The preservation of culture is friction for global economic integration. They don't want to worry if their engineers from Elbonia can get along with their purchasing team Stansylvania. They want the human race to become nearly uniform no matter where they do business.

Erik Prince hires people of all backgrounds and wants them to be able to work anywhere on earth. If a beautiful diversity of ethno-cultures continues to exist, he'll need locally formed teams in order to operate anywhere covertly. That would be very inconvenient.

Why does it need to be covert? Take one country by force, the ZOG Globalists begin mobilizing against the initial country, Whites revolt in those countries when their military is weakened. We take them all more or less at once. Mercenaries deployed wherever the Neo-Soviet genociders put up resistance.

It wouldn't hold up if challenged in court, so it would look like a loss.

I think it would hold up in court if the Neo Soviet judges were also imprisoned or forbidden from ruling on cases for crimes they are similarly charged with.

ah credit. maybe he'll go for it.

what if someone on our side kinda wants to execute him before he gets paid? that way "we" get to keep the jew assets and remove one of the war profiteers from the Global War on Terror. Win win.

The risk of death is a given while being a mercenary.

I don't like the idea of not paying people who aided us.

It always starts with discrete acts of revolt

It does? [citation needed]

Because I think it starts with increasing frustration in the general populace and you start to see grass-roots movements springing up everywhere. Now what we have are legions of easily led NPCs who don't know and/or don't care. I have yet to see any indication of any sort of mass movement or revolt start.

Well, I guess what I wrote is relative to how you define the "start".

It's 71 pages, have your local print shop run some off and bind them, then just hand em out.

I don't really need a shop to print them.

I work with massive amounts of paper. Could easily print out 1,000 copies without even having to buy more primer. Might cost me a bit in paper. The problem is binding and distributing them. Hmm.

Unlike other peasants, all Jews could read, write and count so naturally they were above the rest. As for banking, that started in Venice where Jews were working for the Catholics. At the time Venice was the financial and political center. The British learned the craft from them and now the financial center is in the City of London (it is not the capital of GB). Even the queen has to get a permission to enter the City. This has nothing to do with the Jews who were merely working for the bankers, and still do. To keep attention from themselves, Brits fabricated the idea that their Jewish servants are the once who are in charge. This is why the heads of the Fed are Jews. If you are interested to find out what is going on, look for Carroll Quigley, Cecil Rhodes and Anglo-American Establishment. All of it has to do with the British...

Before Catholicism came to Europe, virtually everyone could read because reading and writing were part of their religion. Their myths stress it so much that they say that Odin did austere self mutilating acts to learn to read, and use rune magic.

Christianity moved in, burned all the books or took them, looted all the art and wealth, and put Jews in charge of collecting taxes and finance.

Banking has existed for thousands and thousands of years. Are you serious? Do you really think Jews invented banking? Even ancient Egyptians had banks, they are just called storehouses by historians instead of banks.

My parents stopped allowing television when I was about 13.

I'm glad they did now. Whenever I turn on the tv it's just boring crap. It must be some serious pavlovian programming that makes people watch the stupid crap on tv. The worst if it is the news that always uses tone of voice to give moral indignation or support to their supposedly unbiased presentation. The ban won't last long.

This is a warning sign for hedge fund managers to pull out. It will hurt them economically.

Investment groups are extremely sensitive to this kind of thing. Censorship, especially arbitrary censorship, shows them that the government is unstable and when governments are unstable, assets are not safe. Unstable governments do things like arbitrarily shut down businesses, impose restrictions, seize assets on a whim, and it ALWAYS starts with a little act of arbitrary censorship.

These politicians will have CEOs telling them to stop the censorship within a week, if they haven't already.

All it takes to seriously hurt their bottom line is one highly invested hedge fund to pull out. If they own even so much as 5% of the GDP producing assets and pull out, it will have such a big effect that these censorship politicians will get dragged by their hair out of parliament.

Probably to get in shape to defend his home and country from the invading hordes. Europe and America would be wise to do the same. Sadly we will remain full of sick md fat people.

I'm not sure where I stand on people being overweight, but not obese, in terms of self defense and warfare. Fatter people, though not diabetic ones, have greater reserves of macrophages to fight infections. Their fat makes them resistant to some kind of trauma. Fat doesn't necessarily slow them down. And fat is a reserve fuel. You can bet that once the ZOG is feeling the heat they'll shut down food distribution and try to take back our countries while people are too weak from malnourishment to fight back.

Some are giving up their guns voluntarily, others raising money for the sand niggers & some even had vigils.

So? Populations rarely have uniform positions on policy.

It doesn't mean anything that a few New Zealanders, probably under great duress from the government and media, are acting like it wasn't justified.

More uneducated opinions from the NZ government. They think he was doing it for fame. Kek.

How can these countries be so blind to public outrage? Self censorship. People have been self censoring for so long that these politicians literally don't know what the public thinks anymore.

There's been a complete breakdown in communication due to media virtue signalling, convincing people to not air their actual opinions.

If I was part of the NZ government. I'd be promoting Voat and anonymous message boards because how else are you going to be able to understand what the public is really thinking? These countries are operating in the dark.

It's because Voat is smaller that it's more at risk.

The chans have widescale visibility and if they are censored governments will face a backlash. Voat on the otherhand could be snuffed out all too easily, which is why we must raise its profile.

By getting more of the public attention, they will have to weigh the act against public outcry against censorship that in itself will contribute to their downfall.

The reason was always the same - they were robbed by the oligarchy, but they were never kicked-out as you say. Jews were always used as a convenient scapegoat for oligarchy to blame for whatever the peasants were unhappy about, like poverty, disease, hunger, etc.

It's a classic peasant mentality: going into fits of groveling and bowing whenever the master's carriage rides by, then fuming against the Turks in Crimea or the Jews in the Pale or whoever after spending fifteen hard hours in the fields. You know you're a peasant when you worship the very people who are right now, this minute, conning you and taking your shit. Whatever the master does, you're on board. When you get frisky, he sticks a big cross in the middle of your village, and you spend the rest of your life praying to it with big googly eyes. Or he puts out newspapers full of innuendo about this or that faraway group and you immediately salute and rush off to join the hate squad. A good peasant is loyal, simpleminded, and full of misdirected anger. And that's what we've got now, a lot of misdirected anger searching around for a non-target to mis-punish . . . - Matt Taibbi

Yeah, Jews were just victims despite having a religion, Christianity, make laws saying they had to do the profession (financial scams like usury) they already preferred while forbidding non-Jews from forming their own banks.

Those poor Jews, being put in charge of all the money and being forbidden from working like the talmud recommends anyways. My heart goes out to them.

Voat's in there now. Also, google indexes stuff even though they don't have it in the search engine results. Google is a front group for the US government, part of their data superiority operations. So is Amazon, Twitter, and Facebook.

Google isn't a real company.

90% of the problems they complain about are really due to government propping up monopolies. Why do you not have more competition at your home for internet and cable? Because the local government controls where companies can provide access. We have 4 different companies available in my town and not a single one covers the whole town. Some cover a lot of it, but rarely will you get lucky like me and have 3 of the 4 available. My sister and parents live across the state line and there is exactly one provider there (AT&T DSL is available but terrible on speed and data cap so I don't count it).

Yep, because the skills in politics vote in regulations that keep competition out for 2 reasons. 1 the telecoms pay them for voting against the interests of the country. And 2, because the government spying infrastructure doesn't have the capacity yet to collect and analyze faster internet speeds and more traffic.

Japan's had insanely fast download rates and distribution of information on the internet since 2000 and it's not a problem because they aren't trying to store the information transmitted.

The CIA has bankers as advisors at almost all of the meetings.

Obama passed legislation allowing corporations to exchange user information if they believed it represented a threat or something.

So the NSA and mass data collection shifted seamlessly from governmental control to private corporation control, aided by the fact that most of the data collection was already taking place by private contractors, not government employees.

I wonder if shitposting presstitutes can resist drawing attention to censorship if we keep making it a juicier and juicier story for them.

CNN's boomer following is dying, millenials aren't interested. Perhaps there's a situation where both free speech and CNN's hyperpartisanship can benefit. Perhaps we can co-exist and elevate each other to new levels of popularity. CNN shit posts innane garbage about Whites and Trump and we serve as their focus while simultaneously derriding CNN for it's crappy news. CNN might even have a vested interest in keeping voat from being censored in order to secure new material for CNN to harp about. As long as they don't dox anyone, which would make the site go inactive, they could cover lots of goings on on Voat and elevate it in public attention.

CNN needs new material, they can't just keep talking about Trump. The battle hardened meme warriors and satirical political posts, in addition to the nature of the site modulating views through voting, would filter out the best content for long winded commentators to rip their shirts over on national "news".

We could both benefit from this arrangement. And it's not as if other sites don't have the issue of visibility for users. Twitter is in the media constantly, presenting users tweets for public scrutiny. It would serve both Voat and CNN. Voat would have the clout to raise additional funds, do more ads, whatever and that money could be reinvested into making the site more secure and censorship resistant.

Is that speculation or u got a source?

Inferential logic.

I'm not certain it will happen. CNN is a sort of low latency entity, so I can't be entirely certain. They aren't ultra responsive like other forms of media like financial journals.

I'm slightly interfering with the likelihood by posting this here. CNN, like many companies, has PR people waiting for the internet to index stuff and tell them when a certain term is mentioned, like google alerts.

So one of these PR scavengers will find this, assuming it's not deleted before it's indexed by google. And because I'm such a classy, satirical character online, they may tell their higher ups.

The probability of this happening is increased by the news coming out about Voat being blocked in various countries and the nature of CNN "journalism" to find things to represent hyperbolically.

I'm tempted, so tempted, to claim something to lure them here. But I won't.

What I'd like to see is a nice steam of liberal outrage boosting this site's userbase and income to counter what I percieve as hostile groups while simultaneously bringing attention to the site to discourage foul play.

What do you say CNN? Let's shitpost together. Ebony and ivory and what not.

The main drive is a proposal to build a whole belt of solar plants, wind turbines, desalination plants, all sorts of green energy projects INSTEAD of the wall. Then, the companies running those projects would hire private security to protect those assets, which would somehow transmute into Paul Blart Mall Cop jumping from his segway to horsecollar tackle Pedro as he runs north.

It's a shit idea with useful bits.

Scare tactics.

The gut reaction is to focus more on US involvement with Saudi Arabia, since their the source of modern Islamic terrorism.

But critical thinking says suggest that this could be from Saudis, seeking to scare Americans, or from Israelis who seek to scare Americans of Saudi occupation of the US government.

My money is on this being the Israelis building up the public support to get Saudis, but not Israelis, out of US politics.

There's a war going on behind the scenes for control of the USA, and I don't know who to root for! Go USA!

I skimmed the article, can't tell what exactly they are proposing.

Are they saying to build powerplants and stuff along the border in addition to the wall?

That's a totally different project. It's like saying, "Instead of building a house, let's build a house and a walmart in the next town over".

But whatever, if that's what it takes to build the wall. They can build a petting zoo too if they want, I'm sure it would get a little more public support for the wall even though it's entirely unrelated.

Let's fight the subversive elements who've suddenly appeared on Voat by manipulating conversations to seem like they're something they are not. If you want to leave less meat on the bone, per se, the less words the better. Either give no response at all or something so direct and absolute that there is nothing for them to latch on to - simple Yes or No works wonders coupled with little or no elaboration.

If it is like you say and they are in fact paid skills then they are likely paid per post. The more you take the bait the more money they make.

The type of skill you are describing is the distraction skill who has no other purpose but to inflame your emotions and make you feel like you have to defend your intellectual integrity and dignity. Easily confused with your garden variety troll, but a different species.

Someone should really write a book classifying skills and trolls by the tactics they use, along with speculation about their motives and how they are organized based on observed behavior and research on troll armies.

At first? Jews have been living in Europe for 2,000 years. And who are Europeans anyway? For example, Spain and France were under Moors not long ago, and then much of Europe was a part of the Ottoman Empire.

Swedes don't have a problem with Jews. Polaks - oh yeah, they have many problems besides...

Europe isn't a single state. They've been kicked out of individual states of Europe hundreds of times for various reasons.

The skills are skilled because it's obvious they're from western nations and have english as their first language. Kikes, Russians, etc. out themselves easily enough but these ones are a different breed. More than that though they're acting like true believers who are in it for more than just the money. It's like they think they can either educate us to calm the flames Brenton lit under our arses or they're trying to goad us into action before we've had time to build a competent plan to inflict real carnage. It's obvious they're trying to divide us and failing that lessen the impact we can have but it will not work. The Saxon has awoken and his greatest weapons are his mind and his message. We will not be divided and defeat isn't an option.

Now if you want to beat such a foe education is the only option. We need to prove to them basics like we can only have a multicultural earth if we have ethnic nations that are allowed to flourish. As they believe in global warming we hit them with the realization that every human makes the problem worse so like deer that have bred out of control and destroy their environment before starving to death themselves that the humane option of thinning the herd forcibly bringing them back in tune with nature before their suffering becomes too great which we need to not only apply to humans but to prevent us from forcing that same eventuality upon our grandchildren we need to focus on the people that are having the most children first. Since they cannot refute that without ignoring their own beliefs and basic logic it will force them to think murdering shit skins for the good of the earth is justifiable and at that point we could even prey upon their love of animals and suggest that Africa be turned into a massive nature reserve instead of letting hordes of hungry niggers hunt everything into extinction. The important thing is though our messages absolutely must be based in truth and need to be worked up with them. We can't just jump up and down screeching about exterminating all the nigger races otherwise they'll ignore us but if we go in gently we can mind rape them until they finish each day off getting drunk in an attempt to forget the truths that will haunt them forever at which point we'll own their minds, bodies and souls. They'll have no choice but to quit for their own sanity but then they'll see an insane world around then and come back willingly to this hurt box for another dose of eye opening truth eventually making them one of us.

The particular new skills I've come across don't seem to have such a lofty plan. Their goal seems to be disruption to make Voat difficult to use through spamming. Definitely the older waves of skills had more complicated objectives like you describe though.

Major miscalculation by the publisher. They should be thrown out of a helicopter lol.

They're literally going over all the things that are true and then using weak statements from Israeli organizations to back up their refutations.

Plus, people rarely read the subtext, just headlines, and they highlighted all the bad stuff. It doesn't matter if they put "Myth" in front of it lol.

Sweden was the only place where Jews were safe during WWII, because Swedes don't have a problem with that.

All the groups that initially welcomed the Jews as refugees, over and over again, didn't have a problem with it at first.

My lats and biceps are already sufficiently big. Pro-tip, don't bother doing dumbbell curls when a lat exercise works it plenty.

I'm focusing on delts, they can never get too big.

Toys"R"Us Emerges with New Vision, Team & Global Strategy by killer7 in business

Toys "R" Us didn't have a problem with it's previous strategy, the problem was that it was available to Jews to purchase on credit, called a leveraged buy out, and because the Jews legalized stripping a company of its assets and loading it up with unrelated debt before reselling it.

So they buy a company on credit, have the company buy up all their bad assets for however much they want to sell them for, then sell the company into pension accounts managed by their friends (your retirement money), and then pay back the original loan.

So imagine if I got a loan from a bank to buy a controlling interest in a liquor store, then I sold the liquor store a bic pen for 48 million dollars, I give the liquor store a contract to pay for the pen in installments, then I sell the liquor store to some chump without disclosing its financials, and use that money to pay back the bank loan. Now, even though I did nothing to benefit the liquor store, the new owner has to pay me the rest of the 48 million dollars or declare bankruptcy.

What a fucking Jew scam. Used to be illegal, but that's what happens when Jews get into power, they loot the country using scams.

The net neutrality they promote isn't anti-censorship. That Google wanted it should be enough evidence of that. It's government further regulating the Internet.

I wonder why not having the government involved with anything other than maintaining access is never an option.

What if the government just maintained the internet infrastructure and then left everything else to internet users?

It's not so much the ruling party as it is a vague nebulous feel-good ideology, mostly promoted by the young. Any criticism of woman for any reason is sexism. Any criticism of nonwhites for any reason is racism. Any criticism of the EU is being a luddite skinhead etc. Any criticism of any young person for any reason is just being a has-been out of touch boomer.

At least we don't have the rampant issues of trannies, restroom rapes or colleges bursting at the seams with useless people who need modelling clay and puppy videos to lessen the trauma of hearing someone disagreeing with them like the 56%'ers do.

These aren't feel good ideologies, they're Soviet propaganda. Globalism is not very different from Sovietism. Both seek to dominate the world and homogenize the population erasing all cultures, ethnicities, countries, and languages.

Should we split funding for public broadcasting? Cut budget of NPR/PBS in half. Fund a second media outlet (with conservative content) to compete on radio, and TV. by VOALTRON in AskVoat

This is true. But the public broadcasting we have today is clearly biased, and partisan in its reporting.

The public broadcasting system exists for the good of the public. Partisan broadcasting is not good for the public.

There are only three practical alternatives that I can see to fix the public broadcasting system.

1. Abolish it.
2. Create arbitrary rules to try to force a change of content within the system, with the goal of removing bias. Good luck with that.
3. Expand the system to create an alternative, media outlet(s) that have a goal (charter) to broadcast competing content. Create a public broadcasting charter that requires the public media outlets to compete against each other.

I think the problem is that there is a monetary component to media and media companies have the ability to dominate through backroom deals, think CNN paying airports to have their channel shown to people waiting for their plane.

How do you eliminate the monetary component though? Have the government pay people to do reporting, regardless of the quality of their output? Or make all news something you have to pay to access? It's a tricky thing.

Maybe this is a strategy to push the wire race to commit these atrocities because most of the world already have a negative view of white people because of the mainstream media consumption. This will just further reinforce the negative stereotype of white people.

Maybe, but it doesn't matter as long as Whites follow through.

White people are the most dangerous group on Earth, but only if you try to hurt them. We give out charity and try to help other groups of people and we're extremely patient and tolerant for groups we consider inferior. But once we recognize a threat, we go to work creating new weapons that the world has never seen to decimate our foes, no matter their numbers.

That's why so many of the groups parasiting off of us have learned, through trial and error, not to wage war directly against us.

Being able to return fire is a great feeling. I don't know why anyone would voluntarily turn it down.

Right. Bombs can't be used defensively, with the exception of things like land mines and claymores that aren't practical for static defense in a city.

Guns are primarily a defensive weapon, while bombs are primarily offensive.

The problem with that is that political views are much more diverse than just Left and Right.

You can't have a "balanced" presentation using just two talking heads unless the issue organically only has two options, which is basically never.

So its isreal staged the massacre to provoke Muslims into wars with us?

Makes sense. Fucking kikes never stop provking wars... we must remembers, All wars are bankers wars!

The Jewish playbook usually works like this. They pretend to be allies to two parties they want to get rid of, then do false flags and incite conflicts until the two groups fight, eliminating population on both sides while Jews stand on the sidelines.

I think the Israelis promoted immigration of Arabs into the Western world to set this situation up where either Whites would be eliminated or fighting their wars for them. The Jew Bush Jr. certainly followed this scheme. Provoke White hatred against Muslims using fake Muslim Al Qaeda as the patsy, then use White USA to attack Israel's targets in the Middle East.

I don't think they really thought that far ahead about the outcomes though. If Muslims take over the Western world, they'll have access to untold weaponry, including nukes. Because Muslims are taking over White countries faster than the nuclear warhead stockpiles become unuseable, they're having to put White society on life support for a while by getting Whites to defend their countries from Islam.

I also don't think they took into consideration what would happen if they brainwashed Whites with Soviet propaganda to this degree, making Whites and non-White neo-Soviets a unified enemy against them. This neo-Sovietism we call Globalism today is now threatening the continued existence of Israel as an ethnostate, putting Jews in the same situation as Whites. So now the Israelis have to try to undue the brainwashing they caused, to a degree.

You're already on a bunch of watch lists for being on voat, 4chan, infinity chan, etc. and you're gonna be molested by some groid whether you like it or not traveling by air. Welcome to the future that we earned by not fighting back when we had the chance. Good news though, it's only too late if we're all dead or we're unwilling to take action while we're alive. So nut up faggot and do something today!

Also top kek with that video, it's an instant classic.

I've never been molested by a TSA agent.

I really believe I'm on a white list. Who knows if that's been rescinded though. I think the USA has a sort of, "the enemy of my enemy is my friend" policy. I just have to rack up some more wins for the USA and I'll be in their good graces again in no time, assuming I'm not. They don't tell you these things you know.

Identifying foreign soft power organizations and agents is my gift and passion. I have a rather complex way of identifying them that is not easy for other people to master because it requires genuine interest that a pay check doesn't grant. In the absence of any real evidence, I can map out networks. Eventually I see something that confirms my speculation and then blast it all over the internet, changing public opinion about those entities while also pointing government in the right direction.

The first step of this process is becoming deeply immersed in the foreign operation's rhetoric and discussions. I can't help but look like a baddy at that step. Not that I'm saying the culture of Voat is a foreign operation, but there are foreign nation's influence campaigns at work here without a doubt.

In a perfect world, the USA wouldn't be influenced by foreign operations at all. But the human brain is simple and glitchy and we also have a need for information about foreign affairs, necessitating internet communication and foreign news services.

I have no idea, You could maybe try Tor

I don't know if the VPNs share their data with the listmakers but I wouldn't count on it either way.

I don't have any illusions that any VPN or onion actually protects your identity.

The only real way to protect your identity is to use a burner laptop at a hotspot in the absence of your other devices like your cell phone, and away from your car if you have a newer model. Why the car, because the GPS in your dash board correlated with a few times you use the burner laptop will connect your internet usage with your car. And cell phones for a similar reason, but also because they can communicate with your computer using inaudible sound even if they're wrapped in tin foil to prevent GPS, wifi, and bluetooth connections. You'll also want to avoid security cameras or wear a hat and glasses, cover your ears.

That's probably an artifact of the video compression.

See, digital media isn't like film, it uses equations to build and image and often shifts or transforms existing images built to conserve memory, except for AVI and maybe some others. But that's why no one uses AVI anymore online, it uses way more memory than it needs. If you ever open up an AVI file in an image program, ou see all the different complete slides as a long strip image, sort of like a .gif

The more you move the camera, or the images it captures changes, the less visible individual things become for the resolution you've selected. But if you hold the camera still, everything becomes crystal clear.

Since he was moving pretty fast, you can't see very well what's going on.

I wonder if they'll televise the trial? It would get huge ratings.

True, it would. They won't though, on the basis that it will interfere with the jury verdict, which doesn't really make sense anyways. They may air it afterwards, or perhaps keep the jury isolated during the trial.

Why should a jury only have access to information presented in the court? Why shouldn't they weigh the public response to the act?

I just looked at the video, and my copy isn't the best, but it looked like he was wearing sneakers, the old fashioned kind like Chuck Connors (or whatever the name was) with white soles and blue canvas tops. The soles were smeared with blood as he tried to crawl away.

After shooter reloads at car and comes back in, you can get a good look and it is def sneaker with white soles smeared with blood and the white toe cap thing, and blue canvas uppers. @10:37

Honestly it looks legit to me.

So what you're saying is, the shooter left the building, and the "dead man" quickly removed his shoes and threw them somewhere before the shooter returned, and then laid back down in the exact same position (in his pooling blood from the several bullet wounds he has) just to fuck with us?

No, I don't think so. Skepticism and suspicion about this kind of event is good. But sometimes, things happen exactly the way they happen.

Instead of fixating on silly shit like this, we should be more interested in his trip to Pakistan 6 months prior to the shooting, where he had a great time and says "The Pakistanis are wonderful people". Did you know that the muslim sect that was hosting Tarrant in Pakistan IS A RIVAL SECT TO THE MOSQUE THAT TARRANT ATTACKED FIRST? Now that is conspiracy fuel.

One might speculate that he went to Pakistan to train to destroy the enemies of his Paki friends.

Also, the Mossad spy ring that was uncovered a few years back in Christchurch adds more fuel to the conspiracy fire. Look up "earthquake in NZ unearths Mossad spy ring". Earthquake caused a car accident, and the driver was an Israeli who had like 6 passports for himself on him, all with different names. He and his 4 spy buddies were sent back to Israel.

It is believed that these spies were trying to infiltrate NZ intelligence software for some nefarious reason or another. Now, Tarrant is no Mossad trained killer, but all these strange coincidences really make you think...

From what I understand, he didn't have a problem with non-Whites living in their own countries.

The Mossad thing is something we should be concerned about, because this attack follows the Brevik model. Country does something to piss off Israel, Israel threatens them, activates terrorist cell in their country.

OK, that's a fair theory. I'll add it to the list.

But, what about other possibilities? So, let's say this isn't a conspiracy. Let's say the shooting is real. So, the shooter goes in. Ruins everyone's day. Goes out to the car to get more ammo. But while he is doing this, the leprechauns teleport in and change this dude's socks and then teleport out before the shooter comes back?

How do we tell the difference between your theory and the leprechaun theory? I'm not saying your claim isn't valid. I'm just trying to work out all the possibilities here.

That's another advantage to placing inconsistencies in a staged event. If they lose control of the narrative and it causes the wrong effect, they can kill the story with unrestrained speculation by pointing out the inconsistencies so that everything based on the event, like policies, can be easily overturned.

OK, so let me get this straight. You are proposing that, for no reason at all. The director of this movie was like, "OK, guy laying there acting dead. You are doing great! It's time to swap you out with someone else for no reason at all."

No.

It's standard protocol in staged attacks to add little inconsistencies as psychological warfare against the intelligensia. So when the smart people notice these inconsistencies, they are demoralized by becoming aware of how gullible the people surrounding them are. They give up trying to inform people as a result of being exposed to so many inconsistencies accepted by the public.

Not only did they create a PR nightmare for their country, they just made the shit list of unstable and disreputable countries overnight. This IS going to affect their ability to trade and their GDP. I mean, look at Malaysia when they tried to do the same kind of thing, it hurt their economy before the Najib Razak fund scandal even broke.

And I know NZ has had problems with the Israelis before and my heart goes out to them, but this is exactly the kind of thing Israel will benefit from. NZ needs to get their head on straight, the Israelis put Muslims in their country to destabilize it, but the politicians in NZ are acting like it was their own idea to go Globalist.

NZ needs to do some serious investigations to see if these "bad decisions" aren't actually deliberate sabotage by someone working for Israel.

Let's be entirely honest, this video and manifesto are being banned to stifle political opposition to globalist politicians.

You guys know under US law this is illegal right?

Reddit is breaking the law.

Reddit is a common carrier and they're intercepting and censoring communication with discrimination without having recieved an order from US law enforcement. They do not have the right to refuse service on the basis of political anything.

Not only that, because they're a communications carrier, they're violating US law regarding communication interception in addition to refusing service.

I believe it was real, but I'm not entirely sure about the shooters motivations since he did neglect to mention the Jews.

There could be reasons for this, to prevent people where anti-semitism is illegal from committing a crime by spreading it. Mass distribution definitely was one of his priorities and the manifesto itself advocates deporting ALL non-Whites from non-White countries, which would include Jews anyway.

See, this is a violation of the human right of free speech.

Facebook is a common carrier, they are required by US court rulings to treat all content indiscriminantly.

They are intercepting and blocking messages as a communications common carrier, which is illegal under US law. They do not have the right to censor people and it doesn't matter in the slightest that they're a private company because they're a common carrier.

The thing is. You can't predict or detect these sorts of things before hand unless the person planning it is an idiot.

Everyone knows the internet is monitored by governments, corporations, and NGOs, illegally in many cases. So while they're hunting down people that posted a photo of a dog making a Nazi salute, they don't do ground work or implement safety precautions.

This is mismanangement of government resources. But they know that, because the purpose of mass spying on the internet isn't to catch terrorists or criminals, it's to catch political opposition to totalitarian states before they can effectively oppose the ruling party.

When I did my traveling to different parts of the world and observing different segments of society, it's something that really stood out to me.

At the time I wasn't redpilled, except on Israeli human rights abuses of Palestinians, which I opposed strongly.

I was young, attractive, White, affluent, so I easily made my way into corporate parties, seminars, etc.. I would say about 1/3rd of them tried to tell me about the Globalists, not in small part because in order to succeed they had to constantly fend off lawsuits, slander, and infiltration into their companies.

I also did a lot of work in what I would call slums. I rented apartments in high crime areas full of drug dealers and prostitutes and heard a lot of people's personal stories.

My initial interpretation was that Whites were privileged and wealthy Whites were just expressing some sort of superiority trip. But a decade later it occurred to me that they might have succeeded because they were aware of the sabotage perpetuated against Whites on every level of society. Or perhaps they only became aware of it when they became successful and noticed a pattern in the attacks on their companies and persons.

I was thinking recently. Why don't these people band together and actually do something about it? These people are leaders in their fields, while the Jewish companies seem to just steal their designs or rely on patents and financial scammy to make a profit. The Western world seems to only have the GDP that it does because Whites are involved. But then they allow other groups in that immediately start trying to sabotage them.

"Threats should be taken very seriously," said Canterbury University criminologist Greg Newbold, who has spent time in prison himself earlier in his life.

"I would take that very seriously and I would say he would be in extreme danger.

"There will be people in prison who will be pretty angry about it, particularly the fact that he's a white supremacist."

He said the majority of the prison population was non-white and the accused would not be able to find any white supremacists to band together with, because they were outnumbered in prison and tended to "keep their heads pretty bloody low".

Edit: We have to kill her career now with memetic warfare and our investment connections. CONFIRMED NEO-SOVIET

Ardern has also spent time in London as a senior policy advisor and ahead of her entry into Parliament was elected President of the International Union of Socialist Youth.

<https://archive.fo/RVSRU>

But maybe we're looking at her arrogance to make sweeping legal changes to New Zealand without public support the wrong way.

Maybe Jacinda Ardern is not just a Totalitarian taking a discrete event as an opportunity to seize permanent power from an unresponsive public.

Maybe she doesn't actually have a severe case of White blindness where she can't see or comprehend that Whites have their own interests that don't include being ethnically replaced with genocidal immigration policies and safe havens for terrorists to recruit. New Zealanders were shocked to find their tiny little country is already nearly 5% Muslim.

Should we be lobbying countries to intercede in this power grab against the public's wishes?

NZ didn't have the ability to prevent New Zealanders from watching the video and reading the manifesto. It happened too fast, and they still can't prevent people from viewing it even now.

Government immediately, or as fast as they could, censored the content and drafted citizen disarming policies. Exactly as the manifesto said they would, giving it more legitimacy.

Government employees submitted to Sharia law while trying to virtue signal. Prime minister wore a hijab, showing disrespect to the majority of her citizens in favor of catering to the non-White immigrant population.

The public was unaware that non-White Muslims already make up 4.6% of the New Zealand population. Prime minister's virtue signalling draws attention to that.

Investment journals are already blowing the whistle on New Zealand's economy over the censorship. Investment will pull out. Billionaires building bunkers there will reconsider whether or not New Zealand is safe place going forward since it is fostering the growth of ISIS cells.

China, Japan, Korea, and most of South East Asia that has been battling ISIS and Al Qaeda terrorists for decades with tremendous casualties, will now see New Zealand as a threat and part of the Globalist ring of bases containing Chinese expansion. Proximity to Asia will mark New Zealand as a refueling and potential operations HQ base for Globalist military operations in the South China Sea. Japan fearing genocide by Globalist immigration may put aside differences and ally with China. Asia sees ISIS and Al Qaeda for what they are, Globalist puppet terrorist squads following Duterte's experience with rejecting Rothschilds, human and drug trafficking operations, and then being retaliated against by ISIS terrorists. All together placing New Zealand as a high priority target in a world war. Asian countries will probably use economic influence in the region to hurt New Zealand's economy. Globalist bankers will try to counter this by flooding New Zealand with easy money and investment, but in the absence of resources, the gradual loss of Globalist sweat shops to China, and the gold backed Yuan, New Zealand's economy will fall into ruin and face even more rapid inflation than it already has, leading to further civil unrest by both White and non-White inhabitants.

Absolute political illiteracy by the New Zealand government contributing to instability. They believe the shooter's ideology only appeals to Whites, not realizing they are in the vicinity of many countries with the same ideology due to Islamic terrorism and unwanted immigration in SE Asia. China is a Nationalist, sees Globalism as an existential threat, happy to return to the walled garden form of governance if Globalism is defeated, would support White Nationalist, Cambodian Nationalist, Thai Nationalist, etc. etc. governments because it's in their best interest.

Jacinda Ardern, you are destroying your country. I hope the Jew bucks are worth it to you. Supposing there's even 1 genuine bone in your body, money is not what's important to the New Zealand economy, resources and stability are, and whatever factors contribute to that.

The Globalists aren't your friends or the friends of your country. They use populations as human shields against populations that reject their exploitation and disenfranchisement while fleeing the violence and poverty they create. Their credo is contradictory to democracy, because racism is immutable and biologically hard wired as a mechanism of ensuring reproduction of a similar pheno/genotype. These various groups in the world will be at odds whenever resources dwindle. By forcing them together into a single society and having them vote you are depriving all ethnic groups involved of self determination and control over their own government. The trigger of race wars isn't rhetoric, it's a lack of resources. The manifestation of overt racism has nothing to do with the internet, it has to do with poverty and overcrowding which Globalism induces to extract wealth and lower the cost of labor. Even in a homogenous White society, the effect of Globalism on resources will cause the population to fracture and go into civil war to reduce the population.

Globalism isn't a group of intellectual planners capable of maintaining the world. They're cronies motivated by a sense of self preservation and profit by looting. Their history is that of preying on human weakness to subvert nations, which they loot and then flee when it falls into chaos. They then return when the country has recovered to repeat the process. They aren't master planners. They frequently mess up their own operations. They periodically fight with each other, hiring mercenaries or using governments to eliminate other globalist families. They're the lowest of the lowest, barely more sophisticated than feudal warlords. Their only fundamental difference from feudal warlords is the liquidity of their assets allowing them to take their mad sprees from country to country. Even the best outcome for Globalists will result in the Globalists families executing each other to free up resources for the others to acquire. That's how dumb these "people" are. They don't comprehend that democracy and social contract was created to protect them from either being beheaded either by the people or by rival feudalists.

New Zealand's future would be best if it joined a coalition of Nationalist countries. World Peace is only possible through the freezing of borders and the protection of distinct ethnic, cultural, and language groups with self determination. And it is a moral imperative to advance this. Nationalism is the only defense against Globalist pilfering because it places hinderances to foreign groups looting the country and contains offenders to face judgement by the people of the country they raped.

You're not dealing with Whites getting upset. You're dealing with the entire world, every ethnicity, every culture, saying "NO MORE GLOBALIST EXPLOITATION" because it's in our best interest. And while you hold down on your own population for exploitation by roving globalist lords, you can't stop China. You can't stop Russia. You can't stop the hundreds of Nationalist counties from forming a coalition. While the Globalists try to create containment using military force around countries with the resources to confront them, the new coalition forming right now will become a superior containment for Globalists. Populations will flee Globalist countries for nationalist ones leaving Globalists without the resources, inventors, or labor needed to sustain their empire. You won't be facing individuals, you'll be facing down the armies of almost the entire world in a unified front. Pakistanis, Chinese, Thais, Brazilians, Russians, Japanese, Blacks, and Whites will join together to hunt down globalists and their helpers to the end of the Earth and then return to their homelands for a border freeze. It's the only way to ensure peace while preserving our world's distinct ethnicities, cultures, and languages.

I bet you don't even realize the likelihood of Israel having set you up for regime change because NZ represented a threat to Israeli dominated Globalism and Nationalism simultaneously. Or, that by making policies to suppress other political positions that your government is Totalitarian.

Summary: New Zealand governmental incompetence and, let's face it, corruption will subject New Zealand to further rapid inflation, an economic embargo by the most important economies in proximity, increased civil unrest, race wars as the Muslim population increases, a pull out of billionaire immigration, disdain from the entire world's population for censorship and disarming their public in the face of foreign threat (ISIS), and being a high priority target for Asian countries in the event of a world war.

They're good, but these guys aren't top tier skills.

Their responses are designed to frustrate and waste people's time, not actually make compelling arguments. Basically they're using Jew speak.

Their statements are vague, making it time consuming to argue with them.

They lace their statements with insults to try to bait you into wasting time on them.

I suspect they are part of a team, because they are clearly trained and producing volumes of CNN spam. Meaning they probably have someone checking their work. That's why changing our posts after the thread has fallen from the front page to make it look like they were supporting something anti-Globalist will be effective. In order to counter this, they will have to type more complicated and non-vague statements, making them easier to refute and consuming more of their time. We are playing a resources game, the more resources (time) we can make them waste, the less energy they will have to shell out. And at the same time, we will be able to promote and refine our own arguments. They came here to flood Voat with spam and Soviet trolling, but they will be trolled and redpilled instead.

Praise KEK! He has delivered unto us a worthy foe!

Bonus points if you redpill them so hard and they have a breakdown and need to re-evaluate their life.

I recommend this video. You can call it a memorial to the victims, confronting hate with love, or whatever to get them to watch more than the intro. The important thing is to get them to click on it so they think they're on a FBI watchlist now kek.

@puttitout, if they are organized and have a person reviewing their posts, you can expect to see them going through their own posts (most of them are anonymous posts so they'll have to use the account to view) and clicking on "context" to see the post in context at some point to determine if they get paid. You can, if you feel it's worth the time, keep track of these managed skill groups this way. Wait, do anonymous posts show up in your comment and submission page? Nevermind if not.

Edit: 95% sure they're government backed and have access to databases other skills wouldn't. They aren't commercial or NGO. Isn't this exciting?! Now lets see if we can figure out which government. We have honored spooks in Voat today.

I feel like it would be satirically and comically fun to make lots of videos, choreographed with music.

When you look at political discussions objectively in the Western world, the impacts of different policies and situations are rarely presented to the public, and as a result the public votes without an educated opinion on the matter. Think about the Vietnam war and how much images of casualties changed public opinion. I think this is necessary to have a healthy, sane, democracy and I think the internet can have fun bringing awareness to these issues that really do claim lives IRL.

But there are just so few videos of White terrorists, I've got nothing to work with.

Normally I don't care for choreographing footage too much, but this video really inspired me as to its potential:

I know it's really silly to not want to be on a watchlist, but I really enjoy taking flights and not getting molested at airports.

If I wasn't so afraid of getting shot up by Muslims, I would travel the Middle East collecting footage myself. Or more specifically, the bad Muslims Shia Wahhabists, AKA the people Trump goes dancing with in Saudi Arabia. Sunnis I don't think do this sort of thing and instead are the victims of it.

So, this position gives me a little bit more access.

People in the governments will be closely watching what I post from now on. Watching my life. Seeing what porn I watch in the hopes I'll click on a wrong link and give them something to blackmail me with. Analyzing what I say and implications of it, good luck with that.

I never really understood how governments tend to interact with influential people. They watch and watch and watch, try to intercept when it's something they don't like. It seems like a waste. Why not make them government consultants? A person that can navigate and lead internet culture surely has some value in offering insight into popular opinion. No, maybe they should be seen as a conduit for public opinion to advise policies that the public, or at least their niche demographic, would endorse or reject before going through the trouble of trying to get them implemented.

Foreign governments can fuck themselves. Don't even bother asking me.

And don't bother trying to trick me into bragging about the past to get a million dollar/y tax free job, since that's obviously an attempt to get blackmail material. Ask me about the future. Ask me how my country can be benefitted. Ask me what I see as threats to the USA. Ask me about my thoughts on morality. Give me time to write an articulate response.

Also, if you try to recruit me, you're going to have to have some pretty convincing evidence you actually work for my government. I want to meet politicians, talk to intelligence directors in intelligence HQ, etc., and I want to know our government's real intentions with regard to policy, which I will check against the government's actions and analyze other possible trajectories of the actions to evaluate risk. Tell me something true about the USA's situation that I don't already know. If it's not in the best interest of my country, you might as well just start screwing with my life to make me paranoid or drone strike me now. Convince me your master plan is actually good for my country and the invisible hand of public opinion will favor you.

NZ Mosque Shooting Is Too Convenient. Anders Breivik's Attack, 22 July 2011, On Anti-Israel Norway Politicians and Their Families Following A Declaration of Intent To Recognize Palestine. (politics2)

Israel warned New Zealand that UN resolution was 'declaration of war': report

The other sponsors of the resolution against settlements were Malaysia, Senegal and Venezuela. Coincidence!

Lorde shows why Israel should indeed fear New Zealand

Norway FM: We Will Recognize Palestinian State

<https://archive.fo/Y7aF9>

So, we all know Breivik was an Israel supporter, had contacts with Israelis, etc.

The recent NZ shooter also did, he stated in his manifesto that he was okay with Jews living in Israel. His manifesto is suspiciously lacking any negative mention of Jews, despite definitely knowing that they were responsible for the immigration he chose to fight against.

He spent time in Israel before his attack as well.

Mossad were clearly doing operations in New Zealand, I doubt with government or citizen approval.

Israel had more or less stated they were at war with New Zealand.

Was this a retaliatory attack against New Zealand?

Should we be supporting the current NZ government and help them collect information on Israeli operations in their country, even linking the mosque shooter to Israel further?

Should New Zealand come out and name the Jew?

Doesn't New Zealand know that ISIS commanders are all Israelis? Why oppose Mossad operating in NZ, but then let Mossad by another name recruit in their country? Are they stupid or something?

Just So You Guys Know. Tor Browser and Tails OS Is Currently Compromised By Five Eyes. Not Trying To Discourage You, Just Saying. (politics)

From what I've heard, the traffic is being rerouted from guardian nodes, the Onion Circuits program isn't showing you the real info about the tor circuit the browser is using. However, it's a very sloppy job since it was so easily detected by users. Whoever put together this exploit needs to be dropped out of a helicopter. Sloppy.

You're FIRED!

But we already knew this didn't we?

They already know who we all are, but doesn't that just make you throw caution to the wind and start dropping redpills about the Globalists everywhere?

The question is now, are these operations serving the countries that are funding them, or sabotaging democracy by violating citizen rights and interfering with political organization? 5 Eyes is about to get a lot of scrutiny by Constitutionalists. Countries will be dropping out of it. Not that I'm involved, it's just the direction we're heading in.

And I'm just going to throw this out there, but maybe there is an intelligence agency watching 5 Eyes itself. Who knows these things? But I've never known people who design these kinds of things to not add in redundancy.

Maybe that's why Germany is banning the Tor Onion thing? Or maybe they have other reasons.

Maybe 5 Eyes is actually working against Globalism now?
