Vietnam.

HAPPY HUMAN RIGHTS DAY, EVERYBODY

Let's have some cake...

And while things like this are just peachy as a creative exercise, it's not exactly conducive to discussion. Get a blog.

I'm in college now, studying writing. I'm going to be an author, and will be famous for writing the most autistic works of fiction known to mankind. No need for a job right now. My dad's going to help me learn some programming languages so I could probably work with computers eventually.

I've been very open about being NS, and it's led to some tremendously awkward conversations with professors.

I do like the night as well. The night and the early morning, before anyone else is awake.

Would it be a good idea to start a new thread and just lock this one? Trying to get back ontopic would be swimming against the tide at this point.

And here I thought it was the inbreeding.

Nazis spawn other Nazis. It's the natural cycle. You plant one, and others spring up and gravitate to it. Some of them develop into new alpha Nazis, who in turn attract other Nazis. They have no natural predators.

I didn't draw it though. I found it in the way back of my funny pictures folder.
Seems to have come from Tumblr.

I received a variety of teas on Christmas. Why did no one tell me that white tea was so delicious?

If anyone's heard of the survival horror game Pathologic, I'm considering writing some essays on it.

I never smoked pot or drank alcohol because I spent so much time sneering at those who did.

Am I the only one thinking of the niggerwalk meme right now?

Why have children when you are a child?

Submissive people of either sex are quite frankly useless.

It is our goal to defeat senseless violence with righteous violence, so we may harness the creative power of war as well as its destructive power.

On the other hand, bronies don't cause as much drama as furries do. They can be annoying, but more in an autistic bless-their-heart they just can't figure out why we're not interested in hearing about their Fluttershy/Rainbow Dash fanfic.

You've never seen the TV Tropes forums, have you?

Seems like there's getting to be a really solid nationalist community on Tumblr as well. Everyone's tired of all the social justice bullshit and more than a few conservatives and white nationalists and fascists (oh my!) are stepping in to be the voice of reason.

This is where tolerance has led us, the slippery slope is real, etc.

As much fun as it'd be to execute them, I'd say it's best to just pat them on the head and tell them to stay out of trouble, run along now.
The TV Tropes thread on Something Awful is quite an entertaining read as well.
Watch the Made of Meat video. That Troper is actually clinically insane and not just attention whoring.
Beautiful strong black women who don't need no man
I found something hilarious recently. A tribute video for the Occupy protests, by... Miley Cyrus. Disney Imagineered pop princess Miley Cyrus.

I'm with whatever percent that doesn't want garbage music like this produced anymore.

So this internet model type person decides to do a Dachau photoshoot.

I just like how sad the moon looks there. I know I'd be sad if I was that moon.
FOREVER A LUNAR

I'm all for post-birth abortion as long as I can apply it to other people's kids. I need my beauty rest on the plane...

Do you think that in the future they'll have to edit in the names of robots and aliens? ;:^U

Just speaking of the ones whom I know personally.

It's an old saying. Violence on screen will always be exciting to watch regardless of the director's intention.

That's a nice little song and dance number but who are you.
Obamaniqua. Watermelondreesha.

It's just like a puzzle in an adventure game!

<http://liberaldegeneration.tumblr.com>

It has begun.

I was going to joke that Ponycchan has the same concentration of virgins, but saying "There sure are a lot of virgins on this website!" is like saying "There sure is a lot of water in this ocean!"

And it's a shame because with the melody and title alone you'd have a great theme song for a particularly edgy magical girl series.

Besides, I had already posted it.

Yet all I can think is dear god that's one ugly skirt.

Because it just doesn't provide a challenge. There is nothing inspiring about brown.

And then if their kid says he wants to be Batman, they should arrange their own murder.

>implying that a fascist forum would be tolerant

All I'm gathering is that "genderqueer" is just a fancy word for "ugly."

Welcome! I'm sure you'll find that Nazis have the most fun...

Anything that isn't Nazi viking space marine techno metal is degenerate

That's just par for the course on Tumblr. On deviantART too. Multiple Personality Disorder is also alarmingly common, oftentimes with each "persona" having their own About section on the same blog.

And I did this.

Hair is all dead cells anyway, I just need to trim regularly, use a rich conditioner, and I shouldn't suffer much damage. Either way I disagree. Beauty is about art and refining one's self to perfection. It is dangerous, and very well should be.

Oh no honey no

"No, no. We can just party somewhere else..."

Don't tempt me.

babby why ;-;

dey b watchin my blog, tellin me to check my privilege

My deviantART account has been resurrected.

Peanut butter and jelly sandwiches are racist.

Having a class just for black and Hispanic boys is just combating white privilege. I've decided to replay Pathologic (2russian4u). It's amazing how all the bizarre conversations make sense now that I know how the game ends. I still hold by my interpretation that the Bachelor represents liberalism and the Haruspex represents tradition (no idea what the hell Klara could be), but it's very difficult to explain without going into spoilers. Just consider that an alternate title for the game is Utopia.

oh god what have i started

Illustrations from The Seven Ages of Childhood. You can read the full text here, and I recommend it as it's truly beautiful poetry.

Can we go back to when pagans did human sacrifices? Those days were fun.

Basically it involves lots of little colored lights and something about wishes and gold. Gnomes like red and green lights. Elves like green and white lights. Leprechauns like gold lights. Which means that the display you see through the window doesn't mean it's Christmastime.

wat

This is the internet. I don't give a good goddamn if you have a personal harem of Japanese schoolgirls and Brazilian bikini models, while you're here you're a slobby undateable neckbeard in his mom's basement just like everyone else.

WE HATE WHYTE PEOPLE

CUZ DEY RACIST

I had red hair before. Someone forgot to tell me that there is a significant population of creepy nerds who are obsessed with redheads who wear glasses. But now I look like a My Little Pony, so that may not have been the best decision to make either.

No, just mocking how they're deliberately acting in a way that'll garner male attention despite their orientation.

I on the other hand am devoted entirely to the Aryan cock, thank you.

I swore back in eighth grade that I would never be a brunette again.

Found another "fat acceptance" treasure heap.

A certain space marine welcomes you.

Though you'd think it'd be more productive to create a list of video games that do not feature the things they complain about so they can go and give money to those companies. But I guess it's a lot easier to tar the entire industry than to do research.

Alex did mention something about that to me earlier. ('-')

I think that's called sociopathy and you should get that diagnosed

This girl's Twitter is hilarious.

@truthxofmyyouth

I literally went "YYYYEEEEUUURHHEEEHHHAAAA" when I opened the spoiler.

Curvy is a shape, not a size, though.

Back on topic...

My brain is full of fuck.

But the question is, what kind of sex are we all having?

Turned 20 in January.

That there's my pal Valgaror.

Someone needs to arrest this man for impersonating a doctor.

And I also read a really good novel titled Private Dancer about a man who goes to Bangkok and falls in love with a bargirl. It doesn't end well. It also teaches you that older white men greatly overestimate their own attractiveness.

I just find such wonderful things on the 'police brutality' tag. And I always end up reblogging from anarchist blogs because they're posting all these badass photos of riot police.

I found this on a Russian skinhead's blog???

don't hit on us silly boys teehee~

But let victory only set the stage for the next war!

I played through the full game and I'm really not sure what to make of it since it's not the kind of media I usually consume. But the fandom has great potential for ugliness, and I've already seen a bit of it.

This is the last one, I swear

My college is mostly rainbow socks and improv and "Let's talk about anime and Harry Potter and Supernatural!" The creative writing department has really learned to hate the fantasy genre, which tickles me.

If it means anything to you, Katawa Shoujo's fandom looks like it's about to take over soon...

Sanity is a social construct.

I'll just leave this here.

Ben's being Ben again.

But I don't wanna be a hippie! ;:^U-X

Jean-Frédéric Schall, Femme dansant, dit aussi Portrait de Marie-Madelaine Guimard.

So goddamned adorable. Oh my god.

Clearly it's part of the conspiracy to keep people buying new editions of textbooks with the same content. Sure, you could rearrange the page layout to make it look "hip," or just pretend that this textbook Contains 20% Less Racism!

I'm in Cambodia right now. Our hotel is full of dirty old men and their prostitutes. There was a dealer trying to sell cocaine to my friend and I as we were coming back from a restaurant. All of the girls get harassed just walking down any street. The only good thing about this place is the $2 mojitos.

Being human is a disability. Let us protect your feelings.

And somehow you outgayed the OP. Congratulations are in order.

In other news, I have dyed my hair.

Kids who aren't trained to hate Hitler often love him, I've found.

I'm still a student. Don't know for sure what I'm going to do after I graduate, but I'm entertaining the idea of getting into law enforcement. I'm not terribly healthy as of late, but this might be my motivation to change that.

Tell me about it. Several times I've come up with little phrases that encapsulate my ideology, only to find that I've accidentally referenced 40K.

I don't even play 40K.

I'm the biggest Warhammer fan that never was.

Not to mention, the term "Aryan princess." It exists.

Just ew.

Met with a professor today. We were supposed to discuss some of the writing I had submitted last year. We discussed the Holocaust.

'Twas awkward.

Or perhaps metabolic appetite correlates with sexual appetite, whether biologically or psychologically.

Ugh I know

Hitler is so mainstream

Alright, so I ended up slipping a copy into the coffee shop mentioned before. Set it right on top of a stack of magazines. A lot of people are guaranteed to see it because the place is almost always packed with students. Maybe tomorrow I'll pay another visit to see if it's still there.

My ancestry is even worse in that regard on my mother's side. Too many nationalities for me to even remember, though she'll probably say we're mostly Lithuanian. Dad's side is much easier to remember - Lao and Vietnamese. It's why I'm so tiny and proficient at guerrilla warfare.

neigh

I've always had really long nails, so I liked to claw wrists.

I actually know a man who was a child soldier in Laos during the Vietnam War. He didn't give a damn about human rights violations, he just cared about survival, and fighting alongside the Americans meant a steady supply of food. I remember him saying that being as young as he was helped more than it hurt. He lives a good life now, practically unscathed.

The lesson to learn here is that child soldiers are made of stronger stuff than libfags and slacktivists. They don't need a Twitter campaign; theirs is a different world than ours.

<http://tegidsystem.tumblr.com/thenouns>

The fuck is this.

And somehow I'm the most inspired. Hrm.

I know, I know.

It's kind of funny how I've never had a truly clear answer for that. To put it simply, I just sort of grew into it. My first dalliance with the National Socialist philosophy was far back in my childhood. I was only about nine or ten years old, though well read. Yet my first reaction to reading about Hitler and Nazis was basically "These guys look cool!" which lead to a hilarious phase in my life when I tried to assemble an army of little girls to conquer the playground...

My parents did try their best to raise me in as liberal a manner as possible, taking me to the Unitarian Universalist church and sending me to a Waldorf school. Yet when I was fourteen I started going online to read about fascism, white nationalism, and all that. Mostly out of curiosity, though I did feel something awakening in me. It never was fully realized until I was in high school, and I discovered I was basically born to be a Nazi thanks to, (get this), black metal. As faggoty as that sounds. My parents never talked about my beliefs, save for a grand total of two arguments. They try to pretend it isn't really there.

Now that I'm in college, I find myself refining my philosophy through art and writing. Approaching it like a science doesn't work at all for me. Despite how much I like to imagine myself as an intellectual, it's a matter of spirit.

This is a beautiful thread

It all sounds very interesting. I wish I could write a much better reply, but as it is I'm oddly awkward in describing my beliefs unless in direct response to something, I hope you understand. I am looking forward to getting to know you in any case, though. Ask me anything you'd like. /emoticons/smile@2x.png 2x" width="20" height="20" />

What do you have in mind?

I have a half-decent fiction piece that might work, depending on how you feel about works with a more fantastical nature.

It was my first serious propaganda piece. Kind of difficult to describe in simple terms since it's so dense with rhetoric, but it concerns the rise of an emperor. Also features an undead Hyperborean vigilante who wears armor made of dismembered corpses. Genre is "grimdark." :^V

I haven't read any yet, but I was going to get around to it.

As far as American National Socialists go, I've got nothing. But I will recommend the writings of Varg Vikernes. Though he doesn't identify as a Nazi himself, I'd say that a lot of modern Nazis find inspiration from his essays.

I would like to join, thank you.

Politically based mostly, though I do support genocide if necessary.

No, Chicago's where I live. I go to school in Iowa.

So was I. ('-')

I made it.

Ah, thank you! It's been years since I had lessons.

I made the stamp quite a long time ago when I thought I'd be back on DA in a short time, turns out the staff put me on hold for literally months and at this point I'm just too tired to deal with it.

I'm doing alright, it's been a quiet day. :3

I came here just because I had a few friends here, mostly. I knew Ben and Alex on deviantART along with a few others.

Please get on MSN as soon as you can, I need you I really didn't want to do this and I'll try as hard as I can not to do it again

I'm feeling depressed again and I can't sleep. Wish you could hold me

Sometimes.

Get used to it.

Let me know when you'll be on Skype and not distracted, okay? You can tell me more about your movement if you like.

It might be possible. I'm on summer break so I have plenty of time.

Skype would be better. Add thenewheresy

I don't have the template, I just made a sloppy mock-up in Photoshop. I used an online font identifier when I made it. I don't remember which one, but I found it through Google pretty easily.

Well here's the Skull Trumpet one: The others are scattered about Tumblr somewhere.
