

Not actually as much to go over as you would think, just explaining why I skitzed at the streamer elfinpsyop.

At the very least be happy this shit ain't 51 pages $\frac{3}{4}$ OF THE PAGES ARE IMAGES stop crying.

Sorry bird

Completely going to skip over her manipulating ME in particular prior to all the stuff I'm going to go over, as people obviously care about me harassing her more so may as well shed some light on that before I get put on a watch list n whatnot

TLDR for this section: Elf constantly and relentlessly tries to assassinate my character to all of my friends and people I know (ironic, I know) I tell her many times to stop and she does not, leading me to also slander her to her and other people as she did to me (eye for an eye right?) using a mutual to do so who ended up screenshotting anything that would make me look bad out of context, fkn snake. However admittedly.. Maybe making rather undeniably psychotic, BUT justified comments about and to her.

So after banning me from her server after I had found out she had sexted another viewer less than a week after talking to me, I confronted her 'cause she lied to my face about it and several other things that had happened around this time (september 20-30th)

This enough was only what sparked the aids, as you saw from the steam dms and group chat dms provided you read enough to get to that, after she proved herself to be EXTREMELY manipulative and called the two other guys I knew about at this time (which she is now friends with by the way?)

groomers, pedophiles and manipulative old men to me in the steam dms I got extremely pissed at the blatant manipulation and lies she was spreading about me and the other guys she was sexting and lying about to me BEFORE she ever explicitly tried to cut things off, which she did one time after everything had already gone to shit because of her lies manipulation and bullshit, she just lied about her dad dying and used it as an excuse for why she had treated me like a dog DURING the later stages of the relationship, which she obviously admitted to being a lie on her stream, classic. After this I invited her to a group chat where me shovel and lauch were in a call the whole time during the steam dms, which she was unaware of and I was streaming it all to them. She then COMPLETELY 180s and tries to instead win their sympathy instead of mine after realizing I wasn't going to feed into her bullshit and backtracks on all of her blatantly egregious allegations on them to try win them back, despite saying nothing would change her perspective on them when she didn't know they were watching.

THE REASON I 'THREATENED' HER AND 'HARASSED' HER

So after this I mostly calmed down despite all the shit she had done and lied about to my face, but for MONTHS after banning me from the server she CONSTANTLY talked shit about me in her server whether in private calls or even public ones and would CONSTANTLY make up lies about why I was banned and in general only trying to destroy my character at every chance she got. NEEDLESS TO SAY this fucked me off and I, due to being blocked by her go through a mutual (lauchlan) to tell her to fuck off and stop trying her absolute hardest to slander my character 24/7 she continued to do it over and over and OVER again despite my increasingly harsh warnings. At this point I hated her so much I viewed her as only a piece of meat whose sole purpose was to try to ruin my character as much as possible DESPITE knowing I had loved her and reciprocating for all but the end of our relationship WHICH SHE STARTED. Obviously given she was streaming to a live audience of 1000 viewers only showing me flaming her and NONE of the justification why so this will do nothing to mitigate the damage unfortunately but oh well what're you gonna do right.

So after all the constant disgusting shit she said about me at every waking moment behind my back, and lying about her dads death among several other gross things I was obviously a little pissed and was now having to use lauch to tell her to fuck off almost every week, after enough of this I was completely done and was (rightfully so) saying I wanted to ruin her and I could destroy her platform she was using to flame me permanently on along with all the other shit she showed. - Important to note that the 'threats' were also completely empty TO THIS DAY and were just a way to try scare her into stopping trying to destroy my entire being, as clearly being peaceful fell on deaf ears given she kept on doing it, yet again what're you gonna do. If being civil doesn't work don't cry to me when you get what you'd been giving me for months, isn't it ironic that her saying I was harassing her for months was just in RESPONSE to HER harassing me for months? But people obviously have to take her side because innocent girl on the internet and what not.

As for the stuff I said to her face this was after she was now going back on a promise she made and continuing to lie and try to manipulate me to my face about everything that had been happening and had happened along with making any and every excuse she could for her behaviour and trying to make me look like I was insane for wanting A) her to keep her promise and B) being pissed she was doing the same thing she 'exposed' me for (slandering and shit talking) which I of course only did after finding out she continued to do to me despite me POLITELY asking her to stop many times, only turning aggressive after she ignored it infinitely.

More about her screenshots about me she showed on stream and different parts in the timeline, trying to make me look insane for caring about her at this point, she thinks using me trying to salvage a relationship with a girl I loved and was in a relationship with, DESPITE all the shit she had done to and put me through - was a good representation of me being a psychopath

lol. Screenshots like me (being heartbroken atp) asking if we could have one last chance - average heartbroken behavior and what not. If she really simply wanted to paint that picture and conveniently skip in its entirety all of the shit that actually caused me to say what I did and just say "he's a psycho, nothing he says matters" I don't really know why she went for this as well? I assume it's just easy to pick apart a guy desperate after being heartbroken.

But yeah tldr for this, broken heart after being lied to and manipulated for months and still wanted her back ToT, she decides to use that to make me look bad? Pretty sure there were SLIGHTLY more incriminating things to use lol but after showing those first anything would look bad so lowkey a high iq play on her part since it was all she actually had aside from me saying I wanted her to die etc.

AT THE END OF THE DAY

It's night

If you're gonna say I went too far, sure I can maybe perhaps possibly see how saying I want to skin her alive and put her flesh as a bear-skin rug is a little weird (didn't say this of course but you get the message).

HOWEVER if you're gonna say I'm just a loony tunes psychopath and discredit everything that happened and the reasoning behind why I SAID (notice how I don't say did, as I never did anything) because what I said was arguably a tad bit deranged then you're unfortunately a bit of an ape but it's like what can you do.

The fact remains everything I said was only in response to things she had done or said, one for one trade each time. If you're going to say xyz about me then by that logic you can only say the same things about her because as it would just so happen, she did the exact same shit.

BONUS!!

I feel like most of ya'll didn't actually read the steam dms and I'm kinda proud of them even though I was quite blatantly embarrassing myself by being so heartbroken at the time and sadboy posting they really show Hibas personality perfectly.

elfin Today at 12:13 AM whatever happened with shovel was m fault, i engaged it, i shouldnt have talked to him about philosophy or my life or anything. wherever it went was bad. and i didnt like it. and i got uncomfy. but it was my own fault for engaging with anyone like that in the first place...and i told him that after after he messaged again after that...and he was like...."okay" with lauch...i was really fucking wasted....i made sure you knew but it was again my fault for keeping up in dms when i shouldnt have as a content creator....i shouldve kept my distance....but you kind of just went with it despite having a gf? i felt so fucking awfyl when i sobered up.... i just wanted to be nice...

with captcha, i genuinely liked him...and i know we went far but i realized how fucked it is...the distance, the way i cant handle this since im emotionally immature....i felt fucky to get attached to someone i cant even meet. so i stopped.
