

Name: Veni

Nickname: Stinky or Stinks

Gender: Female

Height: 185cm

Weight: 180 lb

Age: 20

Eyes: light green

Hair: grayish green

Bio: Veni, in the short term, is considered mischievous, chatterbox, lazy, cocky, and odd (somewhat stupid). Veni enjoys teasing and bullying others with her twin (which is why she always has a mischievous grin on her face). Her whole persona is to underestimate others (hiding her raw potential and strength that rivals her sister). Veni doesn't like training but enjoys the thrill of a fight, even if she gets cuts, bruises, marks, and all. Her notable features are the fact that she's fucking THICK, and her much shaggier grayish green hair; she enjoys wearing her hood over her head as well as the Garo bandana to hide her face (it's easier for her to get away with more trouble).

Relations:

Velv: Veni is always seen with her sister (Velv), causing trouble for those who are weaker than them. They are always referred to by others (besides their parents) as the Bobowski Twins. Veni is much more daring than her sister and is often doing riskier things, but she is also trying to impress others, including Velv. Much like siblings, they will tend to fight. Sometimes Veni enjoys teasing Velv of any insecurities or just grossing her out.

Bob: Veni shares a lot of her father's traits: greed, laziness, addictions, crude nature, depravity, and gross attitudes. When Veni was a child, she was heavily attached to Bob, and she was even a major cry baby. Veni enjoys thinking of schemes and ideas of status and wealth with her father.

Melony: even though she doesn't have the same attachment to her mother as her father. She does care, often obeying her mother. Veni does internally have her mother's sweet side, but it's incredibly hard for it to be exposed. (If she likes/loves someone it will show that or her hair will be pulled aside exposing her eyes.) If Melony is mad, Veni will show no toothy grin at all and will be the first to cower in fear.

Axol Jr: though not biologically blood related and slightly older than she, is often Veni's bullying target, being threatened/teased to be eaten or squished by her and her sister. However, due to fear of Melony's reaction (and actually caring about him as family), she will be protective and supportive of him (even though it will sound backhanded).

Mario Bros.: Veni will tease and banter with the Italian boys (oftentimes aimed at Luigi). Veni vibes well with Mario and his chaotic nature.

Meggy: Veni enjoys disobeying Meggy and will often tease her. Meggy is one of the few to train and educate her (it will either be ignored or backfire).

Boopkins and JubJub: are the only ones to not be bullied or messed with (sometimes). JubJub and the Twins used to play together when they were children. Modern Veni enjoys grabbing the two by the hair or tails and dangling them off the ground for fun. She respects their dad (with fear and shame of upsetting him out of guilt).

Tari: another bullying target, calls her a major nerd for liking video games, but Veni will get sucked into liking some of the games that Tari presents to her, like monsters, violence, and lewd shit.

Saiko: One cannot exist without having someone to hate, and that is Saiko. Veni will tease, banter, bully, and fight with Saiko (mainly being the one to cause and throw hands first just to get a reaction). Even though Veni enjoys messing with Saiko, she doesn't want her gone or to be out of her life (simply to continue the never-ending bullying).

Smg4: absolutely dislikes him oftentimes (mainly out of cringe of his reliance on memes and popularity chasing) so much like the rest will be bullied and teased about not being a big shot or good enough. (Sometimes guilt will hit her if she takes it too far.) Enjoys eating his tech and equipment.

Smg3: enjoys bantering and insulting him (mainly because she knows he will play along and do the same). Veni enjoys his destructive tendencies and will join in on the idea. Was once hired by him only to be fired for destruction of property.

Rob: really likes Rob, even though Rob doesn't like her (she eats all the corn and even country girls make do). Maybe it's because she sees a lot of her dad in Rob.

Swag and Chris: has an angry rivalry with the duo and mainly shows disrespect towards authority figures. Will consistently fight with Swag and enjoys bullying Chris.

Wario and Waluigi: has a friendly rivalry with the duo, mainly because of their gross and rude behavior towards others, she likes and sometimes admires.

Name: Velv

Nickname: Gomi ← (mostly by other) Sugar baby/babe ← (sister only)

Gender: Female

Height: 185cm

Weight: 150 lb

Age: 20

Eyes: light green

Hair: mild light green (closely resembles her mother)

Bio: Velv, in the short term, is considered quiet, cold, honest, mysterious, timid, and focused. She enjoys messing with others and insulting them with her twin. Velv's persona consists of words being backed up by strength in order to show dominance over others, but she isn't preachy nor primal with her tactics. Velv enjoys the idea of battle and will go to great lengths to push herself over the edge. She wants to achieve her inner Fierce Deity and become a Garo Master, she will always be holding onto her clawed weapons. Her notable features are that she is very athletically fit, and her hair is tied back like her mothers, consisting of three long hairs pointed upwards. Velv originally had a Garo bandana like her twin (Veni); however, one day she was given a Garo Master bandana (mysteriously), not even her parents and allies are aware of where it came from.

Relations:

Veni: Velv will always be seen with her sister (Veni), causing trouble for those who are weaker than them. They are always referred to by others (besides their parents) as the Bobowski Twins. Velv is much more calculated than her sister and is often the one to create mischievous plans and pranks on others. Sometimes Velv finds Veni annoying and irritating. Velv often wishes her sister would be more focused on training and to become more like her, aiming to be a Garo Master.

Bob: Velv has respect for her father but often finds him gross and immature (even though she follows his traits). Bob is known to be one of the few to train the twins, but he doesn't always follow through and comes off as insanely lazy. Velv finds it upsetting that her dad never achieved his full potential, but she wants him to train her more.

Melony: Velv has insane respect for her mother and admires her power. Velv harbors more of Melony's strong will and sweeter sides. (She doesn't like showing it through.) It's incredibly hard for it to be exposed. (If she likes/loves someone it will show that or her hair will be pulled aside, exposing her eyes.) If Melony is mad, Velv would shake and sweat profusely out of fear. Velv is insanely loyal and loving to her mother and will obey whatever Melony says.

Axol Jr.: Velv comes off as envious towards her older but shorter brother. Even though they are not blood related, she is known to be slightly more protective of those who are in her family circle (that includes Axol Jr.). however much, like her twin, she will bully and mistreat him.

Mario Bros.: Velv tolerates Mario and shows great interest in the brothers' goals (mainly Luigi; she sees herself in him and her sister in Mario), but much like her sister, she will tease and banter with them (also mainly targets Luigi).

Meggy: Velv will sometimes disobey Meggy and her teachings, oftentimes questioning her tactics. (Velv doesn't want to acknowledge that Meggy cares about their training.) Velv will rather be trained by her father than Meggy, but she knows it's a double-edged sword.

Boopkins and JubJub: are the only ones to not be bullied or messed with (sometimes). JubJub and the Twins used to play together when they were children. Modern Velv will tell Boopkins or JubJub to get lost (not out of rudeness or hate but out of not wanting the two to get involved in whatever trouble she and her sister get into). She will, however, enjoy insulting and teasing the two for fun. Velv shows a lot of respect to their father and wishes them to be like him instead of obsessing over anime or childish toys.

Tari: another bullying target, calls her a major nerd for liking video games and thinks it's a waste of time, but Velv will get sucked into liking some of the games that Tari presents to her, mainly anything combat or RPG battle tactic type games.

Saiko: finds her annoying and as predictable as Meggy. It's nothing but insults and bantering and waiting for Saiko to throw the first punch to her sister (even though her sister threw the first punch to begin with, a bit hypocritical like a certain someone? ;)).

Smg4: finds him annoying as well, but for some reason Smg4 will target her to react to his memes, only to find himself limbs rearranged or head smashed through the table. Velv rarely shows any reaction to anything he shows her.

Smg3: tolerates him but doesn't want to be involved in anything he does. She was once hired by him, but her sister (Veni) got her fired along with her sister for destruction of property. Velv is used to being inside his cafe; mainly, that's the place her sister always wants to go (besides the bar or stripclub).

Rob: has a lot of respect for Rob's hard work, even if it mainly consists of CORN. Velv finds Rob's simple life to be relaxing and endearing to her for some reason.

Swag and Chris: has an angry rivalry with the duo and mainly shows disrespect towards authority figures (mainly because it's the result of her sister's stupidity). Swag is stupid and doesn't deserve his higher position, and she insults and argues with Chris. Velv can relate to Chris' logical side and agrees with him sometimes.

Wario and Waluigi: have a friendly rivalry with the duo, mainly because of Waluigi, who finds him interesting.

Garo Master:????????????????????.
